The moral obligations of good citizenship is the most important lesson of education. When young people show active interest in this it is a good indication of the success of our educational system, and that the future of our country is in good hands.

Wilfred J. Bailey, is one of these public spirited young men who have taken an active interest in public affairs.

Wilf has been on the town council for the past two years, holding the position as Chairman of Health and Welfare, he is also President of Temiskaming Tuberculosis Association, director of the Children's Aid Association in Temiskaming, President of the Temiskaming Progressive Conservative Association and is Past President of the Haileybury Rotary Club. In the recent election he was campaign manager for A. R. Herbert, M.L.A.

Wilf was born in Earlton in 1925, but soon moved to New Liskeard where he attended Public and High Schools. After graduating from school he went to work at the Wabi Iron Works in New Liskeard. He enlisted in the army and went overseas in 1944.

After the war Wilf returned to New Liskeard, he married Miss Dorothy Austin a Haileybury girl and shortly after, in 1951, moved to Haileybury to work as an underwriter for the Great West Life Insurance Company. He is now a family man with two children a boy and a girl.

Wilf covers a great deal of territory in his job, as his selling takes in from Virginiatown to Temagami. He states that people are easy to deal with and that he enjoys mingling with them in the course of his job.

As a Haileyburian he notes "Haileybury has all the potentials for an industrial town. In a recent report there were 12 essential points for a town to check its potential by, such as, schools, police protection, water works, and reserve labour pool. I checked every one of them relevant to Haileybury," he said, and if this result is any indication of the potential of Haileybury, we are in for a bright future."

"Of course the existing industries must be assisted," he continued, "so that they will stay, and we must sell ourselves to potential industries, but it is an undertaking that a willing and well organized body of citizens could tackle with excellent results."

Wilf received word from the Tuberculosis Society Headquarters that he is in for some work this season organizing the district society for a big seven week X-Ray survey in the fall which is designed to blanket the area, making the most thorough check to date. There is a great deal of organizing involved in this kind of a project and as president of the society, Wilf is in for a busy time.

His hobby is taking home-movies, he has taken movies in all parts of Canada and the United States, and has such illustrious people on his footage as President Eisenhower, John Foster Dulles, Queen Elizabeth and John Diefenbaker.

Long Term Mortgages Replace Farm Loans

The government plans to scrap the existing Canadian farm loan board established 30 years ago and replace it with a new type of long-term farm mortgage credit under Agriculture Minister Harkness. Present board is under the jurisdiction of Finance Minister Fleming.

Mr. Harkness, Monday, gave Parliament customary notice of legislation to establish the new credit system, incorporating provisions of the present Farm Loan Act but adding "a new type of supervised farm mortgage credit." He said the present act would be repealed.

He gave no further details but from other sources it was understood the new legislation would provide farmers with bigger individual loans.

Under the present act, a farmer can get a maximum loan of $15,000 for a 30-year period at five per cent interest, based on 65 percent of the appraised value of his land and building. One source said the individual loan may be boosted to $20,000 or more.

VETERAN CREDIT

The Veterans Affairs department has maintained a "supervised" form of credit for veteran farmers for years. Under it, farmers got detailed assistance from skilled federal field supervisors.

Now the work of these technicians may be nearing an end in the veterans affairs department and they likely will be shifted to the agriculture department under the new legislation.

At present, the Canadian farm loan board makes loans taking only the value of the land and structures into consideration. With the use of field supervisors, the new organization likely will take a close look at the farmer himself and judge his farm ability and possibilities before deciding on making the loan.
