PHILADELPHIA (AP) - The Pennsylvania Superior Court upheld a divorce granted to a man who said his wife accused him of running around with other women on his nickel-a-day allowance.

Kenneth Pore, a 32 year-old crane operator from Fairhope, Pa., testified at his divorce hearing that his 29-year-old wife, Dolores, gave him 25 cents a day.

Pore said he used 20 cents for transportation to and from work. He claimed his wife falsely accused him of spending the remaining five cents to "run around with my wife out of them," the evangeother women."

PANAMA (AP) - Panamanians are such ardent gamblers that even instalment plan buying is pegged to the government's weekly lottery.

You want to buy a $100 radio on time. You sign up to pay $10 a week for 18 weeks. That amounts to considerably more than the original $100 price. But the lottery gimmick brings in customers by the droves.

REGINA (CP)—Residents here have been told not to worry if they see one-legged robins bobbin' about the back garden.

Fourteen of the one-legged birds have been released by the Western Humane Society this year after having a leg amputated.

Society inspector Jack Studholme, says robins have a habit of picking up bits of string for their nests.

Some birds become entangled and occasionally break a leg.

Mr. Studholme says only three of the operations this year have failed.

TALARA, Peru (AP) - If you have trouble getting out of a sand trap, pity the poor duffers who play the Talara Golf Club.

It is all sand — 5,823 yards of the stuff.

The tees, fairways, roughs and greens are sand.

Actually it is a nine-hole course made into 18 holes by having two tees for each hole. It was built for its employees by an oil company that has hundreds of workers.

Club rules permit a golfer to improve his lie by smoothing out the ground and moving the ball not over six inches. Even on the greens it is permissible to smooth out the sand and move the ball not over six inches to get away from the track left by another ball.

One nice thing about it. Everybody can afford a caddy. They get 20 cents for nine holes or 40 cents for 18 holes. Nobody ever asks for advice on what club to use. The caddies hear the constant refrain: "Give me the wedge boy."

GLEICHEN, Alta., (CP)-How many Blackfeet make up a Blackfoot Indian tribe?

Several persons who have studied the question of which is the correct name for the tribe in southern Alberta have failed to reach a conclusive answer.

The problem arose wnen some persons disputed the spelling used on plaques for historic sites.

The provincial government reported both usages are accepted but that the weight of popular support is on the side of "Blackfeet." The department which erects the plaques reported a list of references showed 20 authorities for "Blackfeet" and seven for "Blackfoot", and many gave both.

WADENA, Sask., (CP) - Mrs. Alex Tait's canary, blind in one eye and not as chipper as he used to be, celebrated his 21st birthday recently.

Dickie, the long-lived bird, is not very active but his age isn't betrayed by his feathers. They have become even more colorful in the last few years. Dickie still gives a morning chirp when he wants to eat but he stays away from the high notes of his youth. He and Mrs. Tait are old friends and he "talks back"

KANSAS CITY (AP) - A distant relative of the old Dalton gang of frontier days celebrated his 73rd of a potluck supper. birthday recently.

Roy Dalton is a sheriff's deputy but doesn't try to hide his relationship to the outlaw family.

"I'm not particularly proud of it," he says. "But then maybe they wouldn't think much of my being on the side of the law."

LONDON (AP) - Evangelist Billy Graham complained Monday that London's parks look more like bedrooms than places where you feed the ducks.

"I was so embarrassed I took list told a press conference.

Graham related how he and his wife encountered dozens of smoothing couples "lying around" during their evening stroll through several city parks.

"I could hardly believe my eyes," he said. "Once upon a time, WARWICK, R.I. (AP) - For birds and feed the ducks.

The emotions of being a father...

The world is a scene of many changes. Every day fresh knowledge extends our horizons. New inventions create fresh wonders. New discoveries shape new opinions.

But some things are little affected by external changes. The emotions of being a father, for example, stay constant through the ages.

The hopes and fears . . . the wishes and apprehensions. The humbling realization that no other task in all the world carries with it so grave a responsibility, so rewarding a victory as that of being a father.

For where else does a boy look ...

... for light which will lead to sure places for young feet to stand?

... for guidance through the great continent of the mind?

... for strength of will and love of goodness?

... for those words and teachings that will open wisdom's way?

... for a held-out hand, a haven in every sudden storm?

Where else but to a father, who knows that every son is a miracle, like daily light.

The emotions of being a father never change. They flow from well-springs deep within us, as old and changeless as instinct itself. More than anything else Fatherhood is guidance and wisdom the wisdom of setting a good example in thought, in word, in deed. And one principle that surely deserves to be exemplified is the practice of Moderation in all things. It is this thought which The House of Seagram wishes to leave with you on this Father's Day, 1959. May it enrich your life with happiness, and your son's thereafter.
