Bear Hunt

Persons who feared the fate of Northern Ontario's bear population will find some consolation when they read the count of the number who have been laid low under the direction of Demon Woodsman Daniel Del Villano. Only six have so far reached Montreal for shipment to the U.K. where they are to be transformed into hats for the Royal Guard.

Mayor Del Villano of Timmins personally escorted the hides to Montreal where he went last week to attend a conference of municipal finance officers.

Lt.-Col. Carmichael, of the British Ministry of supply is now formally in charge of the bear skins. Mayor Del Villano added that he has been requested to keep the location of the skins in Montreal "Top Secret." He also noted that he had received formal denouncements of his hunt in five different languages from four different countries.
