

Jeuness Musicale Presents Concerts

Jeunesses Musicales of Canada is again presenting a series of four concerts this year.

The first will be held on Tuesday, October 27th at St. Mary's Academy Auditorium in Haileybury. We are privileged to have with us for the first concert a young Canadian pianist, Michel Dussault, age sixteen, who by his talent and personality is considered as a virtuoso.

Season tickets are now on sale and are divided in three categories: Primary school $1.50; Secondary School $3.00 and adults $6.00 for the season (four concerts) Transportation by bus is also provided for distant members. For arrangements please contact Therese Cote, MI 7-5287 in New Liskeard or Claude St. Cyr, 3304 in Cobalt. Persons who desire to purchase tickets may do so by contacting members of the executive in Cobalt, Haileybury and New Liskeard.

J.M.C., with Haileybury as its centre, is directed by an executive body consisting of fifteen members:

Mgr. J. Landriault, Advisor and Chaplain, Antoinette Larocque, president, Haileybury; Claude St-Cyr, vice-president, North Cobalt; Annette Murphy, secretary, New Liskeard; Therese Cote, treasurer, New Liskeard; Andre Parent, member, Haileybury; Lucille Parent, member, Haileybury; Yvette Proulx, member, Haileybury; Cecile Larocque, member, Haileybury; Jeannine Morris, member, Haileybury; Raymond Gosselin, member, Haileybury; Roger Grignon, member, Haileybury; Roland McMahan, member, Haileybury; Gerald Mino, member, Cobalt; Nina Thilbeault, member, New Liskeard.

J.M.C. was founded with the desire to promote classical music in the lives of everyone but emphasized it more for the youths. By attending these concerts a boy or girl may develop a liking for music and if tutored properly could easily become one of our future artists.

J.M.C. now in its tenth year has members across Canada and is a World wide organization. This is why it is able to bring the most brilliant artists of our generation to music lovers in the district.

The name of the Mississippi River in Ontario comes from two Indian word — "missi" meaning great, and sipi" meaning river.

PINK...

"I was in a BP Service Station the other day for an oil change," said 'Mr. Beep'. "The pleasant attendant filled my crank-case with BP Visco-Static, the red-coloured motor oil." "I asked him why the red colour, and his answer made sense. 'Visco-Static' is the finest multi-grade motor oil. It lubricates perfectly in any weather — hot or cold. BP adds a red dye to Visco-Static so that you can identify it and know you're getting the best. The Boss tells us that Visco-Static is good not because it's red — it's red because it's good." "Now, just take another look at that big picture. I've made it big so that you, too, will remember Visco-Static and ask for it the next time you visit a BP Service Station."
