Editor Appreciated

Sometimes editors are appreciated. Recently a Manitoba editor was presented with a handsome bouquet of flowers by his fellow citizens.

Incidentally, it might be mentioned that the editor was dead. — Lillooet - Bridge River (B.C.) News

Twelve Rules for Raising Children

(Fort Erie Times-Review) Someone has said that there are no delinquent children, only delinquent parents. That may be too much of a generalization but when a youngster heads for trouble the start has usually been made inside, not outside, the home.

- 1. Begin with infancy to give the child everything he wants. In this way he will grow up to believe the world owes him a living. 2. When he picks up bad words laugh at him. This will make him think he's cute. It will encourage him to pick up "cuter" phrases that will blow off your head later.

VICTORIA. (CP) — Willie Smith pulled away from a parking meter in downtown Victoria, glanced in his rear view mirror and saw a car following close behind with its lights out.

He stepped on the accelerator, but the car stayed with him. He slowed down; so did the other car. Finally, he pulled into a service station to let the other car pass. It kept right on his tail.

When he got out he learned why he was being followed: He had apparently backed into the other car and dragged it from the parking meter to the service station—about one mile. Police called Keith C. Woods to pick up his wandering car.

- 11. When he gets into real trouble, apologize for yourself by saying, "I never could do anything with him." 12. Prepare for a life of grief. You will be likely to have it. This set of rules that parents anywhere might well tuck up for daily reference—somewhere the children can see it, too.

Haileybury Personals

Mr. F. W. Joy of Port Arthur, spent the holiday week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Joy.

Canada's first novelist was Mrs. Frances Brooke, wife of the chaplain to the Quebec garrison from 1760 to 1768. Her four-volume novel on life in Quebec was published about 30 years before the first American novel.

I See by THE PAPERS

MONTREAL — Here's a community where your beef may win you a roast.

It was beef night this week in west-end Notre Dame de Grace. Five citizens won succulent portions of beef for their beefs about community affairs.

A panel of three judges chose from a dozen complaints that ran from "that smell, an intermittent thing" in the western sector, to a complaint about road conditions.

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) — T.E. McClaskey was happy when police found his car in Denver, and even happier when he found that since it was stolen August 10, it had acquired:

New white sidewall tires, a repaired generator, new fan belt, returned generator, new clothes rack and a spotless interior.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Dolores Michaels won a divorce from artist Maurice Martine, testifying she expected difficulties in marriage—but not bathing in the ocean the year round.

She said that when she married Martine in 1953 they moved into the "shell" of an expensive Laguna Beach home.

"The only trouble was we had no water and no heat," Miss Michaels testified. "So we were forced to bathe in the ocean. I had colds all the time I was married. And it was a relief to go into the city."

Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle granted an interlocutory degree by default.

Martine is 41, Miss Michaels, 25.

OAKVILLE (CP) — Sam, a dog that looks like a Labrador but is really a mongrel, will be presented with an award of merit October 30 by the Ontario Humane Society.

Sam, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon White, was strolling with Mrs. White last June when he suddenly ran into the middle of the street and forced traffic to a halt.

It was found that Sam had seen a small dachshund, afraid to cross the street, lying terrified on the roadway. He stood guard over the pup to prevent it being hit.

HAMILTON (CP) — John Patterson's load of little piggies didn't get to market, but they didn't stay home either.

The London, Ontario, driver's tractor-trailer carrying 109 pigs collided with another transport vehicle on Highway 5 near Hamilton and caught fire.

Passing motorists helped him carry the squealing porkers to safety. They were sheltered for the night on a near-by farm property.

OTTAWA (CP) — Big Frank Gallaghen's Irish shindig came to a baleful end in police court.

Frank and six other sturdy broths had gathered at his car lot for a bit of hullabaloo, bolstered by one accordion and 106 bottles of beer.

A constable spoiled the fun when, after 91 pints had been killed, he hauled off the accordion player in the paddy wagon and told the others to desist. Instead, to make up for the accordion's loss, the remaining six downed the remaining 15 pints.

That did it. The other six were brought in.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Afternoon naps are out for Dallas firemen.

Until recently, firemen were allowed a daily siesta from noon until 3 p.m., provided there weren't any fires to be fought.

But the Texas legislature passed a law, cutting the maximum work week for firemen in cities the size of Dallas from 67.2 to 60 hours.

Chief C. N. Penn said the fire department will switch to a three-shift system, with firemen on duty 24 hours and off 48 hours — with no naps.

OLATHE, Kan. — Winfield Caudill and Stella Johnson applied for a marriage licence, saying they wanted to get married right away.

It was then that they learned of the Kansas law requiring a three-day waiting period.

The couple took their case to district court, which promptly waived the waiting period and allowed the ceremony to proceed. Winfield and Stella told the judge they wanted "a fast start" on their life together.

He's 84 and she's 74.

QUEBEC (CP) — Philippe Gagnon, Quebec superintendent of provincial parks, said a report early this month that a 70-pound lake trout had been caught in Lake Albanel is "apparently a fish story."

Mr. Gagnon, just returned from an inspection trip in the Mistassini Lake Reserve 280 air miles north of Quebec City said he asked game officials and Cree Indian guides in the area about the reported catch.

"No one has heard of it," Mr. Gagnon said, "and if such a fish had been caught it would have been one of the main subjects of conversation."

Lake Albanel is south of the 100-mile long Mistassini Lake.

Mr. Gagnon said lake trout weighing 40 to 45 pounds were caught this summer in the area but nothing as large as reported from Roberval.

The Lake St. John Hunting and Fishing Association of Roberval had reported it had heard about a 70-pound lake trout being caught.

Record for lake trout is 63 pounds, two ounces, caught in Lake Superior in 1952.
