Stage Tri-Town Blitz Canvas For Children's Aid Society

The Temiskaming Children's Aid Society is launching its annual campaign for funds. This year the target is $2,500 in the Tri-Towns. In New Liskeard, canvassers will call Tuesday, November 3, and in Haileybury and Cobalt on Wednesday, November 4.

Canvassers will work in teams, and in New Liskeard the team captains will take donations to the Natural Gas office, where D. V. Wilson and Mrs. Anne Vosburgh will be in attendance.

In Haileybury, the high school will be the focal point, with Mrs. J. L. Watson and Mr. W. H. Miller in attendance. In Cobalt, N. E. Spencer and Murray McKinnon will head up operations from the Imperial Bank building on the Cobalt Square.

The Children's Aid Society is a private agency, operating under a provincial charter, controlled by a board of local citizens. It employs trained social workers, who are charged with the prevention of the neglect of children, or the alleviation of conditions that lead to neglect.

As far as possible the Children's Aid Society tries to keep the child in his own home by helping parents to overcome conditions which result in the neglect of children.

Where necessary it provides a home for a child that has none, by finding a permanent adoption home for him. It also supplies a temporary home for a child when conditions in its own home are such that he cannot be permitted to remain there until the conditions are improved. The society

Mining Claims

Figures recently released by the Ontario Department of Mines show an increase in the number of mining claims recorded in Ontario during the past nine months, particularly in the Larder Lake, Montreal River and Porcupine areas.

The Temiskaming area showed a decrease of 176 with only 1,076 claims being recorded in the first nine months of the year as compared to 1,252 for the same period last year.

Separate School Fired Police Seek Arsonists

News flash . . . Police arrested two men yesterday, and they are being questioned in connection with the attempted destruction of Ste. Therese Separate School in Cobalt. Investigation of the series of malicious acts were made by Constable Curt LeBarron of the Ontario Provincial Police detail in Cobalt, and Fire Marshall H. Reynardson.

For the last several days residents of Cobalt have been walking with their hands held out in front of them, and giving their wrists a periodic flip to expose backs and fronts. This is not being done to give a Gallic aid to conversation, but as an aid to the police.

Ontario Provincial Police are looking for a person with a badly cut hand, and a few anti-social habits, when they find him he will face a number of serious charges.

Early Monday morning Cobalt Fire Department was called to fight a fire which had broken out in the old Ste. Therese Separate School which has been empty since last Spring.

They found fires blazing in two of the rooms, and the floors partly burned through. The fires were quickly smothered, and an investigation started.

Police say that there was a trail of blood all over the school.

Later in the day reports started coming in to police headquarters of further breaches of the peace, a woman said that she had seen two men break the street light in front of the Post Office, and then hurl a stone at the Liquor Store window which missed. They then moved south along the road.

From there the men apparently walked to O. J. LeBlanc's Service Station where they tried to force a back window. Then they smashed a window in a locked car and tried unsuccessfully to start it by crossing the ignition wires.

From there the men travelled to the north end of town and hurled a big rock through the window of C. E. Cain's Furniture Store. Pools of blood at all points suggested that the same person was present and assisting with all the criminal acts.

Inspector H. Reynardson of the Ontario Fire Marshall's Office was in Cobalt Tuesday to investigate the fires at the school.

J. McAndrew of Cobalt is shown above presenting a purse on behalf of the parishioners of St. Patrick's Church in Cobalt to Reverend Father Thomas Kavanagh who is leaving to become priest at Holy Name, Kirkland Lake.

Curling Opener

The Cobalt-Haileybury Curling Club will be holding their official opening of the 1959-60 season on Saturday, November 14, with a pot-luck supper in the Club house followed by mixed curling for all members and prospective members.

The artificial ice plant will be put into operation on Nov. 2 with Klaas Bosch again on hand to put the ice in readiness for another busy season.

Clayton Dunn is president of the Club for this year with William V. Fleming as vice-president.

A general meeting will be held in the Club rooms on Monday, November 9, to make plans for the current season.

Trade Commissioner Paints Dark Picture

At a noon luncheon held in the Community Memorial Hall last Monday New Liskeard Kiwanis Club learned that Canada is rapidly losing its export market, and that Canadians are placing obstacles in the way of industry that might come to this country.

Richard H. Stapleford, Trade and Industrial Commissioner for Ontario House, London, England, said that European industry refused to come to this country and build unless assured of a market for their products. "They would like to ship their own goods first, and test the market," he said, "but the heavy duty does not encourage this."

"In Europe and Great Britain manufacturers charge the home market top price for their products," he explained, "and ship their surplus to other countries at a much lower price but Canada's dumping duties prevent this."

Mr. Stapleford said also that other manufacturers and agents did much to discourage newcomers.

Another obstacle to Canadian progress and the reason for the loss of important export markets is the high cost of labor, the commissioner said.

Canada could deteriorate into a position when it would be attractive only as a source of raw material unless some definite action is taken," said the Speaker.

Kiwanians also elected their officers at the same meeting. Garnet Mills is the new president for 1960, Arthur Stothart and Glen Gregory, vice presidents, Murray Gamblin, treasurer, Directors; Pat Bolger, George Downey, Don Edwards, L. Hunt, C. Krick, E. Macdonnell, R. McKnight, Dunc Young, Les Smith was again appointed secretary.

Firemen

Basil Treen of Haileybury was elected second vice-president of the Temiskaming Firemen's Association at the convention held in South Porcupine on October 18, 19 and 20.

Roy Davis of Porcupine is the president for the coming year.

Also attending the convention, which was the 44th annual one, were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hughes and William Fleming Sr.

Parishioners Honour Rev. Fr. T. Kavanagh

Friends gathered at the Cobalt community hall Wednesday to bid farewell to Reverend Father Thomas Kavanagh.

For the past 12 years Father Kavanagh has been priest to St. Patrick's parish in Cobalt. He has been appointed by his Excellency Bishop Maxime Tessier of Haileybury to the parish of Holy Name at Kirkland Lake.

R. J. O'Gorman of Cobalt gave an address of appreciation after Father Francis Murray of New Liskeard had proposed a toast to His Holiness the Pope.

Kavanagh had endeared himself to the townspeople as a whole through his compassion, understanding and generosity.

Mr. O'Gorman said that Father

He said that Father Kavanagh has had to contend with good times and bad, but despite this he has kept the church and parsonage in excellent repair.

Father Kavanagh said that it was impossible for him to express his feelings, except that he was extremely sorry to leave Cobalt, where he had spent 12 of his 20 years as a priest.

He recalled that when he was ordained at Temiskaming, Father Murray had assisted when he celebrated his first mass. Father Kavanagh promised that on the first Tuesday of every month he would give his mass for the intentions of the parishioners of St. Patrick's.

Cobalt Lions Host Club for Successful District Rally

COBALT — Over one hundred and fifty delegates and guests attended the Lions International District A6 Fall rally held in Cobalt over the week-end. The Cobalt Lions club who were hosts for this event went all out to see that all visitors enjoyed their stay in the Silver town and the Headquarters hotel, the Fraser House in Cobalt was booked to capacity with many other guests staying in Haileybury and New Liskeard.

Special welcome signs were displayed on posts throughout the main streets of the town and the local merchants co-operated by displaying posters in their windows. The hotel lobby and the Legion and Community halls were also attractively decorated for the occasion.

Registration got under way in the Fraser Hotel at three o'clock Saturday afternoon and continued throughout the two days at the various meeting places. There were 135 official registrations of delegates and their wives.

The rally programme got under way Saturday evening with a big dance held in the Community Hall and despite the bad weather approximately 150 persons were in attendance. Music was supplied by the Country club orchestra. A buffet supper was served after the dance to wind up a very enjoyable evening.

Sunday morning at 9:15, a Lions stag breakfast was held in the Community hall with 65 members attending, and this breakfast was certainly one of the highlights of the two day rally. The Country Club orchestra was on hand and provided music for the sing-song, several novelty numbers and acts. Tail twister Dennis Larabie and his assistants were busy throughout the breakfast with their fine boxes and they pulled off several stunts which kept the crowd in an uproar. The delegate travelling from the farthest distance to the rally was called on to accept a prize and when he opened the box much to his surprise he found a live rooster.

The ladies were not forgotten as wives of the host club members entertained the visitors at a
