Across the Kitchen Table

By MRS. MAC

A few months ago a lady named Mrs. Beeker, (I hope I have her name spelled right), phoned me regarding an item of news and while talking to me she said she would be eighty years old in March and that in the spring, she was going to fly back to Germany, where she was born, for a month. I have been trying to contact her but cannot find her name in the telephone book. So I do hope that if she sees this, she will get in touch with me for I am most anxious to hear how the trip to Germany is coming along.

Mr. R. F. Richardson has been sticking his chest out so far, these last few days, that the buttons on his coat are almost ready to pop off. The reason? Those curling nephews of his, from away out west, have won another championship! So who wouldn't be proud?

"Look at any car on Ontario roads . . . and the chances are you will be looking at a car that is being driven well! Safety organizations constantly direct attention to our bad drivers — the reckless, the selfish, the incompetent, the discourteous, the careless drivers. Perhaps we should take time, more often, to compliment and thank the overwhelming (and increasing) majority of car operators who drive with skill, care, and due regard for the privileges and feelings of other road users — in other words, for the great bulk of our driving neighbours who practice good citizenship on the highways."

This was one of the remarks of Mr. J. P. Anderson, President of Dunlop Canada Limited, at the recent annual general meeting of the Ontario Safety League, of which he is the new President.

And isn't it true? When something mean, or nasty, or cruel, or unlawful, happens, every newspaper within range headlines it, the radio announcers blare it and the television shows it up with all its unpleasantness. A group of teenagers get out of hand and that too, is spread from coast to coast. But how many people are helped in every day life, how many kindly deeds are done, how many groups of teenagers, from one end of Canada to the other, are working and playing together in harmony, helping themselves and others, with never a headline, never a radio pat-on-the-back, nor a mention in television news? Personally, I am getting thoroughly fed up with the blanket classification of "teenagers". Granted, there are many in that age group who are blatant, impertinent, smart-alecky and loud, with no respect for the rights or property of others, and whose chief aim in life seems to be that of making absolute nuisances of themselves, but aren't there the same kind in every age group? And then there are others, and in my experience, they are in the majority, who are thoroughly dependable, likeable, fun-loving and ready and willing

Appoints Delegates

Members of the Federation of Femmes Canadiennes Francais held their March meeting in the Holy Cross Parish Hall and were welcomed by the president, Mrs. L. Simard. Mrs. D. Veale reported for the charitable committee and Mrs. C. Forget for the sick committee. Correspondence was read and other business matters dealt with.

An invitation has been sent to Mrs. R. A. S. Boulton of Ottawa, National president, asking her to attend the April meeting.

The president, Mrs. L. Simard, and the secretary, Mrs. L. Charette, were appointed as delegates to attend the convention in Ottawa, April 25 to 28.

The group decided to cater for a banquet on April 9th.

Reports of the tea held at the home of Mrs. Vannier last month showed that it was a decided success. Mrs. Simard thanked Mrs. Vannier for the use of her home, and also the conveners who had charge of the tea, Mrs. A. Trudel, Mrs. L. Desjardins, Mrs. T. Forget and Mrs. A. Mathieu.

Following the meeting the members attended the nine o'clock mass and then returned to the hall for lunch and a social hour. They were entertained by Mrs. J. A. Joyal, assisted by Mrs. Veale and Mrs. Charette, who presented an amusing action song.

to do their share in community activities. So for goodness sake, if we have to talk about the bad behaviour of a certain group of young folk, let's not group good and alike under a sneering appellation of "teenagers". I think young people are grand and there is nothing makes me happier than to hear a group of my grandson's chums yell, "Hi, Mrs. Mac", when they meet me on the street.

It would never do to end this column without a tribute to St. Patrick and all his forebearers and descendants and if they are all as nice as the ones I met last summer, I wouldn't mind living in Ireland, at all, at all. And then too, I could sail across the Irish Sea betimes and say hello to St. Andrew's descendants, who are grand people too!

The truth about hats is, like diamonds, they are not among the necessities of life, but ARE among the tonic pleasures. Hats are a golden chance for the chic women to appear extra chic. This year, designers have come up with spectacular bulky shapes or the tiny toy hats. These are enchanting wisps of veiling with usually a huge rose perched on top or at the side. It was decided that hats are a must for the well-dressed woman so they have simply built the hats around the hair. Now, no one can say, "I can't get a hat to fit my new hair style." The designers have come up with a style for everyone, all intriguing and SO exciting. Make your selection early.

With this season's new shorter sleeve length, emphasis is on gloves. A shipment just in from Paris Gloves shows all the new spring shades and different lengths.
