Cub Pack Members Learn New Skills

Nineteen members of the Second Haileybury Cub Pack met last week with their leaders, John Rundle and Gordon Wilson, assisted by Jim Nichols.

Following the opening ceremonies, campfire was formed for storytelling, one story being about the habits of the Mongoose. Afterwards instruction was given in tying knots and the boys had a session of walking around with books on their heads, in order to practice good posture.

John Knox was invested as a Cub. Points are given each week for attendance, appearance, a good deed and attendance at church. These are totalled at the end of the month and a prize given to the Six who have the greatest number of points. Last month the prize went to the Blue Six.

The property will be offered for sale subject to a reserved bid fixed by the said District Court down to the Vendor's Solicitor on the day of sale 10% of the purchase money and shall pay the balance of the purchase money into Court without interest within thirty (30) days after the date of sale. Across the Kitchen Table

By MRS. MAC

Canada, Our Lady of the Snows. Monday morning I came gaily to work, quite happy because it hadn't frozen during the night, the last bit of snow and ice on the roof was dripping quietly away and I felt sure that at last, Spring was around the nearest corner. Well!! at eleven thirty, my office seemed rather dark and as I got up to turn on the light, I glanced out of the window, and Wow, "I looked out the window and what did I see? Ten million snowflakes glaring at me." I also saw a hatless, baldheaded man getting out of his car, holding his hand on his head and galloping to the liquor store; a man whose windshield wiper wasn't working, (how's that for alliteration?) driving cautiously down Ferguson Avenue with his door open and his head out, (he DID have a hat on); and as I watched, the large fluffy snowflakes changed to smaller sleet-like pellets. Oh, it was a beautiful view. Then as I turned to the mail piled high on my desk, I opened a large envelope, "and what did I see? Two pleasant faces smiling at me". Underneath the picture, which came from a News Agency, was this cutline, "Judge J. B. and Mrs. Robinson of Haileybury, Ontario, are spending their fourth annual Bermuda holiday at Horizons in Paget Parish." Looking from the picture to the window, I was convinced that they are one couple that certainly know the proper time to take a holiday.

"We only see a little of the ocean
A few miles distance from the boundless shore,
But way out there, beyond the sky's horizon
There's more! There's more!

We only see a little of God's mercy —
A few small droppings from His boundless store,
But way out there beyond Eternity's horizon
There's more! There's more;

This little poem, by an unknown author, was sent to me by Mrs. G. Kranz along with several others, and I thought it was so good that I wanted to share it with my readers.

This week-end is the Easter one, the commemoration of Christ's resurrection. As we mark it, let us try to realize that it means something more than a new Easter bonnet or dress, gaily colored eggs, fluffy bunnies or chocolate chickens. Let us try to be worthy of the agony Christ suffered for us, like the repentant thief, may "be with Him in Paradise".

Await Report

Provincial police at Englehart are still awaiting results of pathological tests being taken in Toronto on the brain of Horace (Pete) Tardiff. The 72-year-old trapper was found dead in his cabin near Englehart some seven weeks ago.

The body was discovered by Conservation Officer Roy Johnston and OPP Constable Jim Burns on February 24. The body was severely burned about the head and feet, but it was suspected that Tardiff may have died from rabies.

An inquest cannot be held until the reports from Toronto are received.
