

Neil McKinnon, Barbara Bazinet and Gerry Mulligan were among the many spooks that haunted Cobalt's streets over Hallowe'en.

Across the Kitchen Table

By MRS. MAC

Two reminders of the past have come to me this week. The first was an article in the Bracebridge Herald-Gazette referring to Mr. Montague Mahaffy, who had sent them a woodcut of one of the old bridges in Bracebridge. (By the way, I wonder how the name "Bracebridge" originated?) The article went on to tell of Mr. Mahaffy's life in Northern Ontario during the years 1906-1912, in the Cobalt camp. He was also interested in the Larder Lake area and often got my father to drive him from Tomstown to Larder. He was a frequent visitor in our home and my father had many tales to tell of "Monty's" exploits.

The second reminder came from Miss Muriel Muntz, 80 Lawton Blvd., Toronto, who sent two pictures. One, an old "stage coach" or covered sleigh; the other, a view of Haileybury taken in 1915. It was quite interesting to see them but unfortunately they are not clear enough for printing in the paper. I was disappointed that no letter came with the pictures, because I am sure that anyone who has pictures of those early days must also have a wealth of information regarding them, and I do wish Miss Muntz would write again and tell us of those pioneer years.

The Area Convention of the Women's Institutes of Cochrane and Temiskaming will be held in Englehart on Monday and Tuesday, November 7th and 8th, when members all the way from Island Falls to Temagami will meet to compare accomplishments and receive inspiration from each other. As I will be attending it, there will be no one in the office for those two days. I would appreciate getting as many items of news as possible by Friday afternoon (tomorrow). I will be back in the office Wednesday morning.

Hallowe'en has "been and gone" in a fairly peaceful and enjoyable manner. The children have been commended by the local police for their behaviour and because of their collecting for UNICEF, many children in the hungry lands will be helped.

Students' Meet

The Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, Cobalt branch, are holding their annual Provincial Institute of Mining students Night and Oysterbrew in the Haileybury Legion Hall on Friday, November 4th, at 8:00 p.m.

They will have two guest speakers on subjects of interest to the students. Mr. Steven Navin will speak on the topic "Underground at Gunnar" and Mr. Fred Moore will give "A Comparative Review of Russian and American Educational Systems".

Make it a habit to keep your feet on the ground and you'll never have far to fall.

Remember when you used to go to bed with the curfew? To-day they just blow it to wake you up.
