

Events at the Academy

On the "Propogation of the Faith" Sunday, the grade 19A students presented interesting sketches with the purpose of illustrating the missionaries' work abroad. The fact that most of the pupils' parents were present greatly encouraged the girls. The group of students dressed in costumes of various mission fields executed original dances with skill and ease.

Monday night, the Jeunesse Musicale of Halleybury held their first concert of the season with Jacques Verdun, violinist, and William Stevens, pianist. Before the opening of the concert Miss Antoinette Baroque named the winners of the contest held in June for display cards. A $5.00 reward was given to the winners.

The audience was immediately at ease with the two performers and thoroughly captivated by their excellent performances. Jacques Verdun commented in French while William Stevens commented in English. The pianist, William Stevens, "Sohate en do mineur" "Pathétique" of Beethoven had the greatest success and Jacques Verdun's "Concerto en sol majeur" of Mozart obtained also a very great applause.

This weekend, Sister Madeleine de Rose, along with Suzanne Bobbert and Madeline Snard of Grade XII organized a weiner roast for Grades IX and X. Judging with the enthusiasm shown by the girls the roast was a great success. It was held by the lake near the waterfall. During that time Sister Sainte Yvette went for a walk along the shore with the Grade IX girls.

The Fatima Baseball team played against Cobalt High last Tuesday. The girls played exceptionally well and Fatima triumphed 63-14. Both the teams had their cheer leaders who greatly encouraged the players and added to the fun of watching the game.

Class XI-B displayed "autumn projects" this week. The girls surely found pictures very characteristic of the season, along with compositions and poems on beauties of Autumn. The display showed the advantages of team-work. The other students of the school judged the work giving the winning honours to "Les Chanteuses" and "Jeunes Visages" teams were chosen second. Congratulations to the winners.

Hallowe'en Party For Brownie Pack

Since their meeting was on Hallowe'en night, the First Brownie Pack had a Hallowe'en party. They all came in costume and enjoyed a peanut hunt. This was won by Patsy Treen with 94 peanuts and Linda Dempster with 89. Patsy received a Brownie handkerchief and Linda a Brownie comb.

Later, the Brownies bobbed for apples and played Hallowe'en games. At the end of the party they had ice cream and cake, then Mrs. Arnold handed out the tins for UNICEF which the girls used for collecting that night.
