Across the Kitchen Table

By MRS. MAC

I wonder if I am the only one who feels that the Christmas business season, and every other season, for that matter, is started entirely too soon? Christmas merchandise appears in the stores late in October, then immediately after Christmas, before one can draw a long breath, spring clothes are being shown, and while one is trying to find two free minutes during holiday time to enjoy the summer, the radio and televisions are all blaring about fall and winter styles and "do your Christmas shopping early". In fact if something isn't done about it pretty soon, we're going to open our doors some Hallowe'en and find Santa booming "Shell Out", instead of "HO, HO, HO". And come to think of it, isn't it a welcome thought? Because anything more sickening than that horrible "ho, ho, ho-ing" that most radio announcers seem to think is typical of Santa would be hard to imagine.

In many places in the Bible we see the words "joy, gladness, and rejoice"; "Behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy"; "Make a joyful noise unto the Lord"; "Sing with gladness"; "Leap for joy"; "Come ye before Him and rejoice"; "Rejoice and be exceedingly glad". I could go on and on, but there are so many people who seem to think that anything connected with the church or the Lord must be approached with solemnity, long faces and gloomy looks. Frankly, I can't see it that way and I think that our faith should enable us to see and hear the joy and gladness that is all around us, if we have a "seeing eye and a hearing ear" plus an understanding heart. True, the world has much sorrow, it's future seems so unsettled and at times we wonder why certain things are allowed to happen, but the fact still remains that Christ was born in Bethlehem and that His birth was "good tidings of great joy". We cannot move mountains nor remove the burdens of all the peoples of the world, but we can brighten the part of it that we live in, by having faith, being cheerful and doing what we can for those around us.

To most of us, Christmas is a time when we put aside, at least temporarily, the trials and tribulations of everyday life, a time when we share with our families and friends, new joys, old memories, and with the courage and resolution that is born of faith, remember the true meaning of Christmas. And if we keep the teachings of Christ uppermost in our minds, we need have no misgivings about the years to come. So this year, let's all try to make the Christmas season one that will follow us on into the new year, leaving the little frustrations, the hurts and sorrows, behind. Sometimes it's not very easy to do, but one should not let these things dominate one's life.

And now to all my readers and the friends who have been so extremely kind to me during a trying time, I send the wish that this Christmas may be one to be long remembered, one in which the true conception of Christmas will take precedence over all else and that you may have in your hearts "the good tidings of great joy".

John F. McDonald Around The Square

M. Mary McDonald

One week after attending the funeral services of his wife, Marguerite Mary, John Francis McDonald died at Haileybury. Mr. McDonald died at the wheel of his car leaving for church on Sunday morning.

Funeral services were conducted at Holy Cross Church in Haileybury for Mrs. McDonald, who died on December 9, on Monday, December 12, while those for Mr. McDonald were held on Wednesday, December 21, at the same church. Services were conducted by Rev. Father Lapointe.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McDonald were born at Barrie, Ontario, and were married there in 1923. For a time the couple lived in Timmins, Ontario, where Mr. McDonald was with the Northern Ontario Power Company and later they moved to New Liskeard, where they resided until a few years ago, when Mr. McDonald was appointed manager of the Haileybury office of the Ontario Hydro, and the couple moved to Haileybury.

Mr. McDonald retired from active work with the Hydro about three years ago.

During his years in the Tri-Town area, Mr. McDonald, a member of Knights of Columbus, had a host of friends among the curling and sporting fraternity. He was also an ardent fisherman. Mrs. McDonald was of a more retiring nature, but until ill health which started three years ago, she was an active worker in the Catholic Women's League.

Surviving is one daughter, Mrs. Jacqueline O'Shaughnessy of Elliot Lake, who was visiting at home at the time of her mother's death and had not returned to her home when her father passed away. Also surviving are two sisters, Mary and Liola of Toronto.

Prior to the funeral services the bodies rested at the Tulloch and Buffam Funeral Chapel, Haileybury, with burial in Haileybury cemetery.

Correction

The Cobalt News Correspondent would like to correct an error made in last week's Speaker concerning the United Church Tea and Bazaar. Guests were served by Mrs. S. Larocque, Mrs. M. McKinnon, Mrs. A. Nadeau, Mrs. H. Connelly, and Mrs. C. Smith, assisted by hostesses Mrs. R. MacArthur and Mrs. T. Welch.

C.P.T. Bingo

Set for February 14

The regular meeting of Silver Rebekah Lodge was held in the I.O.O.F. Hall on Wednesday, December 14, with Noble Grand Mrs. S. Wink presiding. Lodge opened in form. Roll call was taken and showed five officers absent. Quite a lengthy report was given by the Visiting Committee. The C.P. & T. committee reported on their progress towards Christmas Cheer. Candy bags were packed on Sunday, December 18. The C.P. & T. have set the date of their next Bingo for February 14. The report of officers was given. Several Christmas cards were read from members who reside out-of-town. An application was received for membership into the Lodge. The card party was discussed, and this is to be held in January with all proceeds to be handed in by the end of the month. Following the adjournment, lunch was served by the committee.

In the first half of 1960 goods imported into Canada had a value of $2,805,600,000 an increase of 1.9 per cent over the similar period of 1959.
