

Across the Kitchen Table

BY MRS. MAC

Sometimes, as I listen to the radio or overhear the conversation of a couple of teen agers as they slipslop down the street in front of me, with their heels dragging, I wonder if a new language has been invented. On the radio, some poor suffering soul whines indefinitely "Whaddle I do if yah leave me?" and another one, in equal agony, demands over and over, "Will yah love me to-marra?"

Some time ago I read in a magazine an article along these lines so I've been perking my ears to find out if they really do talk in this way; "Lo, Joe, whatcha doon?"

"Nuthin much, bumn 'round." "Showt night?" "Nah. Seent." "Dance Sat night?" "Nah, no dame." "Smatter 'thelsie?" "Smad 'tme." "Smad bout?" "Idno, gatter back up bout sumthin." "Gon do then?" "Gessle stay homen study." "Mightswell. Nuthinelsta do." "Kay. Be seen yah." "Yah, see yah." Little men from Mars? Could be, but let us hope the phase will soon pass and another one take its place. After all is this way of expressing themselves any worse than the ones that have preceded it? And after all, if you're as fond of teenagers as I am, it's really a sort of challenge to be able to understand what they are talking about.

This week I received my copy of Easter "Ideals" which is, I think, one of the nicest I have got since I started subscribing to it about five years ago. This magazine is outstanding in this day and age, in that it has absolutely no advertising, and contains no shoddy reading. From front to back, it is filled with beautiful poetry, stories and pictures, many of them suitable for framing. The story of the creation of the world, from the Bible, beautifully illustrated with paintings is a highlight of this issue.

News from the Evelyn Shoppe

We wouldn't be surprised to see some of our enterprising prospectors staking out some gold claims in Evelyn's window this week. Those shiny big gold nuggets sure look tempting but if you do some further exploration work, you will find real golden nuggets of fashion with high grade values. Evelyn has done some digging on her own, in the Fashion world, to come up with such fabulous values, such as a perfect gem of a suit in gold shade, skirt with the new deep pleats, short cropped jacket and an extra dividend in the two-toned silk overblouse to match the lining of the suit.

A walking suit in the new spend-thrift green shade, shorter sleeve length, sheath skirt, has a three-quarter jacket which can be used as a top coat over any other frock, both practical and economical. We like the price, too, only $35.00. The smart all-weather coat by Joshar in the gayest of flower prints with an extra dividend in the matching parasol, for only $29.95 would make anyone cheerful on any kind of a day.

You will head the Easter Parade if you are wearing one of our woolen coats by Louis Manley. The interesting weave and soft texture of this imported wool fabric is beautiful in pale champagne shade. The coat has the new cape elbow-length sleeve treatment and collarless neckline bound with a knitted band in deeper tone. Very outstanding, or perhaps a cashmere coat by Gordon might be your choice.

A fine calf, Morocco, antelope or tapestry bag by Paragon Leather will enhance any ensemble. Don't forget we also have the smartest of bags in soft crushable melloplastic from $2.98 to $5.98, in many of the new spring tones.

We want to once again emphasize the importance of gloves this spring, particularly the four, six and eight button length, for the fashion conscious women. Of course, you can choose a matching scarf.

Even the most discriminating male will nod his head with approval when he sees your Easter ensemble topped with a hat from Evelyn's, flower trimmed or plain.

Starting on Thursday, March 23, with every $5 purchase, you get a chance on our $25 Gift Certificate which will be drawn on Saturday, April 15.

It sure paid to dig in "that thar" window.

See you at Evelyn's

Mrs. Lorne Umphries, Ball Convener, reported on arrangements to date. It will be held on June 2nd at the Haileybury Curling Club, and will require the efforts of every member to insure its success.

The question of what the Chapter should do for the High School was the subject of another discussion, and it was suggested that the Union Jack and a portrait of our Queen be purchased for the new High School building. Mrs. LeVigne was asked to check with the Principal of Fatima High School as to whether or not there was a portrait of our Queen there. Donations Rise For Worthy Causes

In a recent release the report of the Hallowe'en program sponsored for the United Nations Children's Fund showed that the amount collected by the Canadian children was $260,000. This sum represented the efforts of 300,000 children in communities from British Columbia to Newfoundland and as a result of this gift, thousands of youngsters will be given healthy bodies and a chance to lead normal lives. Since 1956, the amount collected has gone up from $42,000 to $200,000.

Another phase of assistance where it is needed is the contribution of the March of Dimes. In the districts of Cochrane and Temiskaming, the contributions amounted to $14,908, an increase over last year of $3,502.

William B. Crombie

A leading hydro-electric engineer and railroad consultant, William B. Crombie died in Toronto, Saturday, March 18.

Born in 1886 in Picton, Ont., Mr. Crombie began his career in 1907 as an engineer with the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway. After a colorful lifetime of notable achievements, mostly in Northern Ontario, he retired in the mid 1950's as consultant for Ontario Hydro on railroad relocation for the St. Lawrence project.

In the 1920's while working for the consulting engineering firm of George F. Hardy, New York City, Mr. Crombie was loaned to the Abitibi Power and Paper Co., where he was responsible for the 30,000-horsepower Twin Falls hydro development and the 50,000-horsepower project at Island Falls.

In 1927 he was named engineer in charge of the Spruce Falls Power and Paper Company's mill at Kapuskasing, the 50-mile railroad from Kapuskasing to Smoky Falls, and the company's 75,000-horsepower hydro project on the Matagami River. In 1929 he was made responsible for Northern Ontario's largest hydro-electric station, the 330,000-horsepower Abitibi Canyon G.S.

Mr. Crombie's first major work for Ontario Hydro was between 1940 and 1941 as chief resident engineer and general superintendent of construction forces on the Ogoki River diversion. In 1945 he became Hydro's first project manager for the 84,000-horsepower Stewartville station on the Madawaska River. Between 1948 and 1952 he held a similar post at Ontario Hydro's 280,000-horsepower Otto Holden generating station on the Ottawa River.
