Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Peacock have returned from Jellicoe where they visited with their son, John and Mrs. Peacock. IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of a dear husband and father, who was accidentally killed in the mine on March 22, 1960.

Though his smile has gone forever

And his hand we cannot touch,
Still we have our memories
Of the one we loved so much
His memory is our keepsake,
With which we'll never part.
God has him in His keeping,
We have him in our hearts.

—Sadly missed by wife Thelda and children Darlene, Norman, Linda, Freddie, Wendy and Kim.

GROWTH OF A TOY

Rocking horses seem to have made their appearance in Europe in the 18th century, but they are crude compared with the realistic animals of today. At first they were simply cut in solid wood with the legs merely marked in outline.

Mayor Purdy

at the time of this release. This in itself is an indication that some approve of the council's action. Those members who object to council's attempts to save money are doing well to resign.

"It might be well to point out that the Community Centre Board at one time offered the Cobalt town clerk $100 to look after bookings at the community centre. The clerk returned the cheque and offered to do the work without pay. The next month he was relieved of his job and another person was hired to do this work.

"We are not critical of the manner in which the Board has operated in the past; they have done a good service to the community. However, in the course of time, ideas crop up that benefit the finances of the town, in this case Community Centre Board. In conclusion we would like to state that if anyone has the answer to this, or any other problems, we would be pleased to have it. It seems, though, that in Cobalt, regardless of what council is elected, whatever they do is wrong. We have been elected for the 1961 period and we are going to run town business without being influenced by every derogatory article that is published.

"To the fair minded people of Cobalt, we are attempting to improve our town, we are attempting to give you better service at less cost. This is a tall order and perhaps we will make mistakes. We only ask that you carefully look at both sides of the silver dollar, and attend your council meetings and ask questions.

"Finally, we hope that this release will answer your questions satisfactorily. If it doesn't, feel free to seek clarification at the next regular meeting of the Cobalt Town Council on April 11."

The four members of the board still sitting, referred to in Mayor Purdy's statement, include two town councillors, W. J. Tresidder and Duncan Sopha. The two of the five non-council members who have not resigned are Bob Latimore and Jack Church.

Mayor Purdy said council has also passed the following resolution: "That we have the Community Centre and Recreation Commission stand as they are, with the exception that the town office will look after the secretarial work of the Community Centre Board, renting the hall, etc."
