

Judging from the condition of the local post office last Friday morning, it would seem that the ability to swim might well be one of the requirements of securing a position there. The clerks were scurrying around, trying to sort the mail, as they dodged the tin cans of varying shapes and sizes that were scattered around the floor to catch the streams of water dripping from the ceiling. And anyone venturing to the main wicket got his face well splashed from the gentle stream that was dropping on the counter. Oh well, it's all in a day's work!

In the spring, more often than any other season, one seems to get a lift from little things, such as the old couple I noticed last Friday, going across the street, hand in hand, after stopping carefully and looking both ways (do you suppose someone told them I was learning to drive a car?). Or Steve Whelan coming out of his store in his white apron to take his two little girls safely across the street, then patting their heads and going back again. And I'm sure his day, as well as mine, was brigher because of it; or the policeman stopping to pet the tiny little dog that rushed to meet him as he got out of his car near his office; and naturally, the tiny bits of girls skipping on the sidewalk. Who minds walking around them? And finding a dozen tulips popping their heads up through the ground when you had completely forgotten you had planted them, is really a joy.

Elsewhere in this issue is an appeal to the older members of the town to assist in locating Agnes Court, who is supposed to have lived in Haileybury in 1916. If anyone remembers her I do hope they will let us know about it for her brother and sisters are most anxious to complete their family circle.

Lake Break-up Make a Guess

"Let the wind blow high, let the wind blow low, soon from the lake the ice will go", and as time and ice wait for no man, it's time to get your predictions in regarding the EXACT date that Lake Temiskaming will be declared open for navigation. There could be, of course, several definitions of "open for navigation" such as in ten feet of open water along the shoreline, a canoe could be navigated very nicely, in a forward direction, naturally, but as usual, the final decision as to the exact date will be left to the official oracle, Neil Fleming.

So get those coupons coming in, ONE TO A FAMILY, and post-marked no later than April 30th.

Last year there were three correct guesses, all from ladies: Mrs. W. Woodrow, Orillia, Mrs. C. R. Plaunt and Mrs. H. Hurteau, of Haileybury.
