

Lands and Forests

Five of the large operators - Geo. Gordon Company, J. B. Smith Company, Wm. Milne & Sons, Canadian Johns - Manville Company and Field Lumber Company have started their season's logging operations. These operations require six scalers plus as-

Further to the above, we have one scaler at Canadian Johns-Manville and one at Consolidated Paper Corporation Licence in Best and French Townships. There are also four scalers, one to each Management Unit - Nipissing, Mattawa, Jocko and Cobalt. This makes a total of twelve scalers and six assistants at present date. By November, when a number of small operators start cutting, the total will be increased to two scalers and three or four assistants.

We expect approximately the same cut as last year which would be fifty-seven and one-half million feet board measure and thirty-three thousand cords of pulpwood.

The district has played host during the past few days to Dr. Angus Hills of the Research Branch at Maple and J. R. M. Williams of the Silviculture Section of this Department in Toronto. Both are working on soil and site classification of the North Bay District at present.

Both visits are appropriate at the present, inasmuch as the foresters in the district are in the process of drawing up management plans for the various forest units. For this a knowledge of the range of conditions within each unit is of vital importance. The growth of trees is entirely dependent on the conditions to be faced by them. This includes major and local climatic conditions, soil structure, nutrients, moisture, relations and biological considerations.

With a knowledge of these factors, the unit forester is in a much better position to determine what problems are to be faced, their magnitude and the best means of facing them.
