

The Temiskaming District Council of the Boy Scout Association met in Haileybury last week to elect officers for the coming year. Above are Pat Paterson, secretary-treasurer, Gordon Davies, Haileybury, president and Field Commissioner R. S. Taylor of North Bay.

Boy Scout Association Meets in Haileybury

The Annual Meeting of the Temiskaming District Council of the Boy Scout Association was held at the Haileybury Golf Club on Monday, September 25th, and took the form of a dinner meeting. About sixty members and their ladies were present.

Mr. Gordon Davies, Chairman of the Haileybury Group Committee, was master of ceremonies for the dinner, and started the meeting with a toast to the Queen, followed by Grace, which was given by Rev. Chabot of New Liskeard. A turkey dinner was served, which was catered by Mrs. A. Brown of Cobalt.

After the dinner, Field Commissioner Bob Taylor of North Bay acted as Chairman, and led the group in several lively songs. Scoutmaster Fred Cameron, New Liskeard, showed movies of Scouting Activities in the District, which he had compiled over the last three years. These films were most interesting, illustrating winter and summer camping, cub rallies and sports.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: President, Gordon Davies; Vice-President, Dick Taylor; Secretary-Treasurer, D. R. "Pat" Paterson, New Liskeard. Each Group Committee from Temagami, Cobalt, Haileybury, New Liskeard, Englehart and Elk Lake are to appoint two members to the District Council.

Scoutmaster Stan Overton, New Liskeard, was unanimously recommended to the position of District Commissioner — his duties to commence immediately. It was reported that plans are now being made to conduct a Scout Leader's Training Course in November. All Scout Leaders are requested to register with the District Commissioner.

Ruffed Grouse

The Department of Lands and Forests, Fish and Wildlife Division is conducting a study of ruffed grouse hunting in the Swastika District.

The main objective is to measure hunter success and to determine the sex and age class structure of the grouse population.

Grouse hunters can assist by providing information about their hunts and by turning in wings and tails from bagged grouse.

Any sportsman who would like to take part in the study is asked to contact his local conservation officer.

New TV Antenna Offers Hope for "Fringe" Areas

Television viewers throughout Canada who are plagued with poor TV reception because they live in fringe areas where signals are weak, now have hope for better entertainment to come.

Main reason for the breakthrough in reception is a successful research project which utilized the principle of Proportional Energy Absorption to give clearer, stronger, all-channel reception and deliver pictures free of "snow", "flickering", "ghosts" and other difficulties associated with fringe area reception.

The new antenna, called the Crossfire, has a design concept which permits the highly sensitive device to pull in desired signals with greater strength than ever before, while screening out unwanted transmissions. The result is unprecedented picture power in areas where home television reception has been hampered by distance from the transmitter or local terrain problems.

Because of the new design concept, developed by Channel Master Corporation engineers, it is now possible for the first time to deliver the antenna's maximum signal strength on each channel on both high and low bands.

In conventional antenna, for example, signal strength diminishes as it travels the length of the antenna and successive elements are able to draw only decreasing amounts of the available electromagnetic energy transmitted by the TV station. With the Crossfire, Proportional Energy Absorption is employed to increase signal gathering strength of the successive elements, each of which gathers a greater amount of the available energy to match the original signal taken in by the initial elements. Total picture power thus delivered to the set is substantially greater as a result.

The new antenna also has extremely high front-to-back ratio for what engineers call "clean" gain.

Southern Honeymoon After Cobalt Wedding

In St. Patrick's R.C. Church Father M. J. Scully officiated at the double ring ceremony of Miss Vivian Louise Keen to Timothy John Holly.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Keen of Cobalt, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Holley of Renfrew.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. R. Morin of Elliot Lake, the bride chose a floor-length gown of white silk organza over chantilly lace with sebrina neckline and lily-point sleeves.

Her veil fell from a pearl crown and she carried a white prayer book with pink baby roses.

The Bible To-day

An "average Anglican" attending church regularly, but not a "doer", said "You start my day, but help during the working hours also. One should read one's Bible, but when busy in an office, I can't arrange that very well, but I can dial a number and listen a few moments. I've dialed that number when I've been lonely, depressed, tempted, needing an answer, then also when I count my blessings and am thankful."

This, a part of a letter received by the Rev. J. Thompson, Secretary of Western Ontario District, of the Canadian Bible Society, and was written by a user of the daily Scripture reading service by telephone established in London. The invitation, "Telephone a number and hear a portion of the Word of God", was only moderately publicized. On two average days, a year apart, 713 and 720 telephone calls, respectively, were completed and 148 and 218 calls, respectively, could not be completed because the line was busy.

The most number of calls were during the noon hour and the hours after school. The least use was made of this service between two and four p.m. A check on the calls also showed that the service was busy late at night and throughout the night.

Other letters, many from business men, expressed gratitude for the service and for help received from hearing the Bible verses in many of the stressful situations of life. One person named the service, "Bible Anonymous".
