

A great many people do a great deal of talking about the stress and strain of modern life. The younger people just take it for granted that they must be on the go all the time and if they are not, the majority of them can't entertain themselves. But the older ones, who remember the old days when there was only the Christmas concert, the 24th of May picnic and the 12th of July parade for organized entertainment, are inclined to belittle present day activities, even tho they are up to their necks in them, themselves, and go on at great lengths about the superiority of those bygone "old days". But I just wonder how many of us would want to go back to those days when we had only horses to take us places, when we had no electric lights, no freezers, electric stoves or irons? One thing sure, I don't. Last night after I got home from work, I decided to go to Englehart to see my daughter. I left home at seven o'clock and was back at ten to eleven. If I'd had a horse and buggy, I would have had to take my lunch, and I wouldn't be home yet! If I hadn't had my electric stove, I'd have the fuss and bother of moving the wood stove out to the "summer kitchen" in the spring and back again in the fall. I remember how my husband hated moving it and how I, (nasty creature), used to put an extra stick of dry wood in just before the dinner was ready so the house would be extra hot when he came in. It usually worked though — if not the first day, it would the second. And I remember the inconvenience of ironing with those old "sad irons", (they were aptly named) getting black smudges on the white shirts and nearly roasting in the summer time with the huge fires needed to keep them hot. Yes, the good old days were fine — I had lots of fun in them, but I worked a mighty sight harder then than I do now, with all the stress and strain. And to me, the good old days are the ones I'm living in, and I hope they'll continue to be, all my life. And here's something else to think about. There's no need of us getting involved in so many things if we have gumption enough to say "NO". Say it in a nice way, but say it, because so often, the people who want us to do things just want to get out of doing it themselves. (Hah, who am I to talk?) But do let us slow down to a walk instead of a gallop, and enjoy life as it comes, not wait till it's nearly over and then yakety-yak about the good old days.

You know, I'm afraid I'm very much like the grasshopper who did nothing all summer and then complained when fall came along. There has been a good many evenings when, if I'd had any get up and go, I might have worked in my garden, but instead I'm feeling rather badly to think it's raining and will likely turn cold, and I have so much to do! La me, La me!

Delegate Reports Annual Conference Of B and PW

The October meeting of the Tri-Town Business and Professional Women took the form of a potluck supper at the Steak House when twenty-two members and one visitor attended.

The president, Miss Edna Sumbler was in the chair for the business session during which Mrs. Lucille Hardy gave an interesting report of the Provincial Annual Conference that she had attended in Hamilton on October 12 to 15, as a delegate from the local association. Other delegates were present from all over Ontario. Other members attending the conference from this area were Miss Edna Sumbler, Miss Bea McDonald and Miss Marjory Munro. Miss Sumbler was re-elected as provincial vice-president.

Following the business session a program was conducted on the work of the United Nations, with Miss Jean McGill of Haileybury showing a film on the rehabilitation of Greece, depicting the methods of cultivating the land in order to restore its productiveness.

Installation Meet For Rebekahs

Mrs. May Bennetts of Kirkland Lake, district deputy president, was escorted in and introduced to the members by Mrs. Ness McAulay, when the Northern Light Rebekah Lodge held their installation meeting in the Legion Hall, Wednesday night, October 18th.

Mrs. Bennetts and her staff from the Kirkland Lake Lodge conducted the installation ceremony of the officers for the coming year as follows:

Mrs. Iza McNaught, Haileybury, Noble Grand; Mrs. Albert Clow, North Cobalt, Vice Grand; Mrs. Carmen McVittie, Haileybury, recording secretary; Mrs. Olive McIntyre, financial secretary; Mrs. Vyril King, treasurer; Mrs. Florence Berry, warden; Mrs. Gwen Horncastle, conductor; Miss Joy McIntyre, inside guardian; Miss Florence Graham, Cobalt, outside guardian; Mrs. Rachel MacFarlane, right supporter to the noble grand; Mrs. Hannah McQuaid, left supporter to the noble grand; Mrs. Bula Lathem, junior past noble grand; Mrs. Donella Glazier, musician.

A welcome was extended to Mrs. A. J. Brown of Cobalt. The visiting committee reported that get-well cards has been sent to four members and Mrs. Adair had visited Mrs. Louise Craig, who is convalescing following an operation.

Mrs. Ness McAulay, who has been a member for fifty years, requested that her thirty-five year jewel be changed for a fifty year one.

Mrs. Lathem extended her sincere thanks to the officers and members for their help and support during the year, with special thanks to Mrs. Brown, degree mistress. Mrs. Glazier then extended a warm vote of thanks to Mrs. Lathem for her work as noble grand.

Mrs. Bennetts, district deputy president, commended Mrs. McNaught for taking the office of noble grand for a second term. She was also pleased to see younger members coming into the Lodge and taking office. She stressed the fact that one only gets out of the Lodge what one puts into it.

Mrs. Brown wished Mrs. McNaught a happy year in office and congratulated Mrs. Bennetts and her staff on their efficient installation ceremony.

Lodge closed in form and a pot luck supper and social hour followed.

SOUND CONSTITUTION NEEDED
Hints on forming and running a club stress the importance of a constitution, or a set of statements that define clearly the name, purposes, membership qualifications, election methods and other matters concerning the club.

Haileybury Personals

The First and Second Brownie Packs have started into their fall season work, with Miss Jean Mills and Miss Miller as leaders for the First Pack and Miss Margaret Cavanagh, Mrs. J. Rundle and Miss J. Morris in charge of the Second Pack. At the present, the Brownies are taking test work and preparing for Remembrance Day.

Mrs. C. E. Peacock and Mrs. W. C. Arnold attended the combined Presbyterian meeting of the United Church Women's Missionary Societies and Woman's Auxiliaries at Englehart last week-end.

Principal G. L. Cassidy of the Haileybury High School and Mrs. Cassidy were in Timins over the week-end to attend the Teachers Federation Conference for District 29. This district extends from North Bay to Kapuskasing. Also attending were their sons, Robert of North Bay and Terrence of Kirkland Lake, accompanied by their wives.

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chapman were their daughter, Mrs. Einar Olson and Mr. Olson, while enroute to Tillsonburg where they will now be making their home. Mr. and Mrs. Olson were residents of Haileybury before moving to Cochrane a short time ago.

Twenty-four Girl Guides will be collecting for UNICEF on Halloween, each with their badge and sticker on their collecting box. The girls have been looking forward to visiting Timmins to meet Lady Baden Powell, but owing to the fact that she has suffered a slight heart attack, all her engagements have been cancelled, including her appearance at Timmins.

Mrs. C. E. Grozelle, Mrs. J. Gilkes and Mrs. J. H. Brunell were in North Bay to attend the Anglican Deanery meeting held there on October 19th.

Dr. Jack Jenkins has returned to his home in Gananoque after spending a week visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Jenkins. Brigadier and Mrs. G. L. Cassidy celebrated the fifth anniversary of their wedding while in Timmins on Friday, October 20th.

Mr. Peter Bonin has returned after spending a holiday with his daughter, Mrs. Cora Miller, in Toronto.

Mrs. Shirley Capozza and daughter Dianne have returned to their home in Toronto after spending a month with Mrs. Capozza's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Brown.

Mrs. E. E. Campbell spent a few days in Toronto with her mother, Mrs. R. J. Gordon of Ottawa.

Mr. W. G. Cooper is in Toronto visiting his niece, Mrs. Winnie Oliver.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Philbert and son Peter of North Bay were week-end guests with Mrs. Philbert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Beach.

Mrs. M. Miller and family of Temagami were week-end guests of Mrs. Miller's mother, Mrs. Philbert.

CGIT Group Elects Officers

This week's meeting of the C.G.I.T. was held in the United Church basement, and opened with the Purpose, roll call and minutes of the previous meeting, read by the secretary, Judy Kirk.

An election of officers took place with Marion Plaunt being elected as president, Dianne Davis as vice-president, Judy Kirk as secretary, Helen Hennessy as treasurer, and Marilyn Tappenden as press reporter.

Following this a game of Musical Chairs was played, and plans discussed for a sale of home baking and Christmas decorations, to be held some time in November. The meeting was closed with Taps.

News from the Evelyn Shoppe

HAILEYBURY

If you are one of those fashion-alert women, you will want at least one black dress in your wardrobe. After all the color we have been having, Fashion is now talking Black to highlight lovely figures and of course we all know how flattering it is to the slightly heavier figure.

With all the large sparkling pins, gold chains and colorful beads to dress it up, anyone can wear black and Evelyn has a number of dressy and basic models, just in wools, brocades, crepe, silk jersey and chiffons. The Chanel influence is shown in a black dress with low cut neckline bound in satin, with Chanel jacket also bound in satin. If you have some of those gold bar pins, so much in vogue a few years ago, Chanel suggests using a set on the jacket or to loop up a long gold chain to one side. This is a smart and different touch and you probably have a set tucked away in your jewel box.

A coat we like very much, in black, is in cashmere and wool, the collar banded in silver blue mink, which is removable. Another, deep red with an interesting flare, is highlighted with a small roll color of black Persian lamb, by Louis Manley. Malber makes an antique gold shade coat of imported angora and wool with luxurious beaver collar. We still have a few "Kilgornoch Supreme" coats, a rare blend of lambswool and kid mohair, loomed by Avers of Scotland, exclusively for Gordon. So if you are thinking of a winter coat, call in at Evelyn's, where you will find petite, half and regular sizes.

From Italy, we have large bags of antique leather and whether you are gadding about town or around the world, these sturdy bags will stand up to hard wear. They come in black with gunmetal clasp, deep brown and oakleaf. We also have a good selection of polished calf bags that anyone would be proud to wear, and the soft mello plastics at $5.95, plain or with tapestry are outstanding in styling and value.

A good stock of casual and dressy gloves always on hand.

See you at Evelyn's.
