Skatepark needed, parents say

To The Editor:
Hey Marilyn, remember me? We met while you were campaigning for Mayor of Halton Hills. I was picking up garbage on Mountainview Rd. in front of St. Andrew's United Church. You handed me a pamphlet and applauded my efforts to keep the town clean.

Now I need your help! Or should I say our boys need your help!

We need a safe, clean environment for our boys to skateboard.

It is imperative that we no longer procrastinate in finding them a suitable place to practise this sport.

There is a place in Cambridge called Nowhere Skate Park. It is located in the Karl Homuth Arena.

Helmets, elbow pads and knee pads are mandatory and are gladly worn by our boys. This skateboard park has been in operation for five years.

Thursday there were approximately 20 boys skateboarding and rollerblading. Five of them were from Georgetown, all 14 years of age. We need a place like this.

Skateboarding is not going to go away and hopefully, neither will our young boys. They need our support at this awkward age.

If you would like their opinions, you can find them at Holy Cross School on Maple Ave. They have been given permission to skate there, for now.

project that will replace the existing two-lane road with a single-span a four-lane structure.

At 7 p.m. Monday night Mardave Construction site supervisor Flemming Stipsen said crews were ready to right the toppled crane and then move it from the site.

"Drillco will remove this crane and move a new one in to complete the job. We will lose one day's work because of this accident," Stipsen said, rejecting a request to interview the crane operator, noting "that there's a lot of money sitting there and he's trying to get this cleaned up."

Stipsen refused to speculate on how the accident occurred.

Couple faces charges

Metro Toronto Police allege the couple was working with a Bell employee, processing false claims and transferring the money to a private bank account over a five year period.

The Georgetown couple is charged with fraud, laundering criminal proceeds and the acceptance of a secret commission.

Our best salespeople don't even work for Saturn. They just happen to own Saturns. Which explains why most people who come to look at our cars already know a fair bit about them. From their neighbours, co-workers or friends.

So we never have to push our rust and dent-resistant polymer panels, our no-dicker-with-the-sticker policy and our commitment to customer service. After all, that would be giving you something you don't really need. A sales pitch.

A DIFFERENT KIND OF COMPANY. A DIFFERENT KIND OF CAR.
