

Mayor's intervention requested in dispute

Halton Hills Village Homes (HHVH) officials will be invited to meet with the mayor to discuss delays with their proposed plaza on the corner of Mountainview and Argyll Roads in Georgetown South.

Ward 4 Councillor Ron Chatten requested Mayor Marilyn Serjeantson's help because HHVH "don't seem to be co-operating" in beginning construction.

"You could cut down on an awful lot of the traffic going back and forth on Mountainview [if the plaza was open]," Chatten said, adding there are people ready to rent the stores.

"I know we have no clout, but if the mayor could call a meeting we could begin to meet the people's needs there," Chatten said, suggesting in the future the Town do what Brampton does - insist that facilities like plazas be built when a certain number of houses are built in a large development, not when the subdivision is complete.

McGilvray Crescent work to be expanded

Halton Council is expected today to approve spending an additional $124,027 for extra work needed on McGilvray Crescent.

Although Halton's portion of the contract was to be for the waste water main only, on the assumption that the 40-year-old water main was in good condition and suitable for continued use, when construction began it was determined that a 400-metre section of the water main was much shallower than thought and it will have to be replaced.

Perplexing car thieves stump cops

Halton Regional Police, along with their colleagues in Woodstock, were left scratching their heads trying to figure out what reason some car thieves had when they absconded with several cars between Georgetown and Woodstock.

HRPS responded to a call that a 1995 Dodge Caravan had been stolen from the parking lot at Georgetown District Memorial Hospital in the early morning hours of Aug. 7.

Police report that an extra set of keys was located by the thieves inside the minivan.

Another van was found abandoned at Glen Williams park, after it had been stolen from a hilltop residence.

Police report a cinderblock was tied to the accelerator. The van was slipped into gear and left to roll down the hill, smashing through a fence before coming to a stop in the park. Shortly thereafter, a witness in Acton saw some youths exit a 1992 Dodge Spirit and enter a minivan on Poplar Avenue. Police investigators found the Spirit had been stolen from London earlier that day.

Sometime later, police were called to investigate the theft of a Plymouth Sundance, again from the GDMH parking lot. The vehicle was recovered the next day by Woodstock Police where they are investigating a series of thefts of vehicles from hospital parking lots.

While police have no suspects, they do have descriptions of two of three males wanted in connection with these crimes.

The first suspect is said to be heavy set in his late teens or early 20's, with dark skin, standing about 5'8" to 5'10".

The second suspect is reported to be Caucasian, with blond hair that is shaved at the sides and spiked on top, a slim build and about 16 year of age.

There is no description of the third suspect.

Local youth facing variety of charges

Halton Regional Police made an arrest in connection with an Aug. 29 incident involving two 15-year-old males on Church Street.

Police allege that a Georgetown youth grabbed an Oakville youth, forcing him to smoke a cigarette which contained an explosive device. The cigarette blew up in the youth's face causing minor injuries. The victim was then told to empty his pockets, having a quantity of money stolen from him. The suspect then threatened to beat up the victim.

Police report that the victim advised police of the incident, who executed an arrest warrant on Sept. 6.

A 15-year-old Georgetown youth faces a variety of charges including robbery, theft under $5,000, assault, uttering threats and breach of probation.

Exciting schedule at CVA

The Credit Valley Artisans 1996 Fall course schedule offers many exciting selections over a variety of dates for youths and adults, beginners and intermediates.

The CVA has secured the services of several talented instructors who are able to give guidance in arts such as pottery, weaving and stained glass, to name but a few.

Courses starting in early fall include Pottery for adults (beginner level), taught by Glynis Milligan, Colour Theory and Analysis/Multi-media approach: Introduction to the creative function of the brain, taught by George Rakus, and Decorative Stained Glass (beginner and intermediate), taught by Susan Kerr.

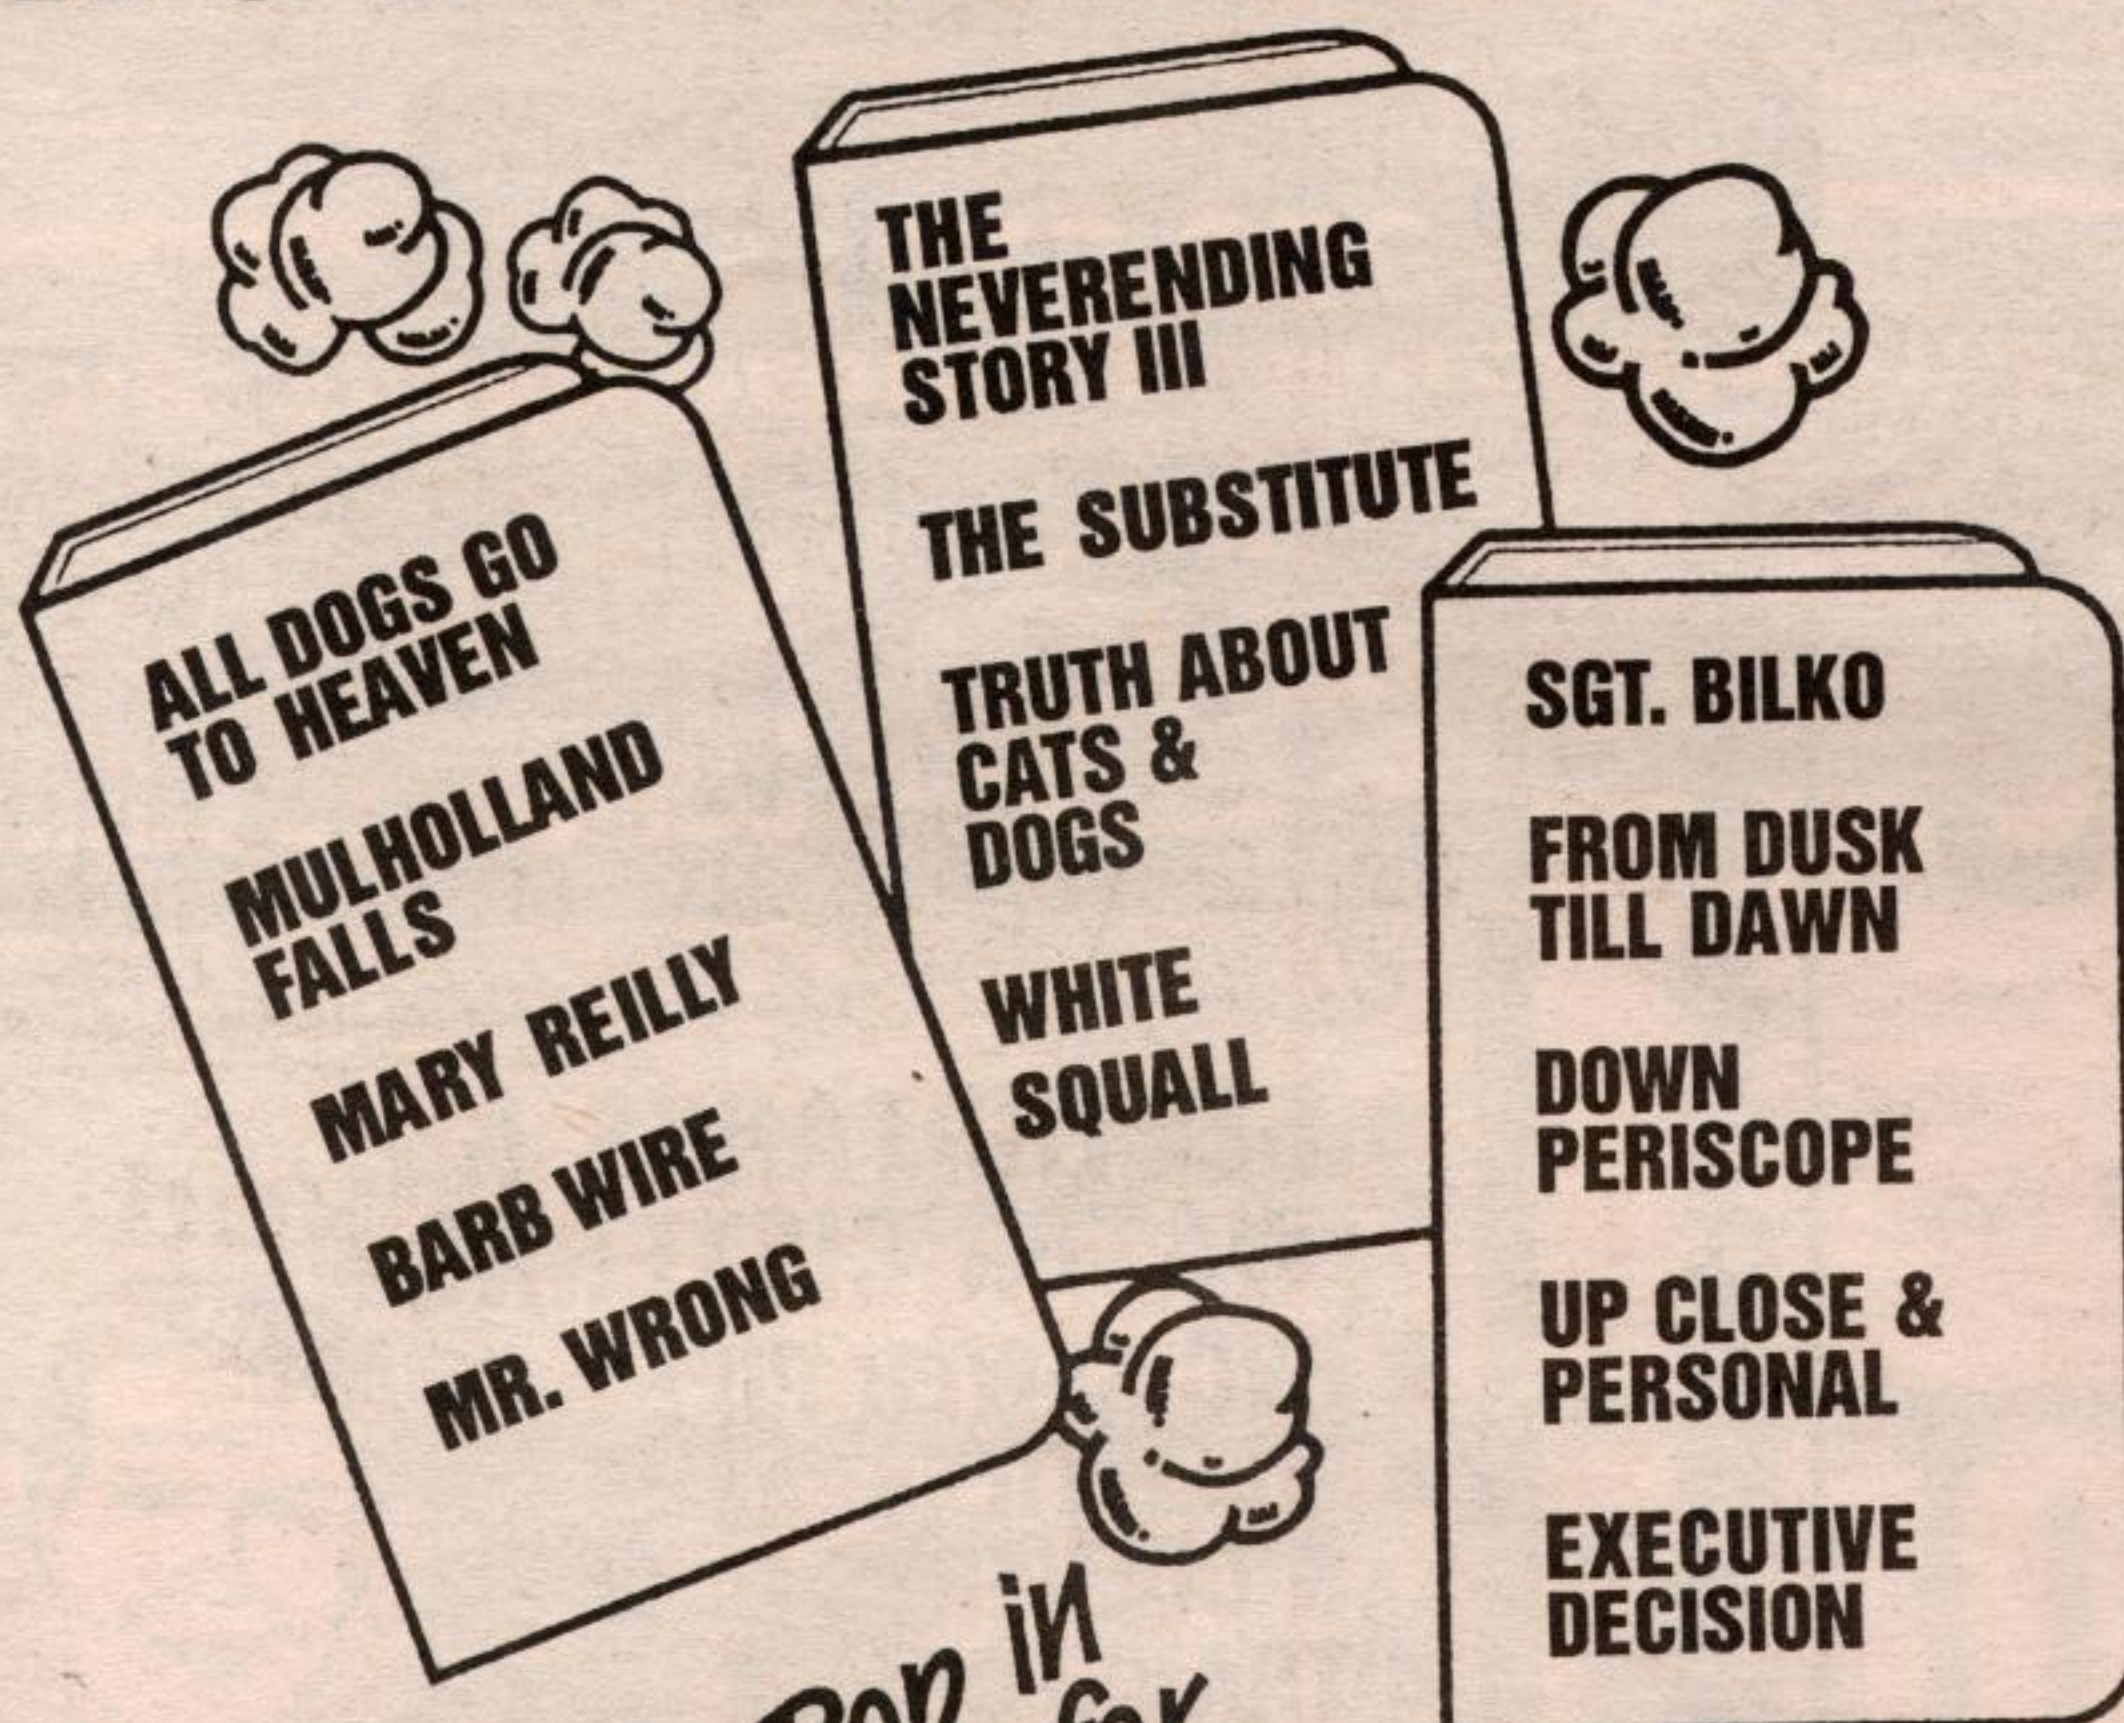

All classes are held at Cedarvale Cottage in Cedarvale Park, except the Colour Theory class, which will be held in the gymnasium at the Cedarvale Community Centre.

For further information and registration contact Susan Kerr at 877-4507.
