Georgetown Bulldogs club names new coach

The Georgetown Bulldogs Junior 'B' Lacrosse Club has announced the signing of Brampton native Ken Webster as the new head coach for the 1997 season. Webster takes over the reigns from Lindsay Sanderson of Orangeville, who has left to take over the head coaching job of the Canadian Champion Orangeville Junior "A" Northmen. Lindsay has also taken on the responsibility of General Manager with the team due to the resignation of former GM Bob Clevely.

Last year Lindsay guided the second year Bulldogs to the Ontario Junior "B" Tier II Championship and an overall record of 23-11, including playoffs.

Webster began his coaching career in 1979 with the Bantam team and won an Ontario Championship on his first try. He has also been successful in other centres, Clarkson and Caledon and many of the players he helped develop from a young age have gone on to successful Junior and Senior careers. Ken's last coaching job was with the Brampton Junior "B" Excelsiors from 1991-1993, before taking some time off.

Webster began playing lacrosse at an early age and brings his same style of play, determination and desire to his coaching. He had numerous awards and championships as captain of the Brampton Midget "A" team, including Ontario Champions in 1971. He continued his winning ways by capturing a championship with Junior "A" team in 1976 and with the Senior Excelsiors in 1977.

He also led his team in scoring in 1973 and was a Junior "A" First team All-star in 1974.

Bince relieved of Raider duties

"To the boys credit, they finished off the year without quitting," said former head coach and GM Bince.

Friday night at Burlington, the Raiders were forced to call up five players from the Halton Hurricanes, as a variety of players were suspended because of the bench clearing brawl a week earlier.

To add to his teams woes Bince was forced to use the Midget goalie after Billy Byron got hurt in warm up.

Adding to the Raiders already shortened bench were game misconducts to Curtis Carr and Dan Gilpin early in the first. Burlington took advantage by scoring four of their seven goals on the power play in the Raiders 7-2 loss.

Saturday at home, St. Michaels' exacted their revenge of a loss a week ago by beating the Raiders 10-1.

"No excuses it has been a tough year. Things definitely didn't go as well as we thought," said Bince.

Poulstrup hopes to have a new coach in place soon.

"Rick has been scouting the last month and a half so we are already behind. I hope the next coach we find will be given a reasonable mandate in turning this team around. The fans, sponsors and executives have to be patient," added Poulstrup.
