out this rule to the best of his ability. With this explanation, Mr. Hall consented to let the original amount stand. On motion, the assessment roll was then confirmed, and the court rose.

Council resumed. The Reeve in the chair. On motion, the annual monthly charge sum of $2 was granted to Mr. McPhee.

Mr. Seecord, Chairman of committee on streets and sidewalks, reported the improvements required this season, as follows:

1. Spruce's hill, which is in a bad condition owing to the great rocks, recommend that a drain be dug into the centre of the road, the strain to be from four to eight feet wide, and three feet deep, filled with stones and covered with earth.

2. Henty's hill—recommend that ditch be dug on each side of the road, leading down the hill, the earth taken from the top of the hill, the strain to be from six to eight feet wide, and three feet deep, filled with stones and covered with earth.

3. Recommended that the ditches on each side of railway track at western end of village be cleaned out, and the earth heaped into the centre of road.

4. Culvert, General Street, lower street, near the residence of Mr. Thos. Watson.

5. The Hill—recommend the cutting of trees and stumps, opening and clearing out in order to allow the water to pass off.

6. A small ditch is required near the residence of Mr. McPhee.

7. A culvert under the road near Mr. B. S. Armstrong's gate.

8. There are a number of other places where trees and stumps are growing or grazed with no care to be deposited.

9. Recommended that a plank sidewalk be constructed opposite the property of Messrs. Coxeter and McDonald. Also to construct a plank sidewalk near Campbell's Hotel to the rear entrance.

No action was taken on the above report.

It was laid over till next meeting.

On motion, the council adjourned till Thursday 29th June.

To the Editor of the Free Press:

Dear Sir.—Will you allow me the liberty of a few lines in your paper. If I am trying your patience, too much, I must apologize. I recently started the Temperance cause in my town, and am improving, and I hope in their behalf, (for I have reason to think they are more than we) that they may be successful. I am a member of the Temperance, if they will kindly impress it. I am held in mind to think that my movement was under the influence of Mr. F. G. Wijdows, who is now upon him. If he can do no harm of criticizing, and probably his assistants have friends that are loyal subjects to that cause, and I hope they may succeed.

I, too, very much regret that the work in your last does not depict his worthiness to appear in your paper, nor the man is no longer than the last time I saw him, will be placed in the paper, but perhaps he has been ill, and I am sorry for him.

He is a man of great worth, and probably his assistants have friends that are loyal subjects to that cause, and I hope they may succeed.

In the case of Mrs. Matthews against Dennis Kennedy, a report of which was published two weeks ago, the magistrate remanded his trial on Friday last, to send it to Milton for trial at the Fall Assizes. Mr. Kennedy entered into recognizance for his appearance.

—Mr. F. G. Wijdows delivered a letter to the Town Council Hall on Saturday evening, on the scenes witnessed by himself in the Town Central Prison. He related some very exciting incidents. The processions amounted to about 300 people in the benefit of the new Methodist Church building fund.

—A social will be given at the residence of Mr. Benj. Nicklin, on Wednesday evening, 14th inst., in aid of the new Methodist Church fund. Amongst other entertainments, there will be an electric. We trust it will be well attended, as we feel certain everything will be put up in excellent order.

New Buildings Consecrated.

Mr. Ramsay Adams speaks of putting up a two-story brick building on the vacant space between his residence and Mr. Storey's, for a store and dwelling. We learn from Mr. Robert Fisher that he intends to remove his thatch back and erect in its place a two-story brick building, to be used by himself as a store and his son's dwelling. The tenders for Mr. McNaught's fine brick block are to be opened to-day, and we presume the work will be proceeded with at once. We hear of quite a number of other buildings under consideration.

—For all kinds of biscuits, good, fresh and cheap, go to Galloway Bros. Action Bakery.

Action Council.

The Council met in the Temperance Hall Saturday evening, according to public notice, and organized as a Court of Revision; but as the Hall had been engaged for a Retire the juries evening, they resolved to adjourn till Monday.

At the usual hour, Monday evening, the members of the Council assembled at the Hall but couldn't get in for the want of a key, the caretaker having given it to one of the members of the band—this being their regular practice night. After waiting some time, the hall door was opened, and the band commenced their practice. At the request of the Reeve, however, the young men kindly gave up their right of possession, and the business of the Council was proceeded with.

Order of Letters.

Members addressed except Mr. Hamilton. Dr. McGivern was appointed chairman. They were only two letters of appeal from the assessors' roll—G. L. Beardmore for reduction of assessment on personal property, and a request from Messrs. Wilson & Johnson to have their names placed on the roll for property now occupied by them. The latter was granted without discussion. In Beardmore's case, Mr. Hall, agent, stated that he gave to the assessor a statement of the actual value of all hawks, bark and leather in and about the tannery, and that he had since understood that it was customary to assess for only about two-thirds of actual value. He wished to have the amounts reduced to a fair proportion with others. The chairman explained that this custom only applied to real estate; that the law required the assessing of personal property at its full value, except in cases where a considerable proportion of it was not paid for. The Assessor stated that he had invariably carried out this rule to the best of his ability.

With this explanation, Mr. Hall consented to let the original amount stand.

On motion, the assessment roll was then confirmed, and the court rose.

THE

POST OFFICE CASH STORE,
ACTON, ONT.

On beginning the business of 1876, I would return sincere thanks to my numerous customers for the liberal support they have given me during the past 22 years, and again I most respectfully ask a continuance of their respective support. During my experience in business I have prudently sought out the best.

It is a fact that I have never been beaten in price by any one in the town, and I have always been equal to the best.

I have a large quantity of goods in stock, and I am prepared to meet any emergency.

—We take no offence with what we pay for, for we are not afraid to compete.
