Tpset and Runaway. Yesterday, about noon, Mr. Richar Hemstreet, of Trafalgar, was passing through this village, in a buggy, and when near the Mill street railway cross ing, his horse was startled by a shrill whistle from an engine at the tank, and suddenly wheeling around, the buggy was partly upset. Mr. Hemstreet and his son were both thrown violently to the ground, and sustained slight injuries. After running helter-skelter down Mill street and turning the corner at Secord's store, the horse was caught before any further damage was done.

Acton Council. The Council met last Thursday evening, at the usual hour. All the members present except Mr. Hamilton. The minutes were read and approved. Mr. Christie, chairman of the special com mittee to make enquiries respecting the road allowance leading towards Nassagaweya, reported that they had meas ured the road and found it to be only from 25 to 30 feet in width between th village and the Nassagaweya town-line, whereas the result of their investigations and scartching of maps in the office of the Esquesing township clerk, had shown that the original allowance was 40 feet. On motion of Mr. Secord, seconded by Mr. Christie, a committee was appointed to confer with the Township Council in regard to having the road done, except granting $1 to John Mc-

The Marriage Vow.

To the Editor of the Free Press. As I and about to take a very impor tant step in life, I write you to ask who were the framers-of the marriage yow. I know they were not ladies, and that is some satisfaction, but not sufficient would like to know their names, 3:37 a.m. want to be as personal as possible, for 9:10 a.m. | they have made it a very personal matter to me, just now at least, and not wishing to "go it blind," I have taken the trouble to look into this matter a little, and I fear it will perhaps be a personal matter all my life, that is ununless I docamp the night before my marriage, which thought I pray may be forgiven me, as I have no real intention of carrying it out. I said I wanted to know their names, for I must needs let off a little of the strain of my wrath at them. Why have ladies been silent in the past, suffering much and suffering long? (I have seen that remark somewhere before.) Why have they been willing to take down such a word as "obey" and never raise their voise against those lords of creation who presume to ask such a thing. for one will not be surprised if that word chokes me yet. I never think t but my thyroid, cricoid crico-thyroid and arytenoid muscles are stretched to their utmost tension. What will it be when I go to pronounce it and that before all my blood relations. I shudder at the possible result. But as I said before I am a lady of honor and there is no chance to back out. It is a vain thought, but if, if I had only reflected calmly sooner. No Old Bankrupt Stock to Palm Off.

1834 Cases and Bales of Fanoy and Staple Dry Goods at Prices that will astonish the People.

These are times that people must have good, sound and honest goods in return for their money; [moth eaten and bankrupt stuff won't do for the present intelligent day]. I have had to come to the resche before to day; and now that the Trade of duelph requires regulating, I am again called in to battle against high prices, inferior classes of goods and old fogy notions. I have this day marked off An Immense Quantity of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods,

And I will astonish the inhabitants at the cheapness of really first class goods. Don't delay, but call and be satisfied. Millinery.
