

THE ACTON FREE PRESS.

ACTON, ONT., THURSDAY, AUGUST 17, 1876.

$1.00 per annum in Advance.

BUSINESS CARDS

W. H. LOWRY, M. D., M. C. D. S. Graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons...

D. E. MORROW, Plasterer. Main Street, Acton, Ont.

JAMES MATTHEWS, Counsellor at Law. 101 Main Street, Acton, Ont.

D. HENDERSON, Conveyancer. 101 Main Street, Acton, Ont.

JOHN MCKINDLEY, Attorney at Law. 101 Main Street, Acton, Ont.

J. D. MATHESON, Attorney at Law. 101 Main Street, Acton, Ont.

APPLEBEE & SIMPSON, Attorneys at Law. 101 Main Street, Acton, Ont.

W. M. LAIDLAW, Carriage-maker. 101 Main Street, Acton, Ont.

HENRY L. DRAKE, Insurance Agent. 101 Main Street, Acton, Ont.

PATENTS FOR INVENTIONS. Acton, Ont.

WILLIAM WATKINS, Carriage-maker. 101 Main Street, Acton, Ont.

MRS. S. CURTIS, Teacher. 101 Main Street, Acton, Ont.

OLIVER GRIFFIN, Plasterer. 101 Main Street, Acton, Ont.

ACTON FLOUR MILLS, Acton, Ont.

ROBINSON HOUSE, Acton, Ont.

DOMINION HOTEL, Acton, Ont.

W. H. HENSTRIDGE, Licensed Auctioneer. Acton, Ont.

PURE MILK, Acton, Ont.

MILTON PLANING MILLS, Acton, Ont.

J. R. MITCHELL, Manufacturer of Sash, Doors, Blinds, Mouldings, Door and Window Frames, Pickets, etc.

Practical Bookbinder. Acton, Ont.

TROLLOPE CHAPMAN, Ruling Promptly Attended to.

SEND 25 CENTS for P. HOWLAND & CO. New York.

DOMINION HARNESS SHOP.

The subscriber begs to announce to the inhabitants of Acton and vicinity that he has commenced the harness business in the Old Post Office Building...

MILL STREET, ACTON. Hereo Blankets, Whips, Brushes, Combs, Trunks, &c.

Repairing promptly attended to. Give me a call and be convinced.

J. P. DEMISEY, Acton, Nov. 23, 1875.

STOVES AND TINWARE!

Wilson & Johnson's. Always in Stock.

Particular attention paid to BAVETROUGHING.

Call and see Es. 3 MILL STREET, ACTON.

W. R. WILSON & J. H. JOHNSON, Acton, April 11, 1875.

ACTON PLANING MILLS

Manufactured of Pump, Sash, Door and Blind Factory.

THOMAS EBBAGE, Manufacturer of Window Sash, Doors, Venetian Blinds Mouldings, and other Building Requisites.

Improved SECTION PULPERS Lumber Planed and Dressed to order in the best manner.

All work guaranteed. Acton, Jan. 1876.

Wagon and Carriage FACTORY.

JAMES RYDER, Proprietor. Wagons, Carriages, Sleighs, Cutters, &c.

Kept in stock and made to order on the Shortest Notice.

Strict attention paid to Horse-shoeing & General Jobbing and satisfaction guaranteed.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE ACTON FREE PRESS.

Only One Dollar a Year. $5 to $20 per day at home.

SEND 25 CENTS for P. HOWLAND & CO. New York.

CHEAP BREAD FOR THE MILLION

I would explain that I tell this tale as it was told to me, suppressing real names and altering scenes, according to the promise I have made.

B. & E. NICKLIN, Begs to announce that they have secured the services of a First-Class Baker.

Wedding Cakes, Tea Cakes, Pastry, Buns, &c.

The performance of the public is respectfully solicited.

Acton, Feb. 29, 1876.

GUELPH ARMORY.

Guns, Smith, Silver-Plater, &c.

Hatch's Block, Acton, Ont.

AMMUNITION FOR ALL BREECH LOADING ARMS.

Wanted: 1000 Cords of GOOD HEMLOCK BARK.

FIVE DOLLARS PER CORD At the Acton Tannery.

J. P. ALKAN, Acton, Jan. 1876.

WANTED. 1000 Cords of GOOD HEMLOCK BARK.

FIVE DOLLARS PER CORD At the Acton Tannery.

J. P. ALKAN, Acton, Jan. 1876.

UNDERTAKING. The undersigned begs to inform the people of Acton and vicinity that he will furnish all Requisites in Undertaking.

He kept his promise, and he had his reward. Annie was even more than usually bright and loving all the rest of that evening.

Now staying on a visit at the home of her betrothed is both useful and charming; useful, because it gives you an insight into her character which is not to be gained out in society; and charming—well, there is no need to elaborate that cause. But it does not conduce to close study.

He kept his promise, and he had his reward. Annie was even more than usually bright and loving all the rest of that evening.

Now staying on a visit at the home of her betrothed is both useful and charming; useful, because it gives you an insight into her character which is not to be gained out in society; and charming—well, there is no need to elaborate that cause. But it does not conduce to close study.

He kept his promise, and he had his reward. Annie was even more than usually bright and loving all the rest of that evening.

Now staying on a visit at the home of her betrothed is both useful and charming; useful, because it gives you an insight into her character which is not to be gained out in society; and charming—well, there is no need to elaborate that cause. But it does not conduce to close study.

He kept his promise, and he had his reward. Annie was even more than usually bright and loving all the rest of that evening.

Now staying on a visit at the home of her betrothed is both useful and charming; useful, because it gives you an insight into her character which is not to be gained out in society; and charming—well, there is no need to elaborate that cause. But it does not conduce to close study.

He kept his promise, and he had his reward. Annie was even more than usually bright and loving all the rest of that evening.

Now staying on a visit at the home of her betrothed is both useful and charming; useful, because it gives you an insight into her character which is not to be gained out in society; and charming—well, there is no need to elaborate that cause. But it does not conduce to close study.

He kept his promise, and he had his reward. Annie was even more than usually bright and loving all the rest of that evening.

Now staying on a visit at the home of her betrothed is both useful and charming; useful, because it gives you an insight into her character which is not to be gained out in society; and charming—well, there is no need to elaborate that cause. But it does not conduce to close study.

A MYSTERIOUS WARNING.

I would explain that I tell this tale as it was told to me, suppressing real names and altering scenes, according to the promise I have made.

B. & E. NICKLIN, Begs to announce that they have secured the services of a First-Class Baker.

Wedding Cakes, Tea Cakes, Pastry, Buns, &c.

The performance of the public is respectfully solicited.

Acton, Feb. 29, 1876.

GUELPH ARMORY.

Guns, Smith, Silver-Plater, &c.

Hatch's Block, Acton, Ont.

AMMUNITION FOR ALL BREECH LOADING ARMS.

Wanted: 1000 Cords of GOOD HEMLOCK BARK.

FIVE DOLLARS PER CORD At the Acton Tannery.

J. P. ALKAN, Acton, Jan. 1876.

WANTED. 1000 Cords of GOOD HEMLOCK BARK.

FIVE DOLLARS PER CORD At the Acton Tannery.

J. P. ALKAN, Acton, Jan. 1876.

UNDERTAKING. The undersigned begs to inform the people of Acton and vicinity that he will furnish all Requisites in Undertaking.

He kept his promise, and he had his reward. Annie was even more than usually bright and loving all the rest of that evening.

Now staying on a visit at the home of her betrothed is both useful and charming; useful, because it gives you an insight into her character which is not to be gained out in society; and charming—well, there is no need to elaborate that cause. But it does not conduce to close study.

He kept his promise, and he had his reward. Annie was even more than usually bright and loving all the rest of that evening.

Now staying on a visit at the home of her betrothed is both useful and charming; useful, because it gives you an insight into her character which is not to be gained out in society; and charming—well, there is no need to elaborate that cause. But it does not conduce to close study.

He kept his promise, and he had his reward. Annie was even more than usually bright and loving all the rest of that evening.

Now staying on a visit at the home of her betrothed is both useful and charming; useful, because it gives you an insight into her character which is not to be gained out in society; and charming—well, there is no need to elaborate that cause. But it does not conduce to close study.

He kept his promise, and he had his reward. Annie was even more than usually bright and loving all the rest of that evening.

Now staying on a visit at the home of her betrothed is both useful and charming; useful, because it gives you an insight into her character which is not to be gained out in society; and charming—well, there is no need to elaborate that cause. But it does not conduce to close study.

He kept his promise, and he had his reward. Annie was even more than usually bright and loving all the rest of that evening.

Now staying on a visit at the home of her betrothed is both useful and charming; useful, because it gives you an insight into her character which is not to be gained out in society; and charming—well, there is no need to elaborate that cause. But it does not conduce to close study.

He kept his promise, and he had his reward. Annie was even more than usually bright and loving all the rest of that evening.

Now staying on a visit at the home of her betrothed is both useful and charming; useful, because it gives you an insight into her character which is not to be gained out in society; and charming—well, there is no need to elaborate that cause. But it does not conduce to close study.

ACTON FREE PRESS

The subscriber begs to announce to the inhabitants of Acton and vicinity that he has commenced the harness business in the Old Post Office Building...

MILL STREET, ACTON. Hereo Blankets, Whips, Brushes, Combs, Trunks, &c.

Repairing promptly attended to. Give me a call and be convinced.

J. P. DEMISEY, Acton, Nov. 23, 1875.

STOVES AND TINWARE!

Wilson & Johnson's. Always in Stock.

Particular attention paid to BAVETROUGHING.

Call and see Es. 3 MILL STREET, ACTON.

W. R. WILSON & J. H. JOHNSON, Acton, April 11, 1875.

ACTON PLANING MILLS

Manufactured of Pump, Sash, Door and Blind Factory.

THOMAS EBBAGE, Manufacturer of Window Sash, Doors, Venetian Blinds Mouldings, and other Building Requisites.

Improved SECTION PULPERS Lumber Planed and Dressed to order in the best manner.

All work guaranteed. Acton, Jan. 1876.

Wagon and Carriage FACTORY.

JAMES RYDER, Proprietor. Wagons, Carriages, Sleighs, Cutters, &c.

Kept in stock and made to order on the Shortest Notice.

Strict attention paid to Horse-shoeing & General Jobbing and satisfaction guaranteed.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE ACTON FREE PRESS.

Only One Dollar a Year. $5 to $20 per day at home.

SEND 25 CENTS for P. HOWLAND & CO. New York.

A CHICAGO TRAGEDY.

A HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL KILLED BY A CITY OFFICIAL.

At a meeting of the City Council of Chicago on Monday night last a statement was read reflecting on the conduct of the Board of Education...

The statement opened with the broad assertion that "the principal and engineer-in-chief of all the disorders connected with the Board is Mrs. Sullivan, wife of the Secretary of the Board of Public Works."

Immediately upon the adjournment of the Council, Mr. Sullivan went home, told his wife what had occurred, and with her and a younger brother, went in a carriage to see Mr. Hanford, who was known to be the author of the statement...

Mr. Sullivan, he refused, and Sullivan knocked him down. A general melee occurred in the course of which, it is alleged, Hanford struck a revolver and fired at Hanford, inflicting a wound from which the latter died in thirty minutes.

Sullivan held the position of Secretary of the Chicago Board of Public Works. He has lived in Philadelphia, Detroit, and Texas. In Chicago he was for some years engaged as a reporter on the city press. His wife is a well known writer for newspapers and magazines.

KEEP YOUR TROUBLE SACRED.

A worthy wife of forty years' standing, and whose life has not all been made up of sunshine and peace, gave the following sensible and impressive advice to a married pair of her acquaintance...

"Preserve sacredly the privacy of your own house, your married state, and your heart. Let not father or mother, sister or brother, or any third person ever presume to come in between you two, or to share the joys or sorrows that belong to you two alone. With God's help, build your own nest, not allowing your dearest earthly friend to be confident of anything that concerns your domestic peace. Let moments of affliction, if they occur, be healed only once. Never, no never, speak of them outside, but to each other, confess, and all will come out right. Never let the morrow's sun find you reticent. Review and renew your vow; it will do you good, and thereby your souls will grow together, cemented in that love which is stronger than death and you will become truly one."

TO GET OUT OF DEBT.

To a young man in debt, Benjamin Franklin gave the following advice: Make full estimate of all you owe, and of all that is owing to you. Reduce the same to ten per cent as you can collect, renew your debts every year, and get the best security you can. Go to business, and be industrious; waste no idle moments; be very economical in all things; discard all pride; be faithful in your duty to God, by regular and hearty prayer—morning and night; attend church and meeting regularly every Sunday; and do unto all men as you would that they should do unto you. If you are too ready in circumstances to give to the poor, do whatever else in your power to do cheerfully, but if you can, help the poor and unfortunate.

FIRST FLOOR BEDROOMS.—If we had a house with a bedroom on the first floor, we would at once abolish the use of that room as a sleeping apartment, because we are satisfied that it is a wrong custom, it being far healthier to sleep upstairs. Many a family of which the members were suffering and weak in general, have been restored to a vigorous and healthy condition by following one advice, which was to remove their bedrooms upstairs. Let us have their beds, summer and winter, up; and the whole day to the fresh air from open windows (except, of course, when there is rain or mist), and also to have during the whole night one window partially open, even in winter, so as to allow fresh air to enter, and to let the air from the outside, during the day, be the same time, the precaution to have sufficient bed covering to secure warmth.—Prof. Underwood.

The total, when let adduce, lives many years. The totality never does. The latest economic for "idiot up" has assumed this form—"Oh, give us a four-bar rest!"

A GAY LOTHARIO.

Hamilton Spectator, Aug. 9.

One of the most peculiar cases that have come before the notice of the police authorities for some time was settled in the Police Court today. The particulars of this remarkable case are as follows: Something over a month ago a young man of rather respectable appearance, and who called himself Henry Love, came to reside in the neighborhood of Port Hope. He became acquainted with the family of a Mr. Brown living there, and in a short time succeeded in ingratiating himself into the good graces of Mr. Brown's daughter, Essie. Mr. Brown did everything he could to prevent the affair going too far, as he suspected Love was not what he ought to be. In vain he threatened to shoot the young gentleman, and he was rather disgusted and annoyed to find that Love had married his daughter. Two weeks afterwards the pair went to Toronto to spend the honeymoon. They arrived in that city on a Saturday evening, the 24th of June, and put up at the County Hall Hotel, No. 26 Kingston Street. He remained at the hotel with his wife all day Sunday, but on Monday morning it was discovered that he was missing, and making inquiry it was found that he had left the city altogether. This was not the worst of it, for Mrs. Love was not only left homeless, but also penniless. Her husband had taken her watch and three valuable rings, and all the money she had—a quarter of a dollar—out of her pocket. Mr. R. Dissette, the proprietor of the hotel, furnished her with funds to telegraph to her father, who immediately came up and brought his daughter home. Some weeks afterwards Dissette noticed in the Hamilton papers the report of the arrest of a man named Love on the charge of assault. He immediately telegraphed to Sgt. McMenemy to arrest him, that he knew no man named Love had been from the county, and was not noticed by the Hamilton police. He, however, shortly afterwards discovered the meaning of Dissette's telegram, telegraphing to the gentleman, and on Saturday afternoon the two went up to Lynden on the 3:30 train, and arrested Love at the house of James Patterson, Lynden. The parties returned to the city by the 5:20 train, and Love was immediately lodged in goal on a charge of kidnapping to support his wife. Sergeant McMenemy telegraphed, asked Mr. Brown to come up to Hamilton at once, and that gentleman, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Love, his son and Mr. Dissette, arrived in the city last evening. Mr. Brown had a very painful story for a father to tell. He had learned in the meantime that Love had several wives, and that he had been travelling through the county under several aliases. This is probably only too true, as it has been found that Love was briskly courting a girl near Lynden during the past few weeks, with, to all appearances, intentions of marrying her. Love employed Mr. Staffer and Mr. Cassellan as his counsel, and he was placed in the dock to stand his trial last evening at four o'clock. Mr. Lazier appeared for the prosecution. Love returned in this manner: Love to return to his wife and support her, depositing $500 in the hands of a third party as a guarantee of his good behaviour; also $50 in the hands of another party till he returned his wife's watch and rings. The judge then gave a charge of reading to support his wife. Sergeant McMenemy telegraphed, asked Mr. Brown to come up to Hamilton at once, and that gentleman, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Love, his son and Mr. Dissette, arrived in the city last evening. Mr. Brown had a very painful story for a father to tell. He had learned in the meantime that Love had several wives, and that he had been travelling through the county under several aliases. This is probably only too true, as it has been found that Love was briskly courting a girl near Lynden during the past few weeks, with, to all appearances, intentions of marrying her. Love employed Mr. Staffer and Mr. Cassellan as his counsel, and he was placed in the dock to stand his trial last evening at four o'clock. Mr. Lazier appeared for the prosecution. Love returned in this manner: Love to return to his wife and support her, depositing $500 in the hands of a third party as a guarantee of his good behaviour; also $50 in the hands of another party till he returned his wife's watch and rings. The judge then gave a charge of reading to support his wife. Sergeant McMenemy telegraphed, asked Mr. Brown to come up to Hamilton at once, and that gentleman, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Love, his son and Mr. Dissette, arrived in the city last evening. Mr. Brown had a very painful story for a father to tell. He had learned in the meantime that Love had several wives, and that he had been travelling through the county under several aliases. This is probably only too true, as it has been found that Love was briskly courting a girl near Lynden during the past few weeks, with, to all appearances, intentions of marrying her. Love employed Mr. Staffer and Mr. Cassellan as his counsel, and he was placed in the dock to stand his trial last evening at four o'clock. Mr. Lazier appeared for the prosecution. Love returned in this manner: Love to return to his wife and support her, depositing $500 in the hands of a third party as a guarantee of his good behaviour; also $50 in the hands of another party till he returned his wife's watch and rings. The judge then gave a charge of reading to support his wife. Sergeant McMenemy telegraphed, asked Mr. Brown to come up to Hamilton at once, and that gentleman, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Love, his son and Mr. Dissette, arrived in the city last evening. Mr. Brown had a very painful story for a father to tell. He had learned in the meantime that Love had several wives, and that he had been travelling through the county under several aliases. This is probably only too true, as it has been found that Love was briskly courting a girl near Lynden during the past few weeks, with, to all appearances, intentions of marrying her. Love employed Mr. Staffer and Mr. Cassellan as his counsel, and he was placed in the dock to stand his trial last evening at four o'clock. Mr. Lazier appeared for the prosecution. Love returned in this manner: Love to return to his wife and support her, depositing $500 in the hands of a third party as a guarantee of his good behaviour; also $50 in the hands of another party till he returned his wife's watch and rings. The judge then gave a charge of reading to support his wife. Sergeant McMenemy telegraphed, asked Mr. Brown to come up to Hamilton at once, and that gentleman, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Love, his son and Mr. Dissette, arrived in the city last evening. Mr. Brown had a very painful story for a father to tell. He had learned in the meantime that Love had several wives, and that he had been travelling through the county under several aliases. This is probably only too true, as it has been found that Love was briskly courting a girl near Lynden during the past few weeks, with, to all appearances, intentions of marrying her. Love employed Mr. Staffer and Mr. Cassellan as his counsel, and he was placed in the dock to stand his trial last evening at four o'clock. Mr. Lazier appeared for the prosecution. Love returned in this manner: Love to return to his wife and support her, depositing $500 in the hands of a third party as a guarantee of his good behaviour; also $50 in the hands of another party till he returned his wife's watch and rings. The judge then gave a charge of reading to support his wife. Sergeant McMenemy telegraphed, asked Mr. Brown to come up to Hamilton at once, and that gentleman, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Love, his son and Mr. Dissette, arrived in the city last evening. Mr. Brown had a very painful story for a father to tell. He had learned in the meantime that Love had several wives, and that he had been travelling through the county under several aliases. This is probably only too true, as it has been found that Love was briskly courting a girl near Lynden during the past few weeks, with, to all appearances, intentions of marrying her. Love employed Mr. Staffer and Mr. Cassellan as his counsel, and he was placed in the dock to stand his trial last evening at four o'clock. Mr. Lazier appeared for the prosecution. Love returned in this manner: Love to return to his wife and support her, depositing $500 in the hands of a third party as a guarantee of his good behaviour; also $50 in the hands of another party till he returned his wife's watch and rings. The judge then gave a charge of reading to support his wife. Sergeant McMenemy telegraphed, asked Mr. Brown to come up to Hamilton at once, and that gentleman, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Love, his son and Mr. Dissette, arrived in the city last evening. Mr. Brown had a very painful story for a father to tell. He had learned in the meantime that Love had several wives, and that he had been travelling through the county under several aliases. This is probably only too true, as it has been found that Love was briskly courting a girl near Lynden during the past few weeks, with, to all appearances, intentions of marrying her. Love employed Mr. Staffer and Mr. Cassellan as his counsel, and he was placed in the dock to stand his trial last evening at four o'clock. Mr. Lazier appeared for the prosecution. Love returned in this manner: Love to return to his wife and support her, depositing $500 in the hands of a third party as a guarantee of his good behaviour; also $50 in the hands of another party till he returned his wife's watch and rings. The judge then gave a charge of reading to support his wife. Sergeant McMenemy telegraphed, asked Mr. Brown to come up to Hamilton at once, and that gentleman, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Love, his son and Mr. Dissette, arrived in the city last evening. Mr. Brown had a very painful story for a father to tell. He had learned in the meantime that Love had several wives, and that he had been travelling through the county under several aliases. This is probably only too true, as it has been found that Love was briskly courting a girl near Lynden during the past few weeks, with, to all appearances, intentions of marrying her. Love employed Mr. Staffer and Mr. Cassellan as his counsel, and he was placed in the dock to stand his trial last evening at four o'clock. Mr. Lazier appeared for the prosecution. Love returned in this manner: Love to return to his wife and support her, depositing $500 in the hands of a third party as a guarantee of his good behaviour; also $50 in the hands of another party till he returned his wife's watch and rings. The judge then gave a charge of reading to support his wife. Sergeant McMenemy telegraphed, asked Mr. Brown to come up to Hamilton at once, and that gentleman, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Love, his son and Mr. Dissette, arrived in the city last evening. Mr. Brown had a very painful story for a father to tell. He had learned in the meantime that Love had several wives, and that he had been travelling through the county under several aliases. This is probably only too true, as it has been found that Love was briskly courting a girl near Lynden during the past few weeks, with, to all appearances, intentions of marrying her. Love employed Mr. Staffer and Mr. Cassellan as his counsel, and he was placed in the dock to stand his trial last evening at four o'clock. Mr. Lazier appeared for the prosecution. Love returned in this manner: Love to return to his wife and support her, depositing $500 in the hands of a third party as a guarantee of his good behaviour; also $50 in the hands of another party till he returned his wife's watch and rings. The judge then gave a charge of reading to support his wife. Sergeant McMenemy telegraphed, asked Mr. Brown to come up to Hamilton at once, and that gentleman, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Love, his son and Mr. Dissette, arrived in the city last evening. Mr. Brown had a very painful story for a father to tell. He had learned in the meantime that Love had several wives, and that he had been travelling through the county under several aliases. This is probably only too true, as it has been found that Love was briskly courting a girl near Lynden during the past few weeks, with, to all appearances, intentions of marrying her. Love employed Mr. Staffer and Mr. Cassellan as his counsel, and he was placed in the dock to stand his trial last evening at four o'clock. Mr. Lazier appeared for the prosecution. Love returned in this manner: Love to return to his wife and support her, depositing $500 in the hands of a third party as a guarantee of his good behaviour; also $50 in the hands of another party till he returned his wife's watch and rings. The judge then gave a charge of reading to support his wife. Sergeant McMenemy telegraphed, asked Mr. Brown to come up to Hamilton at once, and that gentleman, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Love, his son and Mr. Dissette, arrived in the city last evening. Mr. Brown had a very painful story for a father to tell. He had learned in the meantime that Love had several wives, and that he had been travelling through the county under several aliases. This is probably only too true, as it has been found that Love was briskly courting a girl near Lynden during the past few weeks, with, to all appearances, intentions of marrying her. Love employed Mr. Staffer and Mr. Cassellan as his counsel, and he was placed in the dock to stand his trial last evening at four o'clock. Mr. Lazier appeared for the prosecution. Love returned in this manner: Love to return to his wife and support her, depositing $500 in the hands of a third party as a guarantee of his good behaviour; also $50 in the hands of another party till he returned his wife's watch and rings. The judge then gave a charge of reading to support his wife. Sergeant McMenemy telegraphed, asked Mr. Brown to come up to Hamilton at once, and that gentleman, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Love, his son and Mr. Dissette, arrived in the city last evening. Mr. Brown had a very painful story for a father to tell. He had learned in the meantime that Love had several wives, and that he had been travelling through the county under several aliases. This is probably only too true, as it has been found that Love was briskly courting a girl near Lynden during the past few weeks, with, to all appearances, intentions of marrying her. Love employed Mr. Staffer and Mr. Cassellan as his counsel, and he was placed in the dock to stand his trial last evening at four o'clock. Mr. Lazier appeared for the prosecution. Love returned in this manner: Love to return to his wife and support her, depositing $500 in the hands of a third party as a guarantee of his good behaviour; also $50 in the hands of another party till he returned his wife's watch and rings. The judge then gave a charge of reading to support his wife. Sergeant McMenemy telegraphed, asked Mr. Brown to come up to Hamilton at once, and that gentleman, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Love, his son and Mr. Dissette, arrived in the city last evening. Mr. Brown had a very painful story for a father to tell. He had learned in the meantime that Love had several wives, and that he had been travelling through the county under several aliases. This is probably only too true, as it has been found that Love was briskly courting a girl near Lynden during the past few weeks, with, to all appearances, intentions of marrying her. Love employed Mr. Staffer and Mr. Cassellan as his counsel, and he was placed in the dock to stand his trial last evening at four o'clock. Mr. Lazier appeared for the prosecution. Love returned in this manner: Love to return to his wife and support her, depositing $500 in the hands of a third party as a guarantee of his good behaviour; also $50 in the hands of another party till he returned his wife's watch and rings. The judge then gave a charge of reading to support his wife. Sergeant McMenemy telegraphed, asked Mr. Brown to come up to Hamilton at once, and that gentleman, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Love, his son and Mr. Dissette, arrived in the city last evening. Mr. Brown had a very painful story for a father to tell. He had learned in the meantime that Love had several wives, and that he had been travelling through the county under several aliases. This is probably only too true, as it has been found that Love was briskly courting a girl near Lynden during the past few weeks, with, to all appearances, intentions of marrying her. Love employed Mr. Staffer and Mr. Cassellan as his counsel, and he was placed in the dock to stand his trial last evening at four o'clock. Mr. Lazier appeared for the prosecution. Love returned in this manner: Love to return to his wife and support her, depositing $500 in the hands of a third party as a guarantee of his good behaviour; also $50 in the hands of another party till he returned his wife's watch and rings. The judge then gave a charge of reading to support his