

A Cure for Rheumatism.

Some years ago, in Philadelphia, there was an old Irishman who made a great many cures of rheumatism by the following process:— Make a poultice of strong mustard, mixed with garlic, vinegar, and a few crumbs of bread or meat. Go to bed, have plenty of clothes placed over you to induce perspiration, and have this poultice placed about an inch thick, close to the hollow of your foot (no cloth between foot and poultice). Keep it on for ten or fifteen hours, then take off the poultice, and the cure is complete. Get an ounce of iodide of potassium, put it in a quart bottle of soft water, and take for a dose two-thirds of a common sized stem wine glass three times a day half an hour before meals. Avoid strong drink and gross diet. Should the glands of your neck get sore, you must reduce the dose. You must take regular rest, and take four bottles of the medicine before you stop, and then quit it for two weeks. Then take two bottles more, which will in all probability complete the cure. You must keep your bowels open. I would advise all rheumatics to try the poultice first, and if it fails to effect a cure, then to try the recipe which cured Mr. Rowell, of Louisville, Ky., a gentleman well known and highly respected in that city.

What is to be a verb. Never make a load on impurity. Never borrow money to speculate with. Avoid a second marriage or a fresh loan. He that maketh haste to be rich is not wise. A man must ask his wife if he may be rich. Keep well insured, and watch your policy. Never sacrifice safety to large expected returns. Directions for an Organ Recital. — Mind your steps. Be satisfied with a moderate rent from a good tenant. Little coins, like little drops of water, will fill a bucket. The gods help those who help themselves—men or women. Poverty is no bar to marriage if both parties will work and save. Never speculate deeper than you are able to lose if you lose it all. For what port is a man bound during courtship? — Bound to Have. Never loan a borrowing friend more than you are willing to lose if he can't pay. A Gump's shop is like a chicken pie, because it contains food in pieces. A lady hearing that that a tunnel cost 5,000 francs a yard, implored her husband to buy her a dress of that material. A fellow addicted to telling queer stories, said he saw a man beheaded with his hands tied behind him, who directly picked up his head, and put it in his shoulders in the right place. "How could he pick up his head when his hands were tied behind him?" "What a fool you are," said the story teller. "Couldn't he pick it up with his teeth?"

Ayer's Hair Vigor

For restoring to Gray Hair its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effective for preserving the hair.

It soon restores faded or gray hair to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed; but such as remain can be saved by this application, and stimulated into activity, so that a new growth of hair is produced.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

The restoration of vitality it gives to the scalp arrests and prevents the formation of dandruff, which is often so unpleasant and offensive.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit, but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre, and a graceful perfume.
