THE ACTON FREE PRESS.

Volume III. No. 59 - Whole No. 160

ACTON, ONT., THURSDAY, JUNE 13, 1873.

$1.00 per annum in Advar

THE ACTON

Is Published EVERY THURSDAY MORNING,

Free Press Building,

Next to the Post Office.

TERMS .- One dollar a year, strictly in advance. If not paid beforethree months one dottar an I'a half will be charged; or two dollars it not paid till the end of the year. Single copies three cents. No paper will be sent to any person more aan one Fearunpald. RATES OF TOVERTISING -Eight cents per line for arst insertion, and two cents per line for para subsequent insertion. Short advertisements of eightlines and under, $1 for three insertions. Business Cards of eight lines and under, $1 per A liberal discount allowed on advertisements inserted for axtended periods A ivertisements without special instruc-Any Special Notice, the object of which is to promise the preuntary benefit of any individual or company, to be considered an alvertisement. Transient advertisem besto be paid for when ordered. All advestising accounts readered quarterly. Notices of Births Marriages and Deaths inserted free. T. ALBERT MOORE

BUSINESS CARDS.

W. H. LOWAY, M. B. M. key leries street, with, a the h tately occurred by R. Livile, Bey, D. R. 49 13 217, Payet-Laga. New York, a sect of the few William Cologo, Caralla, Consultation days-Residence - West. Bower street, H3 VDZ 3337. Conveyancer, ac., assi Azini Cimal Life Astirance Co. Doods, Mortgages, and on responsible terms. Money to Lives on Morriging security. Officedi dente il dasse. Action.

D. HATHEIDA, Attorney-The tree of calculated Charles

T. W. CODELL.

Provincial Land Surveyor and Civil Engineer, Guelph. entities by mail moments strong tolita.

brands of my to sound clears. Farstenness i Simpling, and Calconites in Solies. House, six int d in the following Name of the Village.

HENRY L. DRAME.

INSTRACT AGONT, GUELDEL, faithfully attended to. Office at Dayle Bookstore, Guelph, Orders by mall will receive prompt attention.

DITENTS for INVENTIONS Put-ni g ciranterd or no charge, Send for printed fan-trueflohs. Varney inteper-ation ten years. HERKY GEIST. erranten, if courts Mechanica: Engineer, Soughtor pt Pa THIVER LOZIER. Plasterer. Plastering and Rangh-casting done of h · most re isonabig terms, and satisfac.

D.DASIN HOUSE, Acton. Excellent accommodation for the travel. Hag public. THOS, CAMPBELL, Propr.

D'SHINION HOTEL, Actond Travellers will find good accommodation an I commo tlous Sample Rooms, special | attention paid to the wants of the ravel-ling public. Bar supplied with the best Liquors and Cigurs. Gool Subling and attentive Hostlers. WH. HEHSTREET.

Licensed Auctioneer For the Counties of Wellington and 'Halon. Orders left at the Fare Press Office, Action, or at my rasidence in a Rockword, will be promptly attended to.

TOTHE PUBLIC OF ALL NA-If you want a good AUCTIONEER try GEORGE GIBBS,

He understands his business. Nuft said. Address Hillsburg P. Q.

TOTICE.

The untersigned begs leave to an nounce to Farmers, and others engreed in butter making who purpose getting a new Churn that they would consuit A. Holmes' Improved Tubular Dash Charns. I am now taking orders for them, having purchased the patent right to manufacture and sell. They are without doubt the best in the market. Your patronage is respectfully solicited. Circulars and testimonials free on arbitcation. Territory for sale. Manufactured and sold by D. L. MCDONALD.

BEATTY'S

PIAN & PARLOR ORGAN INSTRUCTOR

no book accounts." Every instruthe player in the art of music either on from 5 to 15 days' test trial, ages were announced Mr. Arteman able to escape, fell in warm tear and yet dying because his speech the windows. We were snowed Beaconsfield direct with her, and ages were announced Mr. Arteman able to escape, fell in warm tear and yet dying because his speech the windows. We were snowed Beaconsfield direct with her, and ages were announced Mr. Arteman able to escape, fell in warm tear and yet dying because his speech the windows. We were snowed Beaconsfield direct with her, and ages were announced Mr. Arteman able to escape, fell in warm tear and yet dying because his speech the windows. ment is fully warranted for six years] plane of organ) to which is added over on from a to 15 days test trail, entered the room and gazed anxious drops on the was locked; the pressure on the up in the cutting on the top line, she urged him to sight. "You prove Waltzes, Polkas, Marches, Galops money refunded and freight paid entered the room and gazed anxious. Operatic Metodies, Dances, etc., by Dank both ways by him if they are usatis. ly round. For some minutes he carpet. The engineer let the brain was not yet unloosed; and Another train, yours probably, was have, she said, "the Queen with they are usatis. ly round. For some minutes he carpet. lel F. Beatty. Washington. New Jersey, factory. Send for Illustrated Answard the boiler run empty, and sent his firetroduced, and should be in the hands of ventiser (Catalogue Edition) and bis quest, but at last found him man back to the last station for the sent postevery plane and organ player. Sent postevery plane and organ player. Sent post-cad testimonials from his patrons, canada for only fifty cents the pi'ce some of whom you may know. Ad-baying been rejuced to introduce it dress DANIEL F. BEATTY Washeverywhere. Address DANIEL F. lington, New Jersey. REATTY, Washington, New Jersey.

A CTON BAKERY

GUELPH,

Seaside Libraries, i Lakeside Labraries, Fireside Libraries,

Coy's Libraries, N. Y. Libraries. And all the Latest Novels. Jowel of a Girl, Woung

Masgrave. St. and exceed by Mail promptly at-

R. CREECH

THE ONTARIO

SADDLERY

ACTON.

3 All parties intending to purchase Harne's should do so at once before the rush commences in order to secure a good set.

Acton. Jan. 7, 1878.

1.3

and most moderate terms.

Acton, Feb. 10, 1877.

Cadets, Coffins, Burial Robes,

And all kinds of Funeral Furnishings keptin stock, and supplied on the shortest notice.

Hat Binds and Gloves supplied when ean buy first-class Planos

JOHN SPEIGHT.

TEL ALBERT

· Take Rapids Greibe wining. Those wishing to learn

SHORT-HAND would do well to address S. W. GALBRAITH,

Free Press, Acto

and madly in love?"

completely upset." Are you ready?"

said Bertie, mournfully.

Arteman, in whose hisband's office | deep whistle. The engine stopped | master. Sense lay wrapped with. | doctor, 'you have slept for thirteen | ing, also, and just before the carri- upwards and disappeared, or, un- speak, dying to uttor his thoughts, You rolled down the bank into and Russia. The other day room, and beckoned him aside.

companion, Bortie rejoined Mr. shivering came one by one out at Dull to his cars arose the sound of graciously, 'you happened to be in Atteman in the dining room. The man who never had been to a show The Christian man who said his prayers And sowed his seed where sinful tares

Could choke it not. Sedate and calm, He loved good cider, a sermon, or a -- Read that And lived a life that was free from

As pure and spotless as his name. Now, of all the things which Jonatha And never under a bushel he hid The candle of virtue that burned in the Manchester office?" Of all good things, I repeat the best, late," said Bertie. As he frequently said, "a show is a Where the Devil himself is put to dis-

It happened that once a circus came To the village where Jonathan dwelt, and the same Was known as the Mighty Miraculous Egyptian Menagerie and Circus : And wonderful were the things, I wean, Which on the flaring bills were seen ; Lions and tigers and monsters im-

According to Jonathan's notion, was,

That he never had been to a show "Be-

THE FREE TICKET.

pious man was Jonathan Snow,

On the day that the show arrived, And the boys around the canvas hived, Jonathan Snow in the grocery store

Discoursed as he never discoursed be On the sinfulness of circus-es. Which are run by Satan, he said, to The wicked of earth, and lead them or to the ways of darkness, death and sin. " For it stands," said Jonathan Snow, "That them as finds delight in a show Murt be of the low vulgar kind, Without any piety into their mind,

But full of the sins of the flesh; and . I would sooner jump into the bottom-Than go to the Mighty Miracylous Egyptian Menagerie and Circus."

While Jonathan was thus moved to de chanced that a stranger came the store -A quiet, respectable chap, and he Belonged to the M. E. M. C.; He heard what Jonathan had to say, Thea smiled in sort of a peculiar way, And, drawing nearer, he said to Snow " My friend, here's a ticket to go to

The lard which the showman had par without loss of time tucked him they mounted the side of the cut- cold, but he was not dreaming. There was only one occupant of the upon a corn may cure it in a few in his hand; Then he laid it away in his pocket with temarked as he sauntered out of the Greatust

Buy your Harness at the Catario And, glancing around with a pious air, " I never attended a cirkis afore, Dat I reckon that now I'll have to go,

As I've got a free ticket to this here

SNOWED UP From the Cassell's Magazine.)

"Why so, my dear fellow?" ingu'red a cheery voice at the door. Charley, is that you? Come in: shall be ready in five minutes."

Having arranged his tie to satisfaction, be repeated : "Yes, believe I am the most unlucky fel low in London, at any rate." "What is the matter?" inquired

" My dear Bertie, if I were you, I should wait till the lady and party and ascertain your chance." rounding neighborhood that he has "But they do not come to Lon procured a magnificent HEARSE

And is prepared to attend and con- don; at least not to stay; so I am duct Funerals on the shortest notice "It will come all right old fellow.

"Yes; it is time to be off. I do not feel at all inclined to go, though,"

Bertie Tyrrell was, or flattered him- short and pushed up a six foot in the brain and behind the sullen- hours. self he was, a shining light. Mr. mound of snow, melting it for one ly closed lips. Speech was there, Arteman and Bertie's family had brief minute; the water dushed at but somehow it could not force its reply. been friendly for years, and the its enemy, fire, and hissed its ven- way through the stubborn lips. young man was rapidly making his geance in its burning ears. The The ears were open to catch the I get here? I remember being in way to a junior partnership. He fiery foo collapsed; the mighty slightest sound, and eagerly they the snow. I think I fellto 1, New Jersey, than any had the credit of being very trust- monster lay imbedded in the drift, drank it in, but the shaken nerves States Why? Because he sells qualities which he took card to only for cash, takes no risks and has cultivate

Bertie, as he returned the paper, darkly like an immense hole cut in What do you intend to do, sir? white paper, a biting wind and probably a doctor, How can we restore confidence in " By sending you down," replied

"Therefore you must go to night, ers, and all men.

Arteman. "I've shad your bag aloud to his fellow passengers! to send Collins to your lodgings for are we, ghard ? your morning dress. I have a cab 'Atween Ambergate and Mat- segmed to hold him in thrall as he me special directions to let her at the door. Here are ten pounds lock-but don't know exactly lay there supine on the soft cush- papa know who you were. This is And the price of admission was fifty in gold. Run up stairs and change where though, gentlemen. Ask ions. -take a bit of supper first though. Ben.'

The Pullman train from St. Paneras on his venturous expedition.

"Cut me a couple of ham sand sinking deeply at every step, but still making progress. wiches while I dress" along the Easton road to the Mid desolation. The wind was bitter of the car he had felt, or funcied, London - Good night.

warm and comfortable compared faces, as by handfuls caught up by He was dreaming still. * * * and happy anticipations for toside. The Pullman car was at the gress.

But his dreams were pleasant, The sudden ease with which inquired Bertie faintly. was burning dimly. The steady | Where was the railroad? They round nicely.' him the train was still rushing the two elder travellers determined Bertie. through the stormy night. Some- to remain where they were shelterthing fell on the lamp-there it ed comparatively behind the hedge, tion.

lucky fellow in the world," said lattice over his bed. It was snow ! dreak. Bertie rashly made up his once.-Help me up please." TAKICRAFY Ber ie Tyrrell half aloud as he tied "Pleasant night," he thought. mind to return in his tracks, "My der sir, it is quite impost moment into these eyes of liquid extracted, and sugar to your taste which were plainly discernable, and sible to move you. You have had blue the eyes love to do and drink. Another use of lemons I'll have another nap. of his could induce Somnus to pay he acted upon his resolution. Bertie turned, still holding his him a second visit. The chill feeling he had before experienced com- chester. If he did not succeed in man. You cannot be moved.'

pelled him to put on his wraps, averting the impending crash there, This was decisive, and the doc- in his arms. My darling ! was He got up, took a sip of brandy, all his prospects would be ruined. tor left the berth. Yet, as soon as all he could sav. and went out upon the platform to His hopes of ever winning his lady his back was turned Bertie made | She struggled to free herself little snow storms came up from all He must succeed, though he per- was acute. He at once perceived shell-like ear close to his lips, the dust, | Bertie was fascinated. Past his duty, whatever happened, "Well, you see I've just had sleeping towns and willages, past | So he manfully struggled on-at wisely he determined to await sweet consent told all the rest. another letter from my sister saying black chimneys vising into the times up to his knees in snow; events. His thoughts naturally When Mr. Patterson came half that Miss Patterson is about to leave mucky sky from white, unsullied once completely buried in the dwelt upon the happy vision he an hour afterwards be found a pros-Marchmount and proceed to the roofs, past close shut windows, drift; he fell down, down, until had seen, and he foolishly accepted pective son in law seated on the South of France, (mother's not well | 'neath whose sashes the rielding nothing but a small star was this as an omen favorable to his sofa holding his daughter's hand. I believe.) You know I intended but restless snow wormed itself visible overhead! The snow kept ultimate happiness. At length he Explanation ensued, the apphot to go down this week and put inyself like the herring bones and hung closing in .- He breathed hard up fell asleep. out of my pain. Charley, I do love outside in snow dissolving flakes wards toward the hole. (His He awoke very hungry and saw quired a change to the south of that girl, and Charley, I must marry for King Frost to weld closer. hands were fastened to his side by the doctor at his side. He put out France. He was married in the right. Past a huddling heap of humanity, pressure of the drift.) By breath his hand, which Bertie took and ensuing summer; and he always beneath the shelter of the embank | ing bard at the tiny hole it became | clasped warmly to his own. The | considers that he owes his present "But I say it is not well. Charles ment, on which the merciless though larger, and larger. The snow melt- kind doctor made a careful examin happiness to being snowed up.

Fletcher, you are a fish, a cold tenderly falling winding sheet was ed, and he got a hand free. At ation of his patient and then said : blooded animal. How can you talk surely wrapped. Past all these and length he got his head out and 'You are much better this evenlike that when I am really, truly many more sights did the Pullman after a severe struggle he fell for ing. I am glad to tell you, and as car rush and scream, and yet no ward, half insensible from cold and soon as the stiffness wears off you stopping for the train. But ten nervous exhaustion. He rolled will be all right. I may tell you niles further on the trap was laid. over the harder snow for a space; | row that we had a telegram | Disinclined to part with either, he come to London, and then see her In a deep cutting, the northern down, down-it seemed as if he from Mr. Arteman. He is at wind and drifting clouds conspired | would never stop-a hard; sub | Manchester, so your natural anxto do battle with the boasted power | stance received him-a crash of | iety may be allayed.' of man. Lie closer still, O drift ! glass or ice, a moment afterwards 'Thank you,' exclaimed Bertie, Blow fiercer, still, O wind! Ye wait fell upon his half unconscious cars, with fervor. "You have indeed the daring monster who boasts he and he lay insensible on the put my mind at ease.' can outstrip the wind, and rattle ground. A light was burning wildly o'er the snow-clad fields. steadily over his head.

A roar through a tunnel-Bertie had again turned in-the train em- but the clay tenement refused to were asleep.' Bertie started, as A dinner party was given by Mrs. | erged. It slackened speed; a long, | acknowledge the presence of the | well he might. 'Yes,' said the noisy in its protests.

Clouds of steam, anxious to be Many people came in the even- free from that fatal cutting, rushed | -dead, and yet alive; ready to don't understand you now.'

move his hands and could feel that the river, my lad.'

grudgingly as yet.

the end platform of the train, ask- those horrible, whirring carriage the train, doctor.' "Is there anything the matter, ing questions and not waiting for wheels. It seemed to him as if he | 'You have not to thank me so replies. No need to ask what was were back again in the failway much as Mr. and Mrs. Patterson,

"Yes, Bertie, I am afraid there the matter a second time. The carriage, en route to Manchester. They telegraphed to Mr. Artematic helpless, lighted train glowed like Still people were about him. Mr. Arteman put a telegram into a long lighthouse beneath the snow Feminine fingers ministered to him | Bertie, sitting up regardless of his clad embankment. A bank in -- that gentle touch just now was bruises .- Patterson, did you say ? "This looks quito serious," said front, a tunnel behind yawning very different from the other tender 'Yes; do you know them? They finger tips of some good Samaritan, did not seem to recognize you. driving snow, told the tale all too

The subtle odor of the lady's terson -I -' presence clung sweetly around 'Whew!' was all the doctor Snowed up? Not a doubt of it. Bertie as he lay sensible to what answer. When could assistance arrive! passed, but unable to form a word, | "What! Is there a Miss Patter "But to-morrow will be too Were there any lidies in the train I or look his thanks, or even recog- 1 son I Is she here I Is the was she No ladies; only twenty-two tarvel- nize the gentle care.

quarter to four. He must get on, for a second photographed upon self.' "Oh! dear no," replied Mr. and he expressed his determination his brain. No-it was gone-a Where it she, doctor? Did she Yes, wasl that's the way this ere moment more and the dull whirr leave a message ? packed already. I took the liberty 'I will accompany you -wne e of the revolving wheels, the even The doctors's eyes twinkled.

But this could not last. By He gave Bertie an envelope, who 'Ben,' the engine driver, inform- slow degrees the brain resumed its read, 'Harvey Patterson, Esq., at ed them that they were about an sway. He opened his eyes. --- Hotel, London, till Friday "And it is now cleven," said hour and a quarter's run from Things were very dull to him, and noon. Bertie, looking at his watch. Manchester, and added a word of the cold, chill hand of death ap- What is to day? inquired Ber-"What sort of a night is it, Col caution. But Bertie was deter parently, was on him. He could tie. mined to push on, and, accompanied not move his head, but as he gazed 'This is Thursday. It is seven "It shows very fast, sir," replied by two other passengers, he started with dull, half open eyes, the c'clock a.m.' vision of his love rose up to bid then and put a half-dozen cigars in stoppage of the line would be tele- him! yes, it bent down, and shall go to London to-morrow.' my coat pocket-and, I say, Col- graphed by this time, and, perhaps, | breathing a soft petition for his | The doctor smiled. 'What, and a train in waiting to take them on. recovery, then vanished. So they stepped manfully out, Whirr-whirr-whirr.

ly cold. Every now and then the seemed to cease. 'Hush!' some ' Good night.' And Bertie re-The immense terminus looked snow would be dashed in their one spoke. Bertie opened his eyes, signed himself to blissful thoughts with the wet and chilly night out spirit fingers to obstruct their pro- He lay upon a cushioned berth in morrow. a Pullman car. The lamp burned and if he had not been conscious they stopped now had had the very Hush, hush !' quite safe; do of the penetrating cold, he would opposite effect to what might not agitate yourself, replied the calmly, yet palpitation beneath a for a week, with or without sugar, have enjoyed a good rest. He reasonably have been expected doctor, as Bertie fancied the new well fitting dress to a woman's eye as they like, they would often find shivered and awoke. The lamp They knew they had strayed comer to be. 'We have got you would have betrayed a secret.

> kept quite quiet. We have tele- but only for a second. But he or in sickness at any time. Pre-His one idea was to reach Man- graphed particulars to Mr. Arte- could read.

love would be completely shattered, an effort to rise. With difficulty strongly at first; but as he whis As the train flew along the track, and what was life without love? he repressed a scream; the pain pered something in the crimson the wheels in clouds of powdered ished in the attempt; he would do that movement, even in bed, was pretty head sank upon his shoulder out of the question at present, so and the silence that gives such

'I was able to tell him there was no danger, so he went on this The spirit remained in the body, afternoon. He saw you while you

'Indeed!' was the patient's

'I should think you did,' replied other manufacturer in the United worthy and quick at the business - harmless as a fettered giant, but refused to listen, at least only the doctor. 'You came plump And thus lay Bertie in a trance 'I'm atraid I'm still confused, 1

Hastily apologizing to his fair The passengers awoke, and he was lying upon soft cushions. 'And very lucky,' said Bertie A Man who Never Told a Lie.

'Mr. and Mrs. who?' exclaim

'Yes-no-I know. Miss Pat-

in the train? Alice is her name.

But Bertie was due at his Man- and oh! how the vision of that you till I came. Her mother is an "To-night-go to Manchester to- chester office at nine o'clock that one fair face be loved hung over invalid rather. They were caught night!" exclaimed Tyrrell. "The morning. It was now about a his half unconscious brows, and was in the drift last night like your-motion of the Pullman car, all Well not exactly. But she gave

"Snows, does it ?" exclaimed |. Once out of the cutting they him welcome. Oh, lovely vision ! called the vision of the day before Bertie. "Better fill up the flask trusted to be free. Surely the it came nearer-it would touch while be lay half insensible. 'I leave Manchester business. seriously I think you scarcely fit Did he dream still ? No; voices to travel. Well, we shall see,' he distinctly fell upon his ears. continued, as Bertie moved his In tifteen minutes Bertie had e- The snow had ceased; the sky Where was he? A shrill whistle head impatiently. 'We shall see. ceived his last instructions from was clearing fast, and frostly look- suddenly broke the monotonous Keep quiet now, and I dare say Mr. Arteman, and was bowling ing stars peoped out to view the sound; the undulating movement you will be well enough to go to platform ready to start. There | For awhile they kept side by very dimly overhead. Daylight Westminster when Mr. Bertie were very few passengers. Birtie side. Struggling against the blast penetrated the curtains, around Tyrrell's card was taken into a number of ases to which it may be took a sleeping car ticket, and they pressed on till, unknowingly, him. He felt very weak and very private sitting room at the Hotel. putl: 'A piece of Lemon bound self comfortably in his berth. The ting and wandered far away across How had be got there? What had spacious room-a young lady whose days; it should be renewed night train soon started, and Birtie was a level field, and over the distant happened? Where was the snow? good, sensible and bright face and morning. A free ase of rapidly whitled into the land of hedge, covered up with newly He called out. A gentleman lightened with a softer expression lemon juice and shgar will always entered softly. 'Where am I? as she read the name of her relieve a cough. Most people feel whirr of the fast flying wheels told must regain it at any risk. But 'But where am I' persisted and quickly retired. The young recipe will sometimes cure conman waited till the door was closed 'You are at Ambergate Junc-) and, as Miss Patterson stood up with outstretched band, he took it to a boil; boil slowly till the "I believe I am the most un was again. It came through the in only a foot of snow, till day- 'I must go to Manchester at warmly. No word of greeting did lemons are soft, but not too soft, he speak. He only gazed for one then squeeze until all the juice is which were plainly discernable, and sible to move you. You have had blue-the eyes grew tender, and Easier said than done. No effort, against the advice of his comrades a very severe fall, and must be then the shading lashes trembled,

Without a word he clasped her

Very nicely sold were a couple of trainps who waylaid a wealthy farmer in Louisa county, Iowa, and demanded his money or his life. took to his heels. They chased. him half a mile down the roughest of lanes, dashed after him through a brier hedge, and went panting | grand across an old corn field. Then their . Let young men be patient in chased one struck for the woods, their wooing, for a maiden's love and wheezing up a steep hill; his may be cold on her lips yet warm pursuers pressing closely behind in her heart. with bloodshot eyes and shortened breath. The farmer dashed across a forty acre stubble field, across a frozen creek, through a blackberry patch, down a ravine, over another will, across a stump field, to be run hear it. A rumor has been affort down on the road by tramps. They overhauled him, thoroughly searched him from top to toe, to find he had not a solitary cent to reward them for their perse-Princess Mary is said to anxious for war between England

But yet things were curiously It was very fortunate that you field glanced at his plate, and this every day of our lives, for if mixed up around him. He could didn't roll over the parapet into solemnly replied: "Potatoes, this every day of our lives, for if

Yesterday, afternoon an old oil man, with crude petroleum dripping from his clothes and legs inclosed in high boots, entered the Derrick office and said :

"Want an item ? - I've got the iggest item you ever heard tell of. struck an ile well on my lease Monday, an' she flowed a stream of ile 100 feet high straight up for half an hour. Then she kinder ted down. One of my drillers was standing over the holel when she suddenly sparted up again, and if it didn't take that driller right up with it. The stream was a power-Once he essayed to open his eyes That is the lady; she nursed ful one you see, an' he went up a hundred feet. You've seen thes little balls as dance about on the top of those little spurtin' fountains such as they have in the cities? thing acted, an' there's that air driller right up on top of that handredfut column of crude ile; an' he's dahein' about like chaff in t

" How long has be been up fannin' mill. What do you think of that in??"

"About four days and four "He must be very hungry by this time. Doesn't be come down to get something to eat?" "Why, we 'uns just put a plate of hash in this stream of ile, and it takes it up to him you see. An' its mighty handy, as he finds his victuals already greased, an' be doesn't need butter." His face was as innocent of deceit as a piece of tanned leather and when he asked to have his giren, we didn't have the heart to Uses of the Lemon.

The London Lancet, remarking on the value of lemon juice, of Two o'clock was striking at which many are wholly ignorant, offers several suggestions as to the poorly in the spring, but if they 'Show him in, please,' she said would eat a lemon before breakfast it better than any medicine. The waiter ushered Bertie in Lemon juice used according to this sumption: Pit a dezen lemons into cold water and slowly bring if for a refreshing drink in summer. pare as' directed above, and add water and sugar. But in order to have this keep well, after boiling the lemons, squeeze them and Grain carefully, then to every halfpint of juice add one pound of loaf or crushed sugar, boil and stir a few minutes more until the sugar is dissolved; skim and carefully bottle. You will get more juice from the lemons by boiling them, and the preparation keeps better.

> A switch in time saves nine. The tied of life-the married · Movements on foot-the march

The sable muntle of darkness is

Be sure you're ahead-then go for evening wear. The truth must come out-and be hit over the head. Sixty years ago the fastest horses only made a mile in three minutes. Young men should take pattern by pianos be square, upright,

A news item says that an English traveller in the Holy Land has discovered Jacob's well. An exchange save : "We are glad to for some time that Jacob was Mr. Spurgeon on the platform in time since he was advising 'ministers not to preach over the heads of the people, and he remarked that he had sometimes hourd sermons which made him feel like