THE DOMINION ELECTIONS.

The result of the general elections has been a great surprise—we may say a startling surprise, for even the most sanguine of Conservatives could not have expected so decided a triumph. Many Conservatives indeed, would not have been surprised if the Mackenzie Administration had succeeded on resorting again by a bare majority. The result, however, shows that the feeling throughout the Dominion, was strongly in favor of the National Policy—for that, of course, was the main plank upon which the Conservative Government stepped into power. Besides this feeling, there was the unpopularity of several members of the Mackenzie government, and also the determination of the people to rescue the abuse frequently expressed through the Globe newspaper. Besides these causes, there are many others, among which was the almost general feeling of disappointment in the ranks of the Reformers, for we have heard several good Reformers frankly admit that their leaders have not fulfilled in power the expectations formed of them while in opposition.

The defeat of the Reform party is even more significant than appears upon the surface. Mr. Mackenzie's candidates had all the advantage the influence of two Governments could give them, and with this in their favor, three members of the cabinet, Mr. Blake, Mr. Cartwright and Mr. Jones, have failed to secure re-election. The fate of the Finance Minister was, perhaps, in the nature of things, not inappropriate; to his financial policy is due the defeat of the Government, and he himself has fallen beneath the ruins of the party, a sacrifice, to unpopular truth. The Hon. Mr. Jones proved himself to be an antagonist on the floor of the House of no ordinary skill and vigor, as Mr. Tupper must have ascertained to his complete satisfaction in more than one well-fought encounter, while the aptitude he displayed for the management of his department, during the brief period he held office, give great hopes of future usefulness and success. The greatest and most unexpected defeat the Liberal cause has to mourn over is that of the Hon. Mr. Blake. His presence was in itself a tower of strength. Not only did his indomitable industry, joined to natural abilities of no ordinary kind, mark him as of incalculable value in the debating of all really important issues, but his high character and universally acknowledged unflinching honesty of purpose, gave to the party which he supported, throughout the Dominion, but especially in his own Province, a moral strength which at times stood them in good stead. His defeat was, no doubt, due to his absence, and the fact that he was known to be by no means anxious to secure success.

The victory, even to the Conservatives, was not bought without cost. Sir John A. Macdonald, the Hon. Hector Langevin, the Hon. Mr. Abbott, and the Hon. Peter Mitchell, all four found themselves out in the cold, a result which lovers of political honesty and straightforward dealing, however strong their party bias, will not be much disposed to deplore. Of the Conservative leaders who have lost their seats none are likely to immediately to find new ones, except Sir John A. Macdonald, who has already been elected by acclamation, for the constituency of Marquette, Manitoba. He, having obtained a new lease of power, has now an opportunity to put the crowning stone on his life work, as well as to effectually wipe out all traces of old stains, and to rehabilitate himself not only in the eyes of the people of Canada, but in the eyes of the people of the Old World. The Hon. Mr. Langevin's well-known personal unpopularity throughout the Province of Quebec makes it very unlikely that the Conservatives will risk losing a seat by attempting to secure his return. To him, therefore, the political world can probably bid a fond and long adieu. And, without intending to be ill-natured, we might, perhaps add, that no man could probably be more conveniently dispensed with by his own friends. His conduct in the Pacific Scandal business not only appeared much worse than that of any other man mixed up in that transaction, but his career ever since has been of a nature to bring the party to which he belongs into disrepute and aversion.

The fact that the National Policy has been approved of in so unmistakable a manner, and that Sir John A. Macdonald has been taken into the confidence of his fellow citizens again, shows that although the country is quick to condemn when cause for condemnation exists, it is ready and willing to give every opportunity to those who bring forth plausible measures for the improvement of the condition of the country, and promoting the welfare of the people.

Editorial Notes.

An idea is current that the Indian policy of the British Government will involve the country in an Afgan war.

The harvests in the before famine-stricken districts of China are abundant, and there is no apprehension of further distress.

Hon. John Simpson, Assistant Auditor-General of the Finance Department of the Dominion of Canada, died at his residence in Ottawa, on Thursday last. He was 71 years old, and has been engaged in the civil service for many years.

The Manchester (England) shareholders in Georgia Land and Cotton Company testify that within the last ten or twelve years they have lost their whole capital, instead of making a great profit, by growing cotton in the State of Georgia.

The Provincial Exhibition at Toronto, was formally opened by Lord Dufferin, Governor General, on Tuesday last. He was presented with an address, to which he made an eloquent reply. About fifteen thousand people were present.

The British iron-clad Northampton is being put in readiness for the conveyance of the Marquis of Lorne to Canada. The flagship Bellerophon, accompanied by H. M. S. Sirius and Argus sailed Monday for Quebec via Charlottetown. It is reported they will return to Halifax before the arrival of the Marquis, who it is now said will land there instead of Quebec, owing to the lateness of his arrival.

The new Governor-General is to reach Canada in the beginning of November. But it is no secret that Lord Dufferin does not wish to remain here so late in the year as that. The result of the elections has no doubt been a surprise to him, as well as to everybody else, for it has disarranged some of his plans. We are inclined to think, notwithstanding what the Globe has said about the present Administration holding on to office until Parliament meets, that Mr. Mackenzie will resign as soon as the elections have been held in the outlying Provinces.

On Monday last, the tax upon the Chinese in Victoria, B. C., was enforced by the seizure of goods in Chinamen's stores, and the Mongolian workmen for which employers struck work next day.

The health of the British troops in Cyprus is unsatisfactory. There has been a new outbreak of fever. Twenty-one deaths have occurred since the occupation commenced. Four hundred men are now sick, out of a total of 2,622.

The Quebec City Council has decided to pay the Local Government, on account of North Shore Railway construction, $257,000, which, with $143,000 already paid over and a claim of $100,000 due by the Government to the Corporation for land acquired by the former, will make up one-half of the citizens' guarantee. At least 71 per cent. of the work on the road is certified as complete.

An Ottawa paper suggests, and a Montreal paper endorses, a new proposition—that in the readjustment of the tariff the Canadian girls should be "protected" against the importation of foreign beauties who are admitted to Canada free of duty. But this is hardly necessary. Everybody knows that the Canadian article of girl is far superior to any foreign made article, and that in a fair market the home production will distance all competitors.

They may talk as they please about the impossibility of Americanizing Chinamen and making them good citizens of the Republic. But the process is going on rapidly. In New York city they are holding mass meetings, and making speeches, and passing resolutions in defence of their rights. They evidently understand the power of "chin," and they purpose using it "alle samee Melican man." John Chinaman can imitate American civilization pretty closely, even if he has not got the genuine article.

In the session of 1878 the British House of Commons sat on 130 days, the House of Lords on little more than 100 days. The Commons sat for very nearly 1,100 hours. The Lords sat for less than a sixth of the same number of hours. The Commons sat beyond midnight 85 times, and on 13 nights sat until later than 3 a.m., extending its sitting of Aug. 2 until past 4 o'clock of the next morning, its sitting of April 1 until past 3 a.m., and its sitting of May 13 until 2½ on the next morning. The House of Commons divided 278 times; there was one tie, 40 against 40, and the Speaker had to vote.

There seems to be a possibility that the whole Eastern Question will be opened out again, the "peace with honor" which Lord Beaconsfield declared he had secured at Berlin having turned out a hollow mockery. The Bosnians are holding their own against the Austrians, and seem to be determined that none of their territory shall be occupied by Austria, Berlin treaty or no Berlin treaty. Gortchakoff is said to have recovered all his old influence with the Czar; and if this be so, we may look out for a renewal of the old veteran's spirited policy. It is intimated, as the probable result of this, that the Russians are replacing certain armaments in Bulgaria which had been dismantled, and that she refuses to withdraw her troops from that Province; while, to make matters worse, it is feared that Greece may not tamely submit to the refusal of Turkey to do it that justice which England declined to secure for it. Altogether, the outlook is by no means reassuring, and it looks as if the stars and garters conferred upon England's representatives at Berlin for having so adroitly settled up the whole Eastern problem had been conferred somewhat prematurely.—Telegram.

An Italian funeral passing through the streets of Toronto, on Friday, was the cause of much interest. The hearse was preceded by four fiddlers and two trumpeters playing a lively tune, and followed by half a dozen barks. The funeral was that of a child.

Fruit Pilferers, Attention!

To the Editor of the Free Press.

DEAR SIR,—Will you kindly allow me space in your valuable paper, to let "lovers of fruit" know what they have done for me, this year. I had sowed about an acre of fall wheat, but as soon as my cherries ripened, they were stolen, and not only this, but the thieves knocked the fence down nearly every night, thus allowing a number of cattle to get in the wheat which, when cut and threshed, did not amount to four bushels, so they have robbed me of my winter's bread, besides stealing the cherries. And, as the fences are down nearly every morning, I have frequently as many as eight pigs in the garden, and almost all my potatoes gone. I paid one dollar per log for my seed, and will not have a quarter of the amount I planted. And now "lovers of fruit," if you are determined to take the rest of the fruit, come in daylight, and through the gate. My fruit has been the principal support I have had for my family and this year you have robbed me of all I had of it, with the exception of a few apples, and if your nightly visits are continued much longer, you will take the remainder of it. The fruit I have sold this year would not pay for the nails used in repairing the fences which were destroyed by you, who are pilfering fruit. And now, Mr. Editor, I wish to beg the favour of the persons alluded to, to refrain from robbing me of all I have left to sustain myself and family.

I am,
Yours respectfully,
MRS. SAMUEL SPEIGHT.

The Eighth Annual Central Exhibition held last week, in Guelph, was not as successful as it might have been, had it not been interfered with by the Dominion Elections. Murder in New Brunswick.

The murder of Thomas Ward at New River, in Charlotte county, has caused considerable excitement in that generally quiet neighborhood. Ward was found in the bushes about two hundred yards from his home. He was covered from head to foot with underbrush and moss, and but for the smell arising from the decomposing body his remains would probably never have been discovered. An examination to-day showed that death was caused by the unfortunate man's skull being crushed in with some blunt instrument. He had evidently been murdered alongside of a meadow patch, and then dragged into the bushes. Thomas Dowd, who is in custody charged with having committed the crime, denies the charge. Mrs. Ward, the murdered man's wife, is under surveillance, it being suspected that she is an accomplice of Dowd.

ARRIVAL OF THE GOVERNOR IN TORONTO.—The Governor General accompanied by his aides, Lieutenant Hamilton and Captain Ward, arrived in Toronto on Saturday evening to open the Provincial Exhibition. The distinguished party arrived in the Union Station at eleven o'clock, where they were received by His Worship the Mayor and some members of the Reception Committee. On His Excellency alighting on the platform he was greeted with loud cheers from an enthusiastic crowd which filled the depot. Lord Dufferin, with the members of his party, the Mayor, and others entered carriages and drove to the Queen's Hotel, where His Excellency will remain as the guest of the city.

The Grand Trunk accounts for the last half year show a sufficient net revenue to pay the pre-preference debenture stocks charges, and to carry forward £2,300.

The Dominion Telegraph Company has extended its wires to Hanlan and Courtney's quarters at Lachine. The Montreal Telegraph Company is placing its wires along the whole length of the course.

The Northern Railway is being relaid with steel rails. Thus improved, all that is required to make it the best line in the Dominion is the reduction of its gauge to four feet eight and a half inches—the standard guage of the country.

Great interest is being manifested concerning the approaching Hanlan-Courtney boat race which is to take place on the Lachine Canal on the 2nd of October, 1878. Both men are in good health, and we have no doubt that each will do his best to win.

A. Parker, shoemaker, who has been carrying on business in Guelph during the last 24 years, was found dead in his bedroom adjoining the shop Sunday morning. He had been ailing for a week past with a dropsical affection of the heart, but was able to walk about a little during the day. Deceased had lived alone for many years, and was quite temperate.

They have got Cleopatra's Needle up at last. It has been erected on the Thames Embankment, and will be quite a curiosity to passers-by. It is not by any means a work of beauty, having an appearance not at all imposing. Its claims to admiration are simply its antiquity and the historic associations which surround it, although, to be sure, it is not often that so large a block of stone can be seen in one piece. Of the many monuments London possesses, the Needle is perhaps the most remarkable.

The by-law for the repeal of the Dunkin Act, in the front of Leeds and Lansdown was defeated by the popular vote.

The steamer conveying the locomotive and flat cars for the north end of the Pembina Branch which has been delayed by low water is now clear and was expected at Emerson on Saturday night.

The printer of a pamphlet published at Brussells libelling the Emperor of Germany has been sentenced to eighteen months, imprisonment and $100 fine; and the author to five years and $100 fine.

The Montreal market is completely gutted with both American and Canadian apples and prices rule remarkably low. Canadian stock sells at $1.75 to $1.90 per barrel in round lots and American at $1.25 to $1.50.

A fire destroyed the block occupied by Mr. McEwing and Messrs. J. A. Perry & Co. Palmerston, on Wednesday night last. The Oddfellows Hall, which is above these stores was also destroyed. Mr. McEwing's was insured for $4,000, but the I. O. O. F. lodge and J. A. Perry & Co., have lost everything.

Judge Macdonald, of Guelph, was seized on Friday morning last with something akin to partial paralysis. He has of late been in almost a perfect state of health, but on rising from bed one side became completely numb and the mouth distorted. He is in a perfectly sensible condition and feels no pain worth speaking of but it is with difficulty he articulates. Dr. Herod, who is attending the judge, says that the side which is affected is not paralyzed but is simply in an anæsthetic state. Nothing serious is anticipated.

WONDERFUL DISCOVERY.
EMPRESS RELIEF
THE FRIEND OF MANKIND.

AN INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL REMEDY.

BALM FOR EVERY WOUND.

It cures Rheumatism and Neuralgia, and kills all pain, instantly. Think it over—I'll tell you more about it next week.

It is the only known remedy for Rheumatism on the American Continent, endorsed by thousands. As soon as applied it gives instant ease to the unfortunate sufferer. It is rapidly absorbed, penetrates to the very bone, enters the circulation, neutralizing all "Rheumatic Poison" circulating in the blood, and expels it from the system through the natural outlets.

IT CURES

Toothache, Earache, Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Sprains, Swellings, Inflammation, Burns, Cuts, Bruises, Pain in side, Pain in back, Pain in Chest, Pain in shoulder, Coughs, Colds, Pleurisies, Phthisis, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Summer complaints &c.

It will cure the most agonizing pain internal or external, in one to twenty minutes. Don't let your prejudice stand in the way, but give it a trial; the investment is small and relief certain. The good secret often succeeds with all its causes known; go for the best that is safe and harmless, pleasant to take, gives instant ease, and can be applied to a wider range of disease in every day life, with greater success than any preparation which research, skill and "medical science" could produce.

Physicians of the highest respectability recommend it as a most effectual "domestic remedy" for the relief of Pain in cases of sudden emergency.

Carry it to your homes, and it will prove a blessing to your families and afflicted friends.

Druggists are selling enormous quantities of it wherever introduced.

I challenge the World to produce its equal.
