

THE ACTON FREE PRESS.

Volume IV, No. 14 - Whole No. 173

ACTON, ONT., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1878.

$1.00 per annum in Advance.

THE ACTON FREE PRESS

Is Published
EVERY THURSDAY MORNING, R. T. GALLOWAY
AT THE
Free Press Building,
Next to the Post Office.

TERMS - One dollar a year, strictly in advance. If not paid before three months, one dollar and a half will be charged. No subscription will be sent to any person more than one year unpaid.

ADVERTISEMENTS - Eight cents per line of five insertions. Short advertisements, not exceeding one line, one cent per insertion. Business Cards, one cent per line per week. All advertisements must be paid for in advance.

A liberal discount allowed on advertisements inserted for long periods. Special notices, such as lost and found, and other notices, charged at special rates. Notices of Births, Marriages, and Deaths inserted at special rates.

Remember that the object of which any individual is desirous to be published in this paper is to be published in this paper. Send your notices to the printer, R. T. GALLOWAY, at the Free Press Building, next to the Post Office, Acton, Ontario.

R. T. GALLOWAY,
Printer and Proprietor.

BUSINESS CARDS.
W. H. LOWRY, M. B. H. M. C. P. S. Graduate of Trinity College, Member of the Ontario and Quebec Freethinkers' Association. In the house next to the Post Office, Acton, Ont.

DR. E. MORROW, Physician.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

D. HENDERSON, Confectioner.
100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

J. D. MATHENON, Attorney.
100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

T. W. COOPER, Provincial Land Surveyor and Civil Engineer.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

ROYALEXCHANGEHOTEL.
100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

MR. CHARLES CARTER.
Teacher of the Piano and Organ. Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

PATENTS FOR INVENTIONS.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

OVERLOOKER, Plasterer.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

ROSS HOUSE, Acton.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

DOMINION HOTEL, Acton.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

WM. HEMSTREET, Licensed Auctioneer.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

TO THE PUBLIC OF ALL NATIONS & POLITICAL CREEDS.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

GEORGE GIBBS, He understands his business.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

NOTICE.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

THE ONTARIO SADDLERY, ACTON.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

PLOW FACTORY OPENED.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

BOAR FOR SERVICE.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

BAKER

Free Press Building,
Next to the Post Office.

TERMS - One dollar a year, strictly in advance. If not paid before three months, one dollar and a half will be charged. No subscription will be sent to any person more than one year unpaid.

ADVERTISEMENTS - Eight cents per line of five insertions. Short advertisements, not exceeding one line, one cent per insertion. Business Cards, one cent per line per week. All advertisements must be paid for in advance.

A liberal discount allowed on advertisements inserted for long periods. Special notices, such as lost and found, and other notices, charged at special rates. Notices of Births, Marriages, and Deaths inserted at special rates.

Remember that the object of which any individual is desirous to be published in this paper is to be published in this paper. Send your notices to the printer, R. T. GALLOWAY, at the Free Press Building, next to the Post Office, Acton, Ontario.

R. T. GALLOWAY,
Printer and Proprietor.

BUSINESS CARDS.
W. H. LOWRY, M. B. H. M. C. P. S. Graduate of Trinity College, Member of the Ontario and Quebec Freethinkers' Association. In the house next to the Post Office, Acton, Ont.

DR. E. MORROW, Physician.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

D. HENDERSON, Confectioner.
100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

J. D. MATHENON, Attorney.
100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

T. W. COOPER, Provincial Land Surveyor and Civil Engineer.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

ROYALEXCHANGEHOTEL.
100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

MR. CHARLES CARTER.
Teacher of the Piano and Organ. Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

PATENTS FOR INVENTIONS.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

OVERLOOKER, Plasterer.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

ROSS HOUSE, Acton.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

DOMINION HOTEL, Acton.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

WM. HEMSTREET, Licensed Auctioneer.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

TO THE PUBLIC OF ALL NATIONS & POLITICAL CREEDS.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

GEORGE GIBBS, He understands his business.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

NOTICE.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

THE ONTARIO SADDLERY, ACTON.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

PLOW FACTORY OPENED.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

BOAR FOR SERVICE.
Office, 100 St. George Street, Acton, Ont.

HAVE SOME STYLE ABOUT YOU.

In all you do, in all you say,
Be never slow or careless;
The higher state you venture for,
The bolder still and fiercer -
Let others get the side track,
If from place they thrust you,
Brace up, put on a bolder front,
And have some style about you.

You need not be a fool in dress,
Nor yet be called a clown -
A cultivated nature soon
Gets with your habits woven
With cleanliness in speech and dress,
The world will never doubt you;
And with some style about you

In business be upright and just,
And do the fair thing over;
Don't stoop to shallow tricks and tricks,
But honestly endeavor
To do the right, when'er betide,
Then friends will never doubt you,
But will admit, however poor,
You have some style about you.

In courting for a wife to share
Your future care or pleasure,
Be sure she's just the sort for you,
And then secure your treasure,
Don't dilly-dally, let some one
May from your vantage point you,
But go right in prepared to win,
And have some style about you.

Remember that no royal road,
Leads on to fame or knowledge,
Hard plodding work must be the rule,
Alike in school or college,
Then put your shoulder to the wheel,
And give no cause to doubt you,
But show your man to push your way,
And have some style about you.

Then when mishaps and troubles come,
Don't sit you down to count them,
But be determined to go on,
To conquer and harpoon them,
Be sure you're right, then go ahead,
Prepared though others doubt you,
To do and dare, to win and wear,
And have some style about you.

Some Interesting Dates.
Dates are generally dry reading; but there is sometimes a significance in the mere grouping of dates; and the reader will find such significance in an attentive consideration of the following events, all occurring within the limits of a little over a century -

1644; printed misused notes in 1644; first discovered in 1647; America was first discovered in 1492; the first printing press was set up in Coppehagen in 1437; Copernicus announced his discovery of the true system of the universe in 1541; Albert Durer gave the world a prophesy of future wood engraving in 1527; Jergens set the spinning wheel in motion in 1530; the germ of all the present wheels and looms of ten thousand future factories; modern needles came into use in 1582; the first knives were used in England, and the first whetstone in France in 1530; the first newspaper was published in England in 1588; telescopes were invented in 1590; Spenser, Shakespeare, Bacon, Kepler, Tycho Brahe were contemporaries in 1590 - these are some of the most important landmarks of European history within a single century.

NEW YORK LETTER.
DULLNESS IN THE THEATRICAL WORLD. WICKEDNESS IN THE METROPOLIS. PROBABLE MURDER IN A CHURCH. MRS. TILTON. HOW TRICKS ARE MADE TO PAY.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7, 1878.
A singular demonstration has occurred at the Theatre of New York. At no time were such high salaries paid to actors or more competition shown in the production of pieces, though it is the general remark that we have a dull mob of players on the boards, and that it hardly pays to spend those September nights in the hot theatres looking at Miss Anderson Peckskill. It would seem that auditors have thriven ever since the days of David and Uriah.

Both Beecher and Tilton do well on Scandals. The poor women was ground between them as between the upper and nether millstones, and she pines without one man who could love her. This is the sad condition of her chastity. Nothing protects woman but womanhood.

It is a significant fact that Mrs. Tilton, her mother, her step father, her brother, and her own children, all embodied her criminality, and on that understanding they are reunited.

On the drive at Central Park no entourage is more conspicuous just now than that of Hermann, the prestidigitator, who is up to his old tricks at the Aquarium. He has a tricky turn-out, and on the sea beside him is his wife, moodily and becomingly attired in a dress of engagement, while most of the stars are too poor to pay for a carefully written play. To-day I saw Mr. Wolf, the author of the "Mighty Dollar" which Mr. Florence continues to play, rejoining at the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

ERAMOSA SHOW.

The annual Fall Show of the Eramosa Agricultural Society was held on their grounds in Rockwood, Wednesday last. Notwithstanding the light shower, and the dullness of the weather during the fore part of the show, a large crowd attended to see as good an Exhibition as the Society has ever had. The horse show was as usual, first-class, and spoke well of the township. The show of cattle was very good, as it is universally known that Eramosa is second to no township in the province in the production of cattle of the very best quality. The sheep and poultry departments were also up to the average. The show of grain was rather short of what is generally the case, but the roots were splendid, especially in the potatoes. The display of implements was very small. Mr. J. A. Ruder, of Acton, showed a number of the excellent carriages manufactured by himself, and succeeded as usual in taking first prizes for all he exhibited. The show of bread and butter kept up the good reputation of the township. Flowers and bouquets were shown in abundance. The fruit department was well represented, taking up almost all one side of the hall. Mr. C. W. Hill, of Acton, had some specimens of his photographs on exhibition, and all agreed that they were second to none. A number of different colored sheepskin mats, together with a collection of gloves by Mr. Jago of Rockwood were admired. The ladies filled all the space in the hall allotted to them with the products of their skillful fingers. Mr. Hugh Black and other officers have our thanks for their kindness.

FEMININE FASHIONS.

Ribbons with graduated stripes of another color are among the latest importations in millinery goods.

Evening bonnets, composed chiefly of ostrich feathers on a transparent frame, are an expensive novelty.

Corsetry veils will be largely used for the underskirts of winter costumes.

The panther has resolved itself into very small dimensions, and consists in the slight looping, or draping of the back breadths of the overdress.

The tight fitting coat sleeve remains in favor, and is now made with a slight gathering at the elbow.

A new freak of fashion shows the dolman with a double skirt.

Silver lace gowns to become the leading fall, for the coming winter.

The short walking dress is slowly but surely gaining favor.

Parisian bonnets and old English and medieval French costumes, are revived for six of costumes.

The long twelve or six-buttoned kid glove with the opening at the side soon grows in favor.

Hosiery for the fall is in fine stripes around the limb, and is embroidered on each side.

The newest black velvet bag are embroidered in gold and other colors in floral patterns. Wide colored belts are wrought in the same colors as the worn with them.

Black felt bonnets in close pressed shape, with a band of ostrich feathers, or else with an Alsatian law of velvet, or satin ribbon, will be worn during the fall and winter.

Long pendants are attached to the fronts of wide lace collars.

A new red is a brilliant cherry color, called "Nimble" after a new play now on the Paris stage, in which this color prevails. It is seen in flowers and other bouquets.

An Alsatian bow made of India cashmere feathers, is a novelty for trimming felt bonnets.

A new kind of felt bonnet, with long smooth hairs adhering to it, and is called "cannel's hair" felt. White felt, white satin, plain white silk and moire silk are used for dress bonnets.

A wholesale merchant of Indianapolis was approached by a well dressed gentleman in New York last; and acquaintance was claimed on belonging to the same church in Indianapolis. The merchant accepted the man on his own introduction, Mr. Johnson, and at his invitation, where the merchant introduced him to his own relatives.

Mr. Johnson proved equally as asked whether his husband was a second sister, and whether he thought he would awake if any accident were to happen, the train. He thought he would sleep until morning, no matter what happened. After referring the merchant took the precaution to place his watch and money under his pillow, and when he awoke in Buffalo the fair Mrs. Johnstone and his pocket-book were gone. She had gone off at Rochester in answer to a telegram from her husband, so the conductor told the merchant in the morning.

The corner stone of a new Methodist church in Berlin was laid on Wednesday last.

While ploughing an old field last week on the farm of Thos. Watwood, at St. George, the plough turned up a human skull. Further search was made, and twenty-five skeletons in all were found, packed in a heap prominently about two feet under the surface. They are supposed to be Indian remains.

ERAMOSA SHOW.

The annual Fall Show of the Eramosa Agricultural Society was held on their grounds in Rockwood, Wednesday last. Notwithstanding the light shower, and the dullness of the weather during the fore part of the show, a large crowd attended to see as good an Exhibition as the Society has ever had. The horse show was as usual, first-class, and spoke well of the township. The show of cattle was very good, as it is universally known that Eramosa is second to no township in the province in the production of cattle of the very best quality. The sheep and poultry departments were also up to the average. The show of grain was rather short of what is generally the case, but the roots were splendid, especially in the potatoes. The display of implements was very small. Mr. J. A. Ruder, of Acton, showed a number of the excellent carriages manufactured by himself, and succeeded as usual in taking first prizes for all he exhibited. The show of bread and butter kept up the good reputation of the township. Flowers and bouquets were shown in abundance. The fruit department was well represented, taking up almost all one side of the hall. Mr. C. W. Hill, of Acton, had some specimens of his photographs on exhibition, and all agreed that they were second to none. A number of different colored sheepskin mats, together with a collection of gloves by Mr. Jago of Rockwood were admired. The ladies filled all the space in the hall allotted to them with the products of their skillful fingers. Mr. Hugh Black and other officers have our thanks for their kindness.

FEMININE FASHIONS.

Ribbons with graduated stripes of another color are among the latest importations in millinery goods.

Evening bonnets, composed chiefly of ostrich feathers on a transparent frame, are an expensive novelty.

Corsetry veils will be largely used for the underskirts of winter costumes.

The panther has resolved itself into very small dimensions, and consists in the slight looping, or draping of the back breadths of the overdress.

The tight fitting coat sleeve remains in favor, and is now made with a slight gathering at the elbow.

A new freak of fashion shows the dolman with a double skirt.

Silver lace gowns to become the leading fall, for the coming winter.

The short walking dress is slowly but surely gaining favor.

Parisian bonnets and old English and medieval French costumes, are revived for six of costumes.

The long twelve or six-buttoned kid glove with the opening at the side soon grows in favor.

Hosiery for the fall is in fine stripes around the limb, and is embroidered on each side.

The newest black velvet bag are embroidered in gold and other colors in floral patterns. Wide colored belts are wrought in the same colors as the worn with them.

Black felt bonnets in close pressed shape, with a band of ostrich feathers, or else with an Alsatian law of velvet, or satin ribbon, will be worn during the fall and winter.

Long pendants are attached to the fronts of wide lace collars.

A new red is a brilliant cherry color, called "Nimble" after a new play now on the Paris stage, in which this color prevails. It is seen in flowers and other bouquets.

An Alsatian bow made of India cashmere feathers, is a novelty for trimming felt bonnets.

A new kind of felt bonnet, with long smooth hairs adhering to it, and is called "cannel's hair" felt. White felt, white satin, plain white silk and moire silk are used for dress bonnets.

A wholesale merchant of Indianapolis was approached by a well dressed gentleman in New York last; and acquaintance was claimed on belonging to the same church in Indianapolis. The merchant accepted the man on his own introduction, Mr. Johnson, and at his invitation, where the merchant introduced him to his own relatives.

Mr. Johnson proved equally as asked whether his husband was a second sister, and whether he thought he would awake if any accident were to happen, the train. He thought he would sleep until morning, no matter what happened. After referring the merchant took the precaution to place his watch and money under his pillow, and when he awoke in Buffalo the fair Mrs. Johnstone and his pocket-book were gone. She had gone off at Rochester in answer to a telegram from her husband, so the conductor told the merchant in the morning.

The corner stone of a new Methodist church in Berlin was laid on Wednesday last.

While ploughing an old field last week on the farm of Thos. Watwood, at St. George, the plough turned up a human skull. Further search was made, and twenty-five skeletons in all were found, packed in a heap prominently about two feet under the surface. They are supposed to be Indian remains.

ERAMOSA SHOW.

The annual Fall Show of the Eramosa Agricultural Society was held on their grounds in Rockwood, Wednesday last. Notwithstanding the light shower, and the dullness of the weather during the fore part of the show, a large crowd attended to see as good an Exhibition as the Society has ever had. The horse show was as usual, first-class, and spoke well of the township. The show of cattle was very good, as it is universally known that Eramosa is second to no township in the province in the production of cattle of the very best quality. The sheep and poultry departments were also up to the average. The show of grain was rather short of what is generally the case, but the roots were splendid, especially in the potatoes. The display of implements was very small. Mr. J. A. Ruder, of Acton, showed a number of the excellent carriages manufactured by himself, and succeeded as usual in taking first prizes for all he exhibited. The show of bread and butter kept up the good reputation of the township. Flowers and bouquets were shown in abundance. The fruit department was well represented, taking up almost all one side of the hall. Mr. C. W. Hill, of Acton, had some specimens of his photographs on exhibition, and all agreed that they were second to none. A number of different colored sheepskin mats, together with a collection of gloves by Mr. Jago of Rockwood were admired. The ladies filled all the space in the hall allotted to them with the products of their skillful fingers. Mr. Hugh Black and other officers have our thanks for their kindness.

FEMININE FASHIONS.

Ribbons with graduated stripes of another color are among the latest importations in millinery goods.

Evening bonnets, composed chiefly of ostrich feathers on a transparent frame, are an expensive novelty.

Corsetry veils will be largely used for the underskirts of winter costumes.

The panther has resolved itself into very small dimensions, and consists in the slight looping, or draping of the back breadths of the overdress.

The tight fitting coat sleeve remains in favor, and is now made with a slight gathering at the elbow.

A new freak of fashion shows the dolman with a double skirt.

Silver lace gowns to become the leading fall, for the coming winter.

The short walking dress is slowly but surely gaining favor.

Parisian bonnets and old English and medieval French costumes, are revived for six of costumes.

The long twelve or six-buttoned kid glove with the opening at the side soon grows in favor.

Hosiery for the fall is in fine stripes around the limb, and is embroidered on each side.

The newest black velvet bag are embroidered in gold and other colors in floral patterns. Wide colored belts are wrought in the same colors as the worn with them.

Black felt bonnets in close pressed shape, with a band of ostrich feathers, or else with an Alsatian law of velvet, or satin ribbon, will be worn during the fall and winter.

Long pendants are attached to the fronts of wide lace collars.

A new red is a brilliant cherry color, called "Nimble" after a new play now on the Paris stage, in which this color prevails. It is seen in flowers and other bouquets.

An Alsatian bow made of India cashmere feathers, is a novelty for trimming felt bonnets.

A new kind of felt bonnet, with long smooth hairs adhering to it, and is called "cannel's hair" felt. White felt, white satin, plain white silk and moire silk are used for dress bonnets.

A wholesale merchant of Indianapolis was approached by a well dressed gentleman in New York last; and acquaintance was claimed on belonging to the same church in Indianapolis. The merchant accepted the man on his own introduction, Mr. Johnson, and at his invitation, where the merchant introduced him to his own relatives.

Mr. Johnson proved equally as asked whether his husband was a second sister, and whether he thought he would awake if any accident were to happen, the train. He thought he would sleep until morning, no matter what happened. After referring the merchant took the precaution to place his watch and money under his pillow, and when he awoke in Buffalo the fair Mrs. Johnstone and his pocket-book were gone. She had gone off at Rochester in answer to a telegram from her husband, so the conductor told the merchant in the morning.

The corner stone of a new Methodist church in Berlin was laid on Wednesday last.

While ploughing an old field last week on the farm of Thos. Watwood, at St. George, the plough turned up a human skull. Further search was made, and twenty-five skeletons in all were found, packed in a heap prominently about two feet under the surface. They are supposed to be Indian remains.

ERAMOSA SHOW.

The annual Fall Show of the Eramosa Agricultural Society was held on their grounds in Rockwood, Wednesday last. Notwithstanding the light shower, and the dullness of the weather during the fore part of the show, a large crowd attended to see as good an Exhibition as the Society has ever had. The horse show was as usual, first-class, and spoke well of the township. The show of cattle was very good, as it is universally known that Eramosa is second to no township in the province in the production of cattle of the very best quality. The sheep and poultry departments were also up to the average. The show of grain was rather short of what is generally the case, but the roots were splendid, especially in the potatoes. The display of implements was very small. Mr. J. A. Ruder, of Acton, showed a number of the excellent carriages manufactured by himself, and succeeded as usual in taking first prizes for all he exhibited. The show of bread and butter kept up the good reputation of the township. Flowers and bouquets were shown in abundance. The fruit department was well represented, taking up almost all one side of the hall. Mr. C. W. Hill, of Acton, had some specimens of his photographs on exhibition, and all agreed that they were second to none. A number of different colored sheepskin mats, together with a collection of gloves by Mr. Jago of Rockwood were admired. The ladies filled all the space in the hall allotted to them with the products of their skillful fingers. Mr. Hugh Black and other officers have our thanks for their kindness.

FEMININE FASHIONS.

Ribbons with graduated stripes of another color are among the latest importations in millinery goods.

Evening bonnets, composed chiefly of ostrich feathers on a transparent frame, are an expensive novelty.

Corsetry veils will be largely used for the underskirts of winter costumes.

The panther has resolved itself into very small dimensions, and consists in the slight looping, or draping of the back breadths of the overdress.

The tight fitting coat sleeve remains in favor, and is now made with a slight gathering at the elbow.

A new freak of fashion shows the dolman with a double skirt.

Silver lace gowns to become the leading fall, for the coming winter.

The short walking dress is slowly but surely gaining favor.

Parisian bonnets and old English and medieval French costumes, are revived for six of costumes.

The long twelve or six-buttoned kid glove with the opening at the side soon grows in favor.

Hosiery for the fall is in fine stripes around the limb, and is embroidered on each side.

The newest black velvet bag are embroidered in gold and other colors in floral patterns. Wide colored belts are wrought in the same colors as the worn with them.

Black felt bonnets in close pressed shape, with a band of ostrich feathers, or else with an Alsatian law of velvet, or satin ribbon, will be worn during the fall and winter.

Long pendants are attached to the fronts of wide lace collars.

A new red is a brilliant cherry color, called "Nimble" after a new play now on the Paris stage, in which this color prevails. It is seen in flowers and other bouquets.

An Alsatian bow made of India cashmere feathers, is a novelty for trimming felt bonnets.

A new kind of felt bonnet, with long smooth hairs adhering to it, and is called "cannel's hair" felt. White felt, white satin, plain white silk and moire silk are used for dress bonnets.

A wholesale merchant of Indianapolis was approached by a well dressed gentleman in New York last; and acquaintance was claimed on belonging to the same church in Indianapolis. The merchant accepted the man on his own introduction, Mr. Johnson, and at his invitation, where the merchant introduced him to his own relatives.

Mr. Johnson proved equally as asked whether his husband was a second sister, and whether he thought he would awake if any accident were to happen, the train. He thought he would sleep until morning, no matter what happened. After referring the merchant took the precaution to place his watch and money under his pillow, and when he awoke in Buffalo the fair Mrs. Johnstone and his pocket-book were gone. She had gone off at Rochester in answer to a telegram from her husband, so the conductor told the merchant in the morning.

The corner stone of a new Methodist church in Berlin was laid on Wednesday last.

While ploughing an old field last week on the farm of Thos. Watwood, at St. George, the plough turned up a human skull. Further search was made, and twenty-five skeletons in all were found, packed in a heap prominently about two feet under the surface. They are supposed to be Indian remains.

ERAMOSA SHOW.

The annual Fall Show of the Eramosa Agricultural Society was held on their grounds in Rockwood, Wednesday last. Notwithstanding the light shower, and the dullness of the weather during the fore part of the show, a large crowd attended to see as good an Exhibition as the Society has ever had. The horse show was as usual, first-class, and spoke well of the township. The show of cattle was very good, as it is universally known that Eramosa is second to no township in the province in the production of cattle of the very best quality. The sheep and poultry departments were also up to the average. The show of grain was rather short of what is generally the case, but the roots were splendid, especially in the potatoes. The display of implements was very small. Mr. J. A. Ruder, of Acton, showed a number of the excellent carriages manufactured by himself, and succeeded as usual in taking first prizes for all he exhibited. The show of bread and butter kept up the good reputation of the township. Flowers and bouquets were shown in abundance. The fruit department was well represented, taking up almost all one side of the hall. Mr. C. W. Hill, of Acton, had some specimens of his photographs on exhibition, and all agreed that they were second to none. A number of different colored