THURSDAY MORNING, Dec. 5, 1878.

A number of Editorials on "The Village Council for 1879," "Esquesing Council," "The Afghan War," and other leading important subjects have been unavoidably crowded out this week.

—We are requested to state that a meeting of the electors of the 4th Ward of Esquesing will be held at Campbell's Hotel, Acton on Monday evening next, at 7:30 o'clock, for the purpose of proposing a candidate to represent that Ward in the Esquesing council for 1879.

To Our Country Readers.

As one of the most attractive features of a local paper is its local news, we always endeavor to devote as much space as possible to items of interest which transpire in the various parts of the county. In this respect our readers can render great aid. If each one would kindly take notes of occurrences, such as accidents, deaths, runaways and other matters of like interest, which from time to time transpire in their neighborhood, and forward them to us, it would be of great aid in rendering THE FREE PRESS even more interesting than at present. It is not necessary that the diction be perfect. Let the correspondent tell his story in his own way, just as if he were speaking it. All we want are the facts, and we can easily put them in shape for publication. Let none hang back through dread that they cannot write correctly. Any person who can write can furnish local items. Enclose the items in an unsealed envelope, and only a one cent stamp is required for postage. We will cheerfully furnish to all who will apply for them, envelopes and stamps. Correspondents such as we have indicated is of great service to us while the correcting and preparation of it will prove a pleasure and benefit to the reader as well as to ourselves.

Hon. Wm. Macdougall is to write the history of Canada, beginning at the Union in 1840.

The Earl of Dufferin, in his address at the Belfast banquet, attributed his success during his stay in Canada to Earl Carnarvon, Sir Edward Thornton and the Canadian people.

The persistent, caustic exposures of Humbugs and Swindlers are of great value to all its readers. Over $25,000 a year are expended in collecting useful and interesting information and engravings, the benefit of all which can be enjoyed at the reduced price of only $1.50 a year, post-free; or four copies at $1.25 each, or ten copies at $1 each. Marquis and Princess.

THEIR TRAVELLINGS.

At Home on Monday.

The Marquis of Lorne and Princess Louise, arrived in Montreal from Halifax on Friday last. They were enthusiastically received at all the places along the line of travel, where the cars were stopped. The preparations in Montreal for the reception of the Vice Regal party were extensive, and the people turned out in large numbers to welcome the Governor-General. The ball on Friday night was attended by the beauty, and refinement of Montreal society, and the affair was a grand success.

The greater part of Saturday was spent by the Marquis in receiving and replying to addresses presented by a number of societies.

The Sabbath was quietly spent. Both the Governor-General and the Princess attended church. In the morning they attended Christ Church cathedral, where the Very Rev. Dean Bond, the Bishop-elect of Montreal, preached an eloquent sermon from the 17th verse of the first chapter of the Epistle of St. James. In the afternoon the Governor-General attended a special service in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, where the Rev. Mr. Laing, the pastor, preached from the 59th chapter of St. Matthew, 28th verse. There was no special reference to local events in the sermons, either at St. Andrew's or the cathedral.

The Governor-General and the Princess Louise took their departure at ten o'clock on Monday morning for Ottawa, which city they reached at 4:30 p. m. They stopped at several places along the route and were presented with several addresses, to all of which the Marquis read replies.

And now, after a few more addresses; a few more replies; a little more expenditure, and considerable excitement the new Governor-General will settle down to the routine business of office.

Esquesing Council.

To the Editor of the Free Press.

DEAR SIR.—In your last week's issue you called public attention to the near approach of the time for selecting men as candidates for the very important office of Township Councillor, and at the same time passed some remarks on the distribution, by the present council, of the Township funds, in the work of repairing and improving the roads, more that hinting that the Fourth Ward has been unevenly dealt with, owing to its having no resident representative at the council board. Now, it is quite possible that less than what might appear to be a fair proportion of the public money may have been spent in any section of the Township, and yet, if properly inquired into, it may be found that the council is not the only party to blame. If, on proper representation made to the council, by petition or otherwise, that certain portions of the roads really needed repairing or improving, and they neglected to attend to their duties in this respect, to any section while attending to other places under similar circumstances, then would their be a just cause for complaint against them: But if it is found that the reason why any piece of road was neglected, was not that the council refused to exercise its functions, but that the parties interested neglected to exercise their privilege of petitioning or demanding their rights, as the case might be, then is the council free. But all this goes to show how very desirable it is to have a resident representative in the council from each Ward, and so remove such supposed or real causes of complaint.

It is very inconvenient at times for parties at certain seasons to attend the council even when the matter may be important, but a resident councillor could and ought sufficiently to represent the section, and so save trouble, expenses and much valuable time to his constituents, and to this end it would be well for the electors of the fourth Ward to hold a meeting, choose a man and make their choice publicly known and make an effort to secure the co-operation of the electors of the Township in his behalf, and in that way, possibly, secure his election. It is no doubt the sentiment of the great majority of the electors that each Ward should have its representation in the council, but when over the required nominations are made it will sometimes be impossible to secure this result, just and equitable, though it be the principle manifested. So long as each councillor is elected by the vote of the Township, there is not much danger of serious injustice provided the people look after their own interests—both at the polls and at the council board.

But whoever the council may be composed of, the public, in making demands for the expenditure of money for any purpose ought to in many cases take the following few yet important points:—First, that the ratepayers of the Township of Esquesing are paying on account of Railway Bonuses, an indebtedness of the yearly amount of over $4000; county rates to the amount of about $2,370 which together with the school rates may be called "uncontrollable expenditure;" Second, they ought to consider that the council have over 200 miles of roads under their charge and good material for making and repairing them is very scarce—except in very few places, and third, that every dollar that is expended by the council is just so much added to the burdens of the ratepayers, and must be paid in the month of December, although it would put out the kitchen fire.

Hence the importance of electing Councillors who will exercise all reasonable economy and prudence in their management of all the affairs of the Township and County, especially the financial affairs, and when elected give them your confidence until they show themselves unworthy of it.

Yours truly,

OBSERVER.

Past and the Present.

To the Editor of the Free Press.

DEAR SIR.—I notice a long criticism in your last issue on my article of the 18th and in reply I wish to say that if "Dublinite" had not been so sarcastic in his remarks I would not have troubled you to insert this. I will now confine myself to the facts of the case, and be as brief as possible. After reading "Dublinite" I made it my business to enquire, and I find that in June last the Council granted a sum of money to be expended on the road between the Dublin church and the Corporation limits. They also appointed two commissioners, one from Acton, the other from Dublin—hence "Dublinite" reply. Now, Mr. Editor, I wish to call the attention of your readers to this fact, that from the beginning to the end of his article, he never mentions one word in reference to the state of the road, and if "Dublinite" is the Commissioner, let him show cause why the travelling community should suffer through his neglect of duty. Hoping to hear from him before leaving for the Muskoka District,

I am, yours &c.,

LOCAL MATTERS.

Surprise Party and Address.

On Tuesday evening last a large number of the members of Calantlie Lodge, No. 18, Knights of Pythias, assembled at their Castle Hall, over Matthews' store, Acton, for the purpose of forming into procession to march to the residence of Bro. W. H. Storey, when they intended to present an address to Bro. Fred. H. Storey, prior to his departure for Nassau, New Providence Island. The members arrived at Bro. Storey's about 8:30 o'clock, and were cordially received by the surprised inmates of the house. After a pleasant time was spent in singing, reading, pleasant conversation &c., Bro. Isaac Francis, C.C., arose and announced the object of the gathering. After a few remarks concerning the part Bro. Storey had always taken in furthering the interests of the Lodge, he called on Bro. Geo. Hynds, V.C., to read the following address:—

Dear and much esteemed Bro. Knight, Fred. H. Storey, P.C.,

We, the undersigned Committee, on behalf of Calantlie Lodge, No. 18, K. of P., deem it our duty and privilege, on the eve of your departure from among us, to tender you some slight acknowledgement of the exalted position your chivalric demeanor has begotten in our estimation, as a Brother Knight, and respected citizen. We extremely deplore that your indisposition of late necessitates your removal from among us at present, but sincerely trust that He who doeth all things well, will return you to us in his own good time. We desire to express our sympathy with those of your own home circle for the loss they must sustain during this brief separation. The voyage you are about to undertake will be one, which, an intelligent and observant person, like yourself, will turn to profitable advantage. Brother Knight, we are lothe to part with you, not merely because you are a brother, but because we are losing for a time our most active member, in fact, the person to whose untiring exertions is due the rapid growth of our beloved order. We wish you and your partners en route, may have a delightful and invigorating trip; that your stay on the sunny isle may conduce to your bodily improvement, and that the fair winds of Heaven may waft you back in good season, from the balmy equatorial clime.

Committee. { WM. T. SMITH, F. A. MOORE, C. S. SMITH.

After the address had been read, Bro. Fred. H. Storey, briefly and feelingly replied, showing his appreciation of the interest the lodge had manifested in his welfare, as well as that of other members. His reply was followed by other short speeches by different of the brethren present. The assembled Knights then sat down to an oyster supper, to which full justice was done. After another short interval had been spent in songs, readings, &c., the company united in singing "Auld Lang Syne," and "God Save the Queen," when all retired about midnight.

A lunatic created quite a stir in Dundas for a day or two. He gave out that he had $80,000 to spend in town—that he was going into business on an extensive scale. He rented, or pretended to have rented, stores and buildings right and left—hired men to come to work for him next day—engaged bookkeepers—bought out one or two establishments—made contracts of various kinds and next day he moved out, no doubt to play the same role in some other place. He succeeded in humbugging quite a number of the citizens of the town, but no one lost anything by him.

A Postal card has been around the world from Chemnitz, Saxony, in 117 days. The card contained six different addresses of the German Consuls at Alexandria, Singapore, Yokohama, San Francisco, New York, and that of the sender at Chemnitz, besides a polite request that the card be sent on without delay, and the exact time of receipt and despatch noted on the card; an explanation of the circumstances of the case being at the same time given. These instructions seem to have been promptly fulfilled, and the card made its appearance again at Chemnitz, 117 days after it had been despatched, covered with the stamps of the various stations. It is stated that it would have gone around in 95 days, if it had been posted an hour earlier.
