An Old Pensioner Gone.

On Saturday morning last some of the residents of Erin were startled by hearing the report that Mr. Wm. Cripps, well known in this neighborhood, had suddenly died during the previous night. It appears that he went to bed Friday evening as well as usual, but when his wife tried to awake him in the morning she found him dead. The day previous he had been chopping wood, but had not complained of feeling sick. Mr. Cripps was an old pensioner, having served in the war of 1812. He came to Erin about seven years ago, where he has lived ever since, and has won the respect of all his neighbors.

THE CHEAPEST.—All wool grey Flannel, twilled, 25c only. All wool Scarlet Flannel, 25c, at the Glasgow House, Acton, Christie, Henderson & Co. See their 50 cent Kids—the cheapest glove in the market.

—The report which has been circulated through the village, by certain well known scandal-mongers to the effect that Mr. Jas. Ryder's carriage works has been closed by his creditors, is untrue in every particular.

HARD PAN PRICES.—Probably the history of the dry goods trade has never recorded as low prices as are now quoted. New goods fresh from the loom can be got at 50 to 60 per cent. of their former cost; In proof of this we advise a trial at the Glasgow House, Acton, Christie, Henderson & Co. See their famous 50 cent Kids.

One day last week as Mr. Donald McDonald was assisting several others to remove a separator from Mr. Ryders' farm on lot 3, con. 4, Esquesing, the front axle of the truck, on which the separator was placed, broke down, thus upsetting it upon him, and crushing him into the ditch. He received severe injuries on his face and legs, but we are glad to learn that he is speedily recovering.

—The Marriage Question has become quite a mania in the public mind for some months past in all portions of the Province. The discussion commenced in the Toronto dailies, and from there came to the country press. In another column will be found a communication from "Michael Mackintarros," and now we expect a host of letters on the subject. All we ask of these correspondents is that they keep within bounds and be as short as possible.

The bidding was very slow, seemingly very few with the intention of buying being present.

BUTTER.—In the present depressed state of the market it is difficult to place any large quantity of Butter—fresh one pound rolls are more in demand than large rolls or tubs. Butter makers are recommended to put up in one lb rolls, not prints, full weight. Christie, Henderson & Co. Remember that Famous 50c Tea.

—At the close of the meeting of the present Village Council on Monday evening, Dr. McGarvin, as it was the last meeting of that body, made a short address, thanking the councillors for their hearty co-operation with him during the past year. He thought they had carried well together, and the public money with which they had been entrusted, was economically and properly expended. He thought that whoever their successors were, if they followed in the course the present council had taken, the people would have no cause for complaint.

—It is believed that the toll-keatem is drawing near, for there are seven damsels in Acton who are dying after a young swell there, thus bringing to pass the prophecy spoken that in the last days "seven women will take hold of one man." We clip the above from the Milton Argus, and the item has given rise to several questions, among which are "Who is the man?" "Who are the damsels?" The only answer we can make is, that when the man of the Argus was last in Acton he looked in the bottom of a glass too often and his fevered fancy "saw many things." Eh, do you tumble?

—Old pictures of all kinds Copied and enlarged like life at C. W. Hill's.

—While Mr. Sayers, of Ballinafad was attending Division Court at Erin village on Wednesday last he had a valuable team of horses and a light buggy stolen. He left his horses at the old Chisholm Hotel, and went down town to attend to his business, but on returning he was astonished to find that some one had made off with his rig. Owing to the muddy condition of the roads it was impossible to track the thief, and all that could be done was to telegraph to different points in the neighborhood. At the latest accounts no word has been received.

No smoky chimneys, no charred wicks, no offensive odours when using the American Coal Oil, to be had at J. E. McGarvin's Drug Store.

—Daily arrivals of fresh goods at the Glasgow House, Christie, Henderson & Co., Acton. Crompton's original Corset, only 75 cents.

—Our friends must not be frightened nor yet say there is nothing in this issue of the FREE PRESS. The large advertisement which occupies the whole of the second page is to have only two insertions—this week and next. We shall have our usual amount of reading matter after that time, and trust we will be forgiven for occasionally devoting so large a space to advertisements, as it is only by a liberal patronage of our advertisers that we are enabled to publish the paper at the low price of one dollar per annum. We trust that Mr. Hynds will reap the rich reward due to his enterprising spirit.

—The best line of 12½ cent Winceys in the market; the best line of 15 cent Winceys in the market; the best lines of low priced Winceys in the market, at the Glasgow House, Acton, Christie, Henderson & Co., sell cheap. See their famous 50c Kids.

Social Gathering.

On Friday evening last a number of members and friends of the Methodist Church of Canada, convened in the basement of the church, for the purpose of spending a social evening with Messrs. T. Eubage and John Ross, and families, previous to their departure from the Village. The proceedings of the evening were opened with prayer by Rev. Mr. Hobbs, after which the guests surrounded the tables which were well laden with good things provided by the lady friends of the church. Short addresses by Rev. R. Hobbs and Messrs. Eubage, Ross, Speight and Thomas Moore, were delivered, each referring to the happy hours spent during the past in the company of those who are about to depart from our midst and all expecting to meet each other in the "better country" when the transitory things of this world are past. At intervals during the evening the choir discoursed some very appropriate music. The assembly dispersed at a seasonable hour, all feeling that the time had been profitably spent.

Open Division.

A large and orderly number of the villagers congregated at the Temperance Hall on Tuesday evening last, for the purpose of attending the Open Division which was being held there under the auspices of Acton Division S. of T. About eight o'clock Mr. W. H. Mellondick, W. P., took the chair. The entertainment opened by singing the Division opening ode, after which Bro. John Speight offered up prayer. The chairman then made a short address announcing the object of the meeting. Mr. James Loxton then rendered an instrumental solo in good style, and was followed by a reading by Miss Clara Speight, "The History of Five Old Maids," which all related the reason why they were not married. Solo, "Creative," which Miss Maggie Nicklin gave in her usual pleasing way, and was followed by a duet address by the Rev. R. Hobbs—Mr. H. P. Moore rendered a difficult recitation in an excellent manner. A cornet quartette, by Messrs. J. C. Hill, C. W. Hill, A. E. Nicklin and Master T. Hill was lengthy enclosed. Mr. John Speight declined speaking. The next part of the entertainment was a dialogue "The Ugly Governess" by Miss A. C. Griffin and Annie Moore, which was well rendered. This is a new feature (Illness and Infirmities and we mortals think it "takes immensely." A trio by Masters. J. C. Hill, A. E. Matthews and C. W. Hill, accompanied by Miss A. Nicklin on the organ received the applause it merited. "The Naughty Little Girl" by Miss M. Griffin, a very little girl, was exceedingly well recited, and finely "brought down the house." The encore was responded to in an excellent style by a well-selected temperance piece. Miss Maggie Nicklin, two well rendered solo, "People will talk," gave some good advice, which some people in this village would take note of. Recitation, "Please sir, may I ask you," by one of the said ones. The above-mentioned quartette again favored the audience with one of their excellent selections. Another dialogue, by Mr. Fred. Rh s and Miss C. Griffin on, brought to light some of the vagaries of married life. After the usual vote of thanks the audience joined in singing the National Anthem, when the meeting broke up.

Village Council.

The Council met in Matthew's Hall, on Monday evening, Dec. 9th. All the members present. Minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

The Cemetery committee reported that they had visited the land owned by Mr. Allan, on Main street, below Hynds' Hill, and found that there was a very good site for a Cemetery, but Mr. Allan asked too high a price—$1,000 being asked for whatever size of lot he would require. They also visited a lot of eight acres, behind Matthews' hop-yard, and found a splendid site, but the price asked by Mr. Matthews was also too high—being $100 per acre.

The Finance Committee presented its eighth report, as follows:—Street and Sidewalk Committee, $152.36; J. C. Hill, stationery, $2.52; Jno. Ross, postage, etc, $4.14; T. A. & H. P. Moore, printing, 50 cents; in all $158.52, and recommended the payment of the same.

Moved by Messrs. Speight and Smith that the report of the Finance Committee be adopted and that the Reeve issue his cheques for the same. Carried.

Nassagaweya Items.

To the Editor of the Free Press.

My pen has been rather sluggish lately, not from a lack of desire to write, but owing to the scarcity of material of a newsy nature and suitable for the columns of a lively local sheet. Besides I did not wish to crowd my imagination for to, is something like a horse in this neighborhood—all that keeps it up is atmospherical pressure.

The denizens of Nassagaweya are strangely excited over the prospect of seeing the "Iron Horse" traversing the line of the Credit Valley, and it appears the success of the project is now placed beyond a doubt. The advent of the Marquis of Lorne, the Afghanistan trouble, the Glasgow Bank failure and even the grand National Policy itself sink into insignificance, compared to the long looked for "coming at last."

Business is slack and the languishing cry is "hurry up Sir John." One noticeable feature in this almost universal demand for a speedy trial of Protection, is that those who were the most active in opposition to it and declared explicity that it would fill up the well and throw ashes on the sward of Canadian Prosperity, are the loudest in their demands for an instant trial. Either they do not believe in what they reiterated so earnestly before the election, or they are crying for the ruin of their country. Let them cry with Campbell,

"Rise fellow-men, our Country yet remains."

The Protectionists have been in power two months, and the apples and potatoes are rotting, wheat has only 75 cents per bushel, sleighing has not come, and with a happy, free and a loyal people stand it any longer? Yes, Mr. Editor, and to those who would yet complain, after all the blessings we have enjoyed I would say, "We dont want you here, go to the Sahara and buy a little oasis of your own."

Notwithstanding the hard times many of the swells hereabouts have taken unto themselves wives, and several more are thinking about going and doing likewise. Let those beware who are in the habit of singing;

"From Hymen keep me ever free,
Young Cupid is the boy for me,
I'll woo all beauty to my bower,
And rove like bees from flower to flower.

Mr. W. J. Kidney has obtained license in Campbellville and has opened his hotel. The inhabitants of Campbellville have the prospect of waking up some morning and finding that they are living on another man's property. I hear a "claimant" has appeared in the person of a decendant of Colin Campbell, the original possessor. Whatever truth there may be in it, the Campbellvillians had better have their loose property in a moveable condition. When anything strange happens you will hear from

Yours truly,
