A GOOD ACCOUNT.
To some of our long years old-timers, sickness and suffering, during the past week, $100,000 worth of which was soaped by the Rev. Mr. Hobbs, taken by a wife, who has done her own housework for a year since without the loss of a day, and I want everybody to know it for their betters.

—We have several times received letters from various places asking information regarding prospects of opening business here. We do not need more stores, but we do want any amount of manufacturers, and such should receive every encouragement possible.

—That old Irish lady's SALVE, called the Ales Craig Salve, is reported as making wonderful cures, and is said never to fail if used according to instructions. It professes to cure any sore, young or old, no matter by what name called, to which it can get access. The Rev. Mr. Atkinson, of Ales Craig, replies to any inquiries about it.

—A young man of this village whose best girl eats more ice cream than he can afford, submits the following protest: Young girls who desire to keep a fresh and rosy complexion must not eat ice cream or candies in hot weather. The rosiest cheek will become pimply and greasy on a diet of such trash. Young gentlemen ought to club together and refuse to destroy the rosy cheeks of young ladies by cramming them with ice cream and other deleterious trash.

—The Waterloo Chronicle says:—During the absence of Rev. B. W. Williams, Berlin, at the Stationing Committee and Conference sessions, the pulpits have been handed over to the brethren of the quill.

—Last Sabbath, Mr. T. A. Moore, late of the Acton Free Press, took all the services very acceptably, and next Sabbath, Mr. Moyer, of the Waterloo, takes Berlin in the morning and the Waterloo in the afternoon, and the editor of the Chronicle takes the evening service in Berlin.

FOR CHICAGO.—About nine o'clock on Sunday evening a special train of seven passenger and three baggage cars passed through Acton on the Grand Trunk Railway en route for Chicago. There were on board four hundred Greenbackers from the States on their way to Chicago to attend the Greenback-Labor Convention.

IMPOLITE.—A number of young men make a practice of congregating on the sidewalks at the entrance to the different churches, at the congregations are diminishing on Sunday evenings, to the annoyance of others, especially to the ladies. Equal to Telegraphy.
It is not so many years ago when and Professor Morse as visionary. We all know how he was ridiculed and derided. His friends thought he was a madman, but his genius was not to be so easily put down. He was equal to the task, and his invention has done more for the world than any other man since the days of the first printing press. It is now equal to telegraphy, and is the most valuable invention since the days of the first printing press.

HOW TO WRITE FOR NEWSPAPERS.
1. Have something to write about. 2. Write plain; do not use 's'; cross your 'e's; point sentences; begin with capitals. 3. Write short; to the point; stop when you have done. 4. Write only on one side of the leaf. 5. Read it over, abridge and correct it, until you get it into the shortest possible space. 6. Pay the postage.

PATMASTER'S DUTY.—Patmaster of rural municipalities will do well to remember that the Act amending the "Acta Thirtieth Act" takes away its optional character, and makes it imperative on them to see that its provisions are carried out, without having first obtained an order from the Municipal Council. It also requires the notice to the owners of land overrun with thistles to be served on them not later than the 25th June.

BEWARE.—A certain class of persons have lately engaged in the disgraceful practice of decorating the walls of the offices in connection with the public school premises, with drawings, cuttings and pencillings of an obscene character. The Board of Trustees have taken the matter in hand, and will expel any pupil from the school, and prosecute any person not attending school who engages in this filthy and disgraceful arrangement.

SEVERE ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday night George Carr, Carpenter, Limehouse, left this village for home about 10 o'clock, and proceeded along the railway track. He attempted to cross the cattle-guard at the south of Acton station, but being too full of bad whiskey he tumbled off the rail, and fell into the trench. He was laid there until morning, when he was found by one of the G. T. H. employees, and was unable to move himself. It was thought that his back was broken, but medical examination proved differently. He was badly bruised however and was taken home by the village constable.
