

THE FREE PRESS.

ATLANTIC, THURSDAY, Dec. 9, 1880.

YOUNG FOOLS CORNER.

The New Arrival.

Ma.

A charming little tiddy biddy bit of mother's blues.
A tiny tidbit, sweet as flower of spring;
A precious posy—wavy—give it mummy;
darn, a kiss.

A pretty darling tay wavy ting.

Pa.

So here's the little fellow I'll have! A healthy-looking chappy.
Another mouth to feed, as sure as fate!
No, wife, I don't consider that his coming's
a misfortune.

But still I could have done with less than eight!

Bonanza.

My eyes! Is that the baby? What a jolly little pop!

But I say, ma, wherever is its nose?

And I say, father, by-and-by, when he gets measles grown up,

He'll wear my worn-out jackets, I suppose.

Uncle.

Another! Well, thank goodness, I am not a married man.

What! Don't I think him pretty? No, I don't.

To keep him from the workhouse you must do the best you can;

Don't think that I'll assist you—for I won't!

Dootra.

How are we getting on to-day? I trust we soon shall need.

We crusts that we're strong just yet;
You know;
We'd better take a something which this afternoon I'll need,
And let me see—hum!—ha!—ah, yes—
just so.

Knick.

He's lovely, is he, mum? See them
sturdy little legs!

He's twice the size of Lady Smithies'

third;

And when he comes a-cutting of his little
tooty-pegs,

He'll be a man, he will, upon my word.

Nichor.

Oh, you, dear, he looks healthy, but you
mustn't trust to that—

I do wish, of course, your hopes to
day,

But when I see a tender babe, so ready,
strong and fat.

I—look dear, on his face! Is that a rash?

Ma.

A charming little tiddy biddy bit of mother's blues.

A tiny tidbit, sweet as flower of spring;

A precious posy—wavy—give it mummy;
darn, a kiss.

A pretty darling tay wavy ting!

Mind:

Mind your tongue! Don't let it speak
hasty, cruel, unkind, or wicked words!

Mind your eyes! Don't permit them to look on wicked looks, pictures, or objects.

Mind your ears! Don't suffer them to listen to wicked speeches, songs, or words.

Mind your lips! Don't let tobacco fool
them. Don't let strong drink pass them.

Don't let the food of the glutton enter between them.

Wit and Humor.

Jail birds are not confined in gilt
cages.

There are more fashions in the city,
but more stiles in the country.

It is the man with the rheumatism
who is every inch a king (aching).

Burglars have been finding out lately
that there is a good deal of danger in a safe robbery.

Said an old woodchopper: "Whenever I want to find a chip of the old
block I just ax the block."

One difference between a sailor and a showman is that a sailor likes a lighthouse and a showman does not.

Be careful about going out of doors
without anything on your head, or into
company without anything in it.

"Write foregoes on your slate," said
a teacher to the juvenile class in
spelling; and a little girl wrote, "Go,
go, go, go."

When the starch manufacturers got
together to put up prices, the chairman
said: "All we want to do is to stiffen
the market."

It is singular how differently the
same climate affects different people.
Undertakers thrive where other people
die in the greatest numbers.

Said a landlady to her nephew who
was boarding with her: "I have given you your board, Bill, and now I want you to give me my board bill."

"What must I do?" asked a mean
and conceited man of a friend who
knew him well, "to get a picture of the one I love most?" "Sit for your
own portrait," was the reply.

Schoolmistress (just beginning a nice
improving lesson upon minerals to the
juniors).—"Now, what are the principal
things we get out of the earth?" Yontiful angler, aged 4 (confidently)—
"Worms."

It requires a man of good common
sense to fall in love with a plain
woman.

The following was recently written
and sent by a distinguished elegyman
to his mother. It was sent on a postal card:

From sweet Isaiah's sacred song, chapter
9, verse 6,
First words please take, and the following effect:
From Genesis the 85th, verse 17th, no
more;
Then add verse 26 of Kings, book 2nd,
chapter 4;
The last two verses, chapter 1, 1st book of Samuel;
And last what on this day your loving son
sighed.

WORDS OF WISDOM.

Reprove others, but correct thyself.
Your neighbor is thy one to whom you can do good.

Prosperity is a blessing to the good,
but a curse to the evil.

Benevolence is allied to few vice-sins; it is allied to fewer virtues.

Buy what thou hast no need of,
and no long shall sell thy accords.

He who cannot command his thoughts must not hope to command his actions.

Borrowed thoughts, like borrowed money, only reveals the poverty that controlled the loan.

There are many men who might govern
multitudes, if they could govern
their tongues.

There is no trait in the human character so potential for woe or woe
as firmness of purpose.

A promise is a just debt, which you must take care to pay, for honor and honest-ty are the security.

Many a sweet-formed mouth has been disfigured and made hideous by the fiery tongue within it.

If we examine the subject, it is not pride that makes us angry, but the want of foundation for pride.

Speak of yourself as seldom as may be. If you praise yourself it is arroggance; if you disgrace, it is folly.

Silence is generally safe, and generally prudent, but there are times when it is disgraceful to be silent.

The champion jack of all-trades belongs to England, and lives near Chichester. He has served as sexton in the four quarters of the globe, and acted as steward, sailmaker, cook, mate, and navigator. He now hangs out his sign as "Prof. Pullinger, constructor, inventor, silberman, builder,
carpenter, joiner, sawyer, undertaker,
turner, cooper, painter, glazier, sign
painter, pumpmaker, paper hanger,
bell hanger, boat builder, clock cleaner, locksmith, umbrellas repairer, china and glass mender, netknitter, wireworker,
grocer, baker, farmer, taxidermist,
copying clerk, letter writer, accountant,
surveyor, engineer, land measure, house
agent, verity clerk, assistant overseer, clerk to the Selby Sparrow Club, clerk
to the Selby police, assessor and collector of land tax and property and income tax, and collector of church and highway rates."

He's lovely, is he, mum? See them
sturdy little legs!

He's twice the size of Lady Smithies'

third;

And when he comes a-cutting of his little
tooty-pegs,

He'll be a man, he will, upon my word.

Nichor.

Ob, you, dear, he looks healthy, but you
mustn't trust to that—

I do wish, of course, your hopes to
day,

But when I see a tender babe, so ready,
strong and fat.

I—look dear, on his face! Is that a rash?

Ma.

A charming little tiddy biddy bit of mother's
blues.

A tiny tidbit, sweet as flower of spring;

A precious posy—wavy—give it mummy;
darn, a kiss.

A pretty darling tay wavy ting!

Mind:

Mind your tongue! Don't let it speak
hasty, cruel, unkind, or wicked words!

Mind your eyes! Don't permit them to
look on wicked looks, pictures, or objects.

Mind your ears! Don't suffer them to listen to wicked speeches, songs, or words.

Mind your lips! Don't let tobacco fool
them. Don't let strong drink pass them.

Don't let the food of the glutton enter between them.

Wit and Humor.

Jail birds are not confined in gilt
cages.

There are more fashions in the city,
but more stiles in the country.

It is the man with the rheumatism
who is every inch a king (aching).

Burglars have been finding out lately
that there is a good deal of danger in a
safe robbery.

Said an old woodchopper: "When-
ever I want to find a chip of the old
block I just ax the block."

One difference between a sailor and a
showman is that a sailor likes a lighthouse and a showman does not.

Be careful about going out of doors
without anything on your head, or into
company without anything in it.

"Write foregoes on your slate," said
a teacher to the juvenile class in
spelling; and a little girl wrote, "Go,
go, go, go."

When the starch manufacturers got
together to put up prices, the chairman
said: "All we want to do is to stiffen
the market."

It is singular how differently the
same climate affects different people.
Undertakers thrive where other people
die in the greatest numbers.

Said a landlady to her nephew who
was boarding with her: "I have
given you your board, Bill, and now I
want you to give me my board bill."

"What must I do?" asked a mean
and conceited man of a friend who
knew him well, "to get a picture of
the one I love most?" "Sit for your
own portrait," was the reply.

Schoolmistress (just beginning a nice
improving lesson upon minerals to the
juniors).—"Now, what are the principal
things we get out of the earth?" Yon-
tiful angler, aged 4 (confidently)—
"Worms."

It requires a man of good common
sense to fall in love with a plain
woman.

The following was recently written
and sent by a distinguished elegyman
to his mother. It was sent on a postal
card:

From sweet Isaiah's sacred song, chapter
9, verse 6,
First words please take, and the following effect:
From Genesis the 85th, verse 17th, no
more;
Then add verse 26 of Kings, book 2nd,
chapter 4;
The last two verses, chapter 1, 1st book of Samuel;
And last what on this day your loving son
sighed.

UNEQUALLED VALUE IN Dress Goods AT THE RIGHT HOUSE.

Just to hand, a case of all-wool French Berges well worth $40, are being sold off at $25, having been bought for cash under peculiar circumstances at far less than the manufacturer's price. Canadian Blankets received lately from one of the best makers in Canada at a large reduction on late prices, will be sold.

WATKINS' sales have been enormous, that he had to re-order almost every week this season from the European markets. Your bales of the best Tapisserie Carpets arrived this week, which were bought for cash at 10 pence sterling per yard under regular prices, and will be sold very cheap.

Very handsome Embroidered Piano Covers arrived this week. Another shipment of those beautiful blue black and jet black French Cashmeres to hand this week. Sure to set the $20 and $30 Black Ostrich Feathers in this week. Silk Chiffon Timmings arrived this week. Dress Buttons and Hairpins. Silk Organ Crapes Ties from Spitalfield this week. Beautiful Canton Crepe Ties from the house Chau San of China this week. A large lot of heavy Ultra Crapes for men and boys' Coats, and Ladies' Mantles at one-third less than real value, having been bought at an immense reduction for cash. Crompton's Corsets have an amazingly large sale. Just see the $12 and $15 Club. The HIGH HOUSE, 30 and 32 King St., east, close to Huguenot. Remember the name is Hamilton, Dec. 29th, 1880.

THOMAS C. WATKINS, HAMILTON.

A distinct and peculiar Combination.

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

IT contains the elements essential to the animal organization, the oxidizing agents and tonics.

In combination with the stimulating agent phosphorus, preserving the merit of being slightly alkaline, and disposed in the convenient and palatable form of a syrup.

Its effects are usually visible within twenty-four hours, and are marked by a stimulation of the appetite, the digestion and assimilation entering directly into the circulation; it tones the nerves and muscles, exerts a healthy action of the secretions; neither disturbs the stomach nor injures the system under prolonged use, and may be discontinued at any time without inconvenience.

In a word, it possesses the stimulants to arouse the strength, the tonics to retain it, and merits of a high degree.

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES