YOUNG FOLKS' CORNER.

Mother's Day.

What this voice is loud and ride!
What if his ways are rather long?
What if he isn't as pretty and trim?
What if this coat has sometimes twang?
What if he laughs when he should not?
What if he talks when he should be still?
Let such boys laugh and laugh, says I.
And let them talk till they've talked their fill.
For my boy, I know, is a manly boy;
He is the stuff of which men are made;
He is not handsome nor graceful, nor wise,
But he is all that is noble, instead.
His heart is warm and tender, I know,
For all the roughness there is outside;
And I love 'twill be ever pure and true;
The storms and temptations may befile.

No Matter Who Offers it, Let it Come.

Hundreds of thousands of the young have never tasted dangerous liquors, and we trust that they will be mercifully preserved, not only from evils of intemperance, but from every other vice. But it is a painful fact, that many poor drunkards have died the first step in their ruin to the Christmas "Dass" drunk at "home, sweet home." Whilst we write these lines we have a letter before us from the Rev. John S. Warkum, in which he states: "A short time since, a youth, ruined by dissipation and drunkenness, on his dying bed uttered, as almost his last words, 'My mother gave me the glassa!'"

Four P's

"If only I may succeed!" exclaimed the beginner in a useful work, which at first did not seem to promise much success. "You will, if you do not leave the four P's out of your plan," said a grey-haired friend who was at hand. "What do you mean?" asked the other, unable to understand him. "The four P's stand for Prayer, Patience and Perseverance," was the reply; and I know of nothing which these will not conquer."

Are you ever inclined to be faint-hearted in any work that is put in your hands to do for God? Then trust that you, too, take the four P's out of your plan; and I have no doubt at all that you will succeed.

Golden Glaems

Unmerited honor never wear well.
Look at the bright side. Keep the sunniness of a living faith in your heart.

Unto thyself be true, and it shall follow as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man.

Cunning and greedy people rarely gain much; and ungrateful ones are generally punished in the end.

The worst education that teaches self denial is better than the best that teaches everything else and not that.

The habit of being employed is a great safeguard through life, as well as essential to the culture of every virtue.

A man's ordinary expenses ought to be but to the half of his receipts, and if he thinks to wax rich, but to the third part.

As by constant friction, steel is kept highly polished, so by constant exercise is talent ever at its brightest. All our powers grow by use.

The essence of true nobility is neglect of self. Let the thought of self pass in, and the beauty of great action is gone, like the bloom from a soiled flower.

Falshood, like poison will generally be rejected when administered alone; but when blended with wholesome ingredients may be swallowed unperceived.

If the time ever comes when a lie will help a man you will be able to tan leather with the bark of a dog.

Short Rules for Home Use.

Put self last.
When others are suffering drop a word of sympathy.

Tell of your own faults rather than those of others.

A place for everything, and every thing in its place.

Hide your own little troubles, but wait to help others in theirs.

Take hold of the knob and shut every door behind you without slamming it.

Never interrupt any conversation, but wait patiently your turn to speak.

Look for beauty in everything, and take a cheerful view of every event.

Carefully clean the mud and snow from your boots before entering the house.

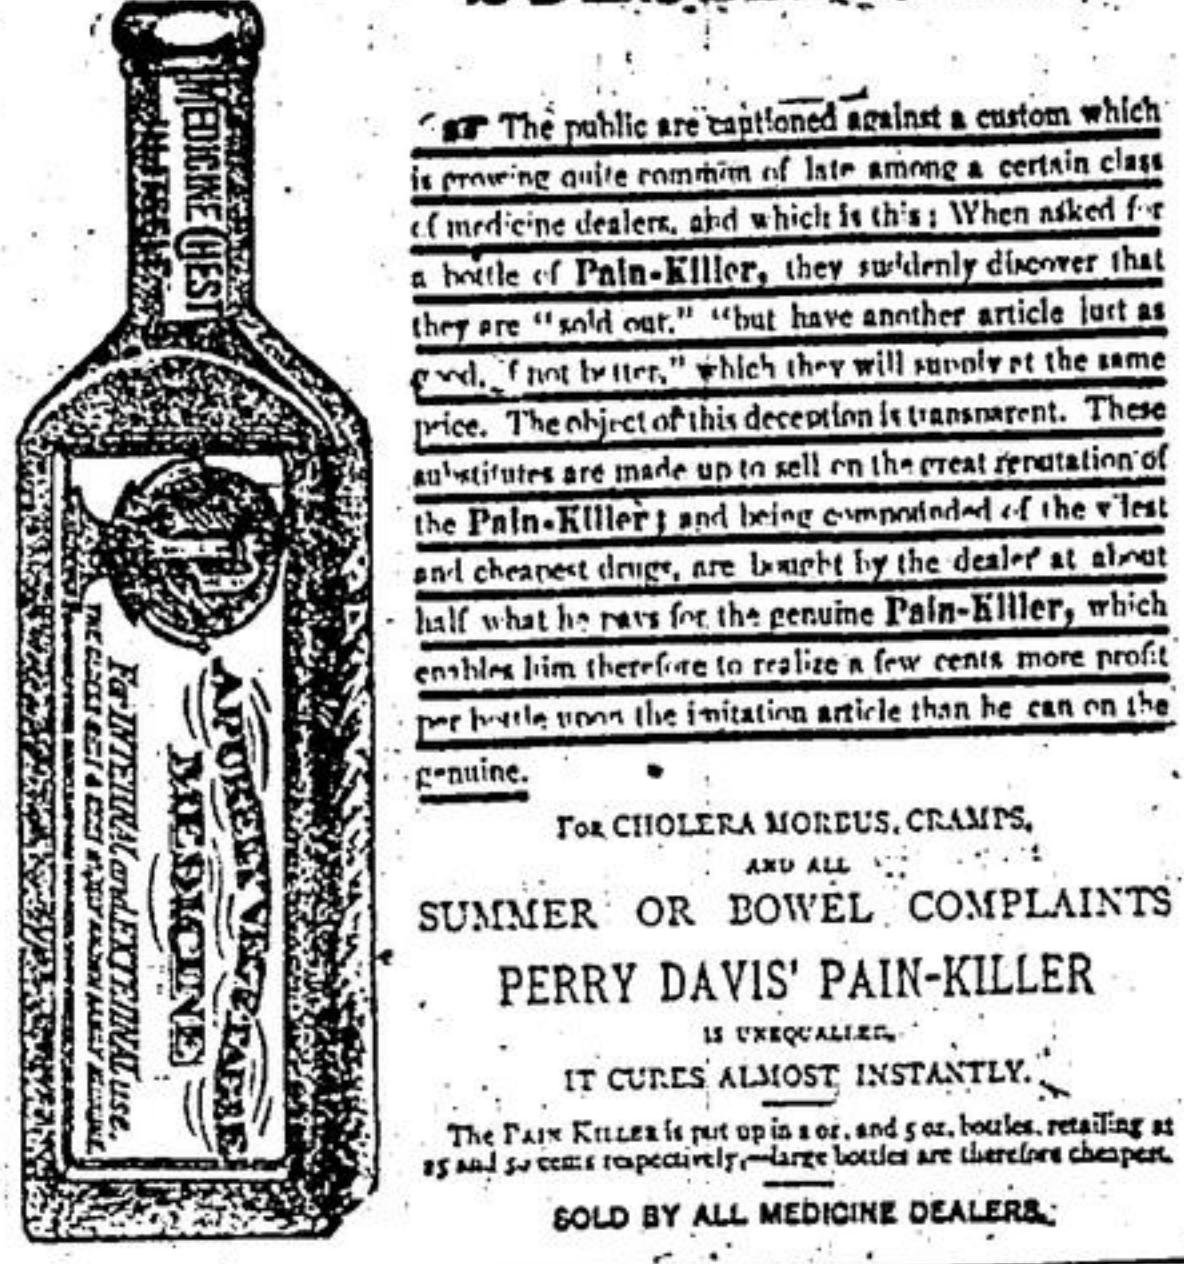

THOMAS C. WATKINS, HAMILTON.

STILL GREATER REDUCTIONS IN PRICES AT THE "RIGHT HOUSE."

Watkins has been busy this week marking down goods to still lower prices. Just see the Black Cashmere, good and wool, all wool, fast French dyed blacks at $5, 40, 60, 70, 80c, and the fine black Cashmere is now more than reduced, his Blankets have enormous sale. Remember that Blankets were bought late in the season after the great fall in prices of Blankets, and he has marked them down far below their former prices. His sale of Silk Quilts is fabulous. The silk in this quality has sold over 100 Quilts, and as for Blankets, they have gone crazy after the silk. Silks and Velveteens are going off in splendid style. An immense reduction made on Silks in both black and colors for dress lengths. The best in Hamilton, and they are going off lively. Dress Goods are still selling at a great reduction in prices. The sale of corsets has more than trebled lately. Good Corsets for 25c, excellent Corsets in all sizes, up to 36, at only 37c. All wool French Satinette are being sold off fast. The sale of corsets has more than trebled lately. Good Corsets for 25c, excellent Corsets in all sizes, up to 36, at only 37c.
