YOUNG FOLKS CORNER.

WONDERFUL WORDS.

Keep a quiet eye on your children, for sometimes they are as mischievous as devils. They are as sweet as the best fresh honey. Like the bees they have their stings. They are as like the dancing sunbeams. And breathe a new life. They are cut in the style of amber. Like an open, two-leafed knife. Let them pass through your life untroubled. If their errand is true and kind. If they come to support the weary. To comfort and to let the blind. If a later, avenged spirit prompts the word, let them be useful. They may dash through the trials of lightning, or fall on the heart like lead. Keep them back if they're cold and cruel. Underbar, and look, and weep. The words they make, our darlings. Are always so low. May never meet our lives, and end. From this time of your early youth. May the words that you daily utter. Be the beautiful words of truth.

The Cost of Thoughtlessness.

Charles Knight quotes an old story of M. Say, a French writer, to show the value of a nail driven in season, or a stitch taken in time, as our readers may be boys or girls. In M. Say's country, a horse was wanted on a job of hounding to the burn yard. It was particularly sporting and fast so that the poultry ran away and got lost. One day a fine pig escaped and ran into the woods, with the gardener, the cook and the dairy-maid in hot pursuit. The gardener caught sight of the run away first, and sprained his ankle, an accident which disabled him for a fortnight. When the cook returned from the chase, she found that some linen which she had left to dry, had caught fire. The dairy-maid, having forgotten in her hurry to tie up one of the cows, the cow had kicked a colt and broken its leg. The gardener's lost time was worth 20 crowns, and he suffered a good deal of pain. The burnt linen and the injured colt were worth as much more. So the want of a three penny latch cost 40 crowns and a great deal of vexation to several persons.

A Fine Scene.

Two boys were in a school room alone together, when some fire works, contrary to the master's express prohibition, exploded. The one boy denied it, the other, Ben Christie, would neither admit nor deny it, and was severely flogged for his obstinacy. "When the boys got alone again—

"Why didn't you deny it?" asked the real offender.

"Because there were only we two, and one of us must have lied," said Ben.

"Then why not say I did it?"

"Because you said you didn't, and I would spare the liar."

The boy's heart melted. Ben's moral gallantry subdued him. When school re-assembled, the young culprit marched up to the master's desk, and said—

"Please, sir I can't bear to be a liar. I let off the spittle" and he burst into tears.

The master's eye glinted on the self accuser, and the undesired punishment he had inflicted on the other boy smote his conscience. Before the whole school, hand-in-hand with the culprit, as if he and the other boy joined in the confession; the master walked down to where young Christie sat, and said aloud—

"Ben, Ben, lad, he and I beg your pardon; 'ere were both to blame!"

The school was hushed and still, and bolder scholars were apt to be when something true and noble is being done; so still, they might almost have heard Ben's big boy tears dripping on his book, as he sat enjoying the moral triumph which subdued himself as well as the rest. And when from want of anything else to say, he gently cried: "Master forgive!" the loud shouts of the scholars filled the old man's eyes with something behind his spectacles, which made him wipe them before he sat down again.

Jacob Lockman, Buffalo, N. Y. says he has been using Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for rheumatism; he had such a lame back he could not do anything but one bottle has to tell his own expression, "I cured him up." He thinks it is the best thing in the market.

Mr. George Toulon, Druggist, Gravenhurst, Ont., writes: "My customers who have used Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspepsia cure say that it has done them more good than anything they have ever used." It has indeed a wonderful influence in purifying the blood and curing diseases of the Digestive Organs, the Liver, Kidneys and all disorders of the system.

Mr. W. R. Lutz, Baltimore, Md., Belle-Mine writes: "I first used Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for rheumatism and it has been the best medicine I have ever used in my life. I have used it for bruises, scratches, wind puffs and cuts, and in every case it gave me the best satisfaction. We use it as a household remedy for colds, Lungs, &c., and as a perfect analgesic. It will remove warts by parting them down and applying it occasionally."

Mr. Amhart, Cor. Pratt and Broad ways, has been a sufferer for two years through rheumatism, and has tried every remedy she could hear of, but received no benefit, until she tried Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. She says she cannot express the satisfaction she feels at having her pain entirely removed and her rheumatism cured.

It is commonly said that you cannot make an honest man believe that white is black and vice versa, but those who have grey hair, by using the "Cingalux Hair Renewer," will find that this apparent difficulty is easily overcome. For sale by J. E. McGarrin, 50 cents per bottle.

Had Suffered many Physicians and grew no better but rather worse. Mr. D. H. Howard, of Geneva, N. Y., after dismissing his physicians, tried and tried again a row of the various blood and liver remedies advertised with no benefit; when one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him of Paralysis and General Debility. At the advanced age of 60, he says he feels young again, and is crested by his wonderful recovery.

A Public Meeting should be called of the citizens of every city, town and village in the Dominion, to consider what should be done to prevent the hair from turning grey, and falling out. If this important question received their earnest consideration they would unanimously decide that science had at last discovered something that would answer this purpose—and furthermore would recommend Clingalux Hair Renewer as being the best method for restoring the hair to its natural color, and prevent its falling out. 50 cents per bottle, at J. E. McGarrin's.
