

YOUNG FOLKS CORNER.

MAIMED BY... A maiden was struck at Aconit... The night of a robber attacked...

THE WASHING MAMA.

Oh see the young girl... In her hair, she wears... The night of a robber attacked...

Only A Boot-Black.

"Get out of the way, will you I can't see" cried Fred, pushing aside the ragged figure of a boot black...

The ragged figure was about to give Fred as good as he sent, when suddenly he saw Fred's father standing beside him, and made way grudgingly a little, however.

"Fred!" his father cried at once, "what the way to speak that boy as good right to the window as you leave."

"But he's only a boot black, father." "And what of that, I say to you," but the boot black was so close to Fred's father's eye...

"I don't think he would care, father," was Fred's reply. "But probably it does care, and such treatment as that, day after day, is what makes the boot black and makes him a boot black."

"A fact." "If you suffer from Chronic Disease, and have little faith in advertised remedies, you have sought vainly for a cure."

"I never pretend to know all that I don't, remarked Brown, when I don't know a thing, I say so. 'I don't know.'"

Do not be Deceived. In these times of Quack medicine advertisements everywhere, it is truly gratifying to find one remedy that is worthy of praise and which really does as recommended.

"Synapse has a female architect," reports a western newspaper; whereupon slighted one writes: "London hasn't a female architect, but she has more than one designing woman."

Jacob H. Bloomer, of Virgil, N. Y. writes: "Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil cured a badly excoriated neck on my son in forty-eight hours; one application also relieved the pain from a very sore toe; my wife's foot was also much inflamed, so much so that she could not walk about the house; she applied the oil, and in twenty-four hours was entirely cured."

Gentlemen (calling at the house of a friend), "Is your mistress in?" "Mary." "She is here." "Gentleman: 'Is she engaged?'" "Mary: 'Faith, she's more than that—she's married.'"

Mr. W. A. Wane, Westport, writes: "I wish to commend you for the wonderful results which followed the use of Northrop & Drayman's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda."

New York has an artificial flower maker named "Gloria." That's the question generally put by the bar-tender, and the answer will time produce artificial flowers on the suawer's nose.
