BITS OF BREVITY.

Local and otherwise, prepared by the use of the pen and scissor for readers of the Free Press.

A new leaf.
Another year begins.
Eighteen eighty-three.
The schools opened again yesterday.
How do you like our calendar for 1885?
New subscriptions are now pouring in rapidly.
The skating rink is now in very good condition.
The woodswaying brigade bare their hands full at present.

We hear that there was a municipal election in Acton this week.

Did any citizen imagine that the civic election would take the turn they did?

The hand-shaking and baby-kissing business is over for another twelve months.

The principal item on New Year's day's programme was the municipal election.

Did the tolling of the bells at the opening of the year disturb your pleasant dreams?

The Georgetown council is having a good deal of trouble in enforcing the snow by-law.

The family of Mr. W. McCrae, M.P., of Oakville are, we are happy to learn, convalescent.

Last Year's Village Council was nearly all Glad. This year the Tory element predominates.

Horse flesh must have suffered on Monday. The equines did their part in the elections.

There is said to be a great deal of sickness in Georgetown. Scarlet fever is very prevalent.

Our chief constable told the old year out and the new year in with the Congregational Church bell.

Watch-night services of an interesting character were held in the Methodist Church on Sunday night.

The installation of officers in Walker Lodge, A.P. & A.M., took place last Wednesday evening—St. John's day.

We are informed that a jubilee supper and concert was held at Agnew's Hotel on Monday night, after the election.

Cigars were plentifully distributed on Monday. They seem to be taking the place of strong drink on such occasions.

The Milton News treated its readers to a half sheet last week, and the Georgetown Herald suspends publication this week.

Remember that the Canadian Jubilee Singers will give a stated concert in the Methodist Church next Thursday evening.

Messrs. Nelson & McRae announce a grand dancing sale. Full particulars will be given in their new advertisement next week.

The amount expended on the bridge in the township of Nelson, by the County Council, was $2,000, and not $2,200 as stated in our last issue.

There are four dedicated municipal candidates in this constituency. Their appearance, however, do not indicate any particular regard at being left out.

Farmers and others drafting a general, lucrative agency business, by which $1 to $20 a day can be earned, send address at once, to H. C. Wilkinson & Co., 162 and 167 Fidus Street, New York.

It is rumored that a hairy house exists in Acton, and that it is patronized to a considerable extent by young men who would dislike very much to have their names made public. The first work of the new council should be to have this iniquitous concern "pulled."

The representative Reformers of Acton and, vicinity, among whom were Messrs. Col. Allan, D. D. Christie, James Moore, Edward Nicklin, Eli Snyder, John T. Brown, John Warren, Arch. Campbell, Bobt. Warren, Robt. Kennedy, Alex. Laby, Alex. Waldie, A. O. Wheeler, M. Lamb, and Thomas Watson, went to Toronto yesterday to attend the Reform Convention in that city.

Correction.
In our last issue the types made us say that O'Rourke would be executed to-morrow. The item was intended for this week's paper.

sons of Temperance Entertainment.

The Sons of Temperance of this village held their annual entertainment on New Year's evening. The programme was an excellent one, and was greatly enjoyed by those present, but the attendance was not as large as could have been desired. The singing of Mrs. D. D. Christie and Misses E. Cameron and M. Nicklin was very much appreciated, and the Acton Glee Club fully sustained their previous well-earned reputation. The instrumental solos and accompaniments by Miss Haslett were especially well rendered, and the piano and violin duets by Messrs. J. C. and C. V. Hill, as usual, won encores every time. Mr. John Warren gave a short and very acceptable address. The chair was very filled by Mr. D. D. Christie. The pianist used was from the warrooms of Mr. R. Craine, who kindly loaned it for the occasion, and was one of the excellent instruments manufactured by the Dominion Organ Co. The power assumed that the Acton Brass Band would be in attendance, but owing to the illness of one or two members, and the absence of others, the committee was obliged to proceed with the programme without their assistance.

VILLAGE VARIETIES.

A collection of local news and other matters of special interest to our village readers.

Carroll vs. Ryer.

At the trial of Hiram Ryer in this case, before the Judge at Milton last Thursday, he was fined $10 and costs, and released.

Journals Change.

The Milton Standard has changed hands and is now under the control of Messrs. D. W. Campbell and J. Paxton, both of Milton. We wish the Standard success under the new management.

Accident.

Mr. J. A. Spight met with an accident while working with a slapping machine in his shop last week, by which one of his fingers was severely injured. To add to the trouble he caught cold in the wound, and it is now very painful.

Search Warrant.

Wouldn't it be a good idea to procure a warrant and institute a search for the sidewalk leading from the G.T.R. depot to the Mill street crossing. We are not sure that it is far away, and a search in the snow might result in its being found.

Arm Broken.

Last Thursday while Duncan, a fifteen year old son of Mr. John McFayall, who resides a short distance below this village, was climbing up a hay rick, breaking his right arm above the elbow. Dr. Lowry was called in and reduced the fracture.

Handsome Present.

From the Ladies' Advocate, we clip the following, referring to the former Acton boy:—"Rev. T. A. Moore, formerly Canada Methodist Minister in the Belmont Circuit, was presented with a comfortable $5.00 cutter on Thursday evening last, by his friends on the Salford circuit, where he is now stationed."

Satidays.

These subscribers whose subscriptions expired with the close of 1882 are rapidly renewing, and many are the kind words tendered on the excellence of the Fifth Plate as a local family paper, and for the enterprise which has placed our office among all others in the country, in the matter of superior outfit and appliances.

A New Webkin.

At exchange, says:—"The following feature for an entertainment is new, and likely to become popular. It is termed a 'Basket Social.' The young ladies prepare a basket filled with an elaborate repast, place their cards therein, and then the baskets are sold to the gentlemen without the knowledge of the owners. Each gentleman is then expected to partake of the feast with the lady whose basket he had purchased. It is recommended as a plan likely to insure a worthy rivalry in the art of cooking. Let these entertainments be the common, and the young ladies who exist or will not learn to make good bread or edible pastries, will be likely to be left in single blessedness."
