deal and otherwise, prepared by the use of the pen and scissors for readers of the Free Press.

First of November.

No school next Thursday, boys.
The gloomiest month of the year.
Ice cream has gone out of fashion.
Read our liberal offers to subscribers at the head of this column.
Mr. Henry Marlett is about to remove to Shelburne with his family.
Mr. J. Fyfe is having his grounds neatly laid out, sodded and gravelled.
For long winter evenings—a good supply of first-class papers and books.
Present appearances indicate that municipal honors are likely to go begging this year.
Messrs. Beardmore & Co. are getting a famous stock of bark at the G. T. R. station.
Monthly meeting of the Board of Education in the Council Chamber next Monday evening.
The 10th of November will be the four hundredth anniversary of the birth of Martin Luther.
There was some exceedingly fine weather during the past week, and a little disagreeable weather, too.
Our population is rapidly increasing. Hardly a week passes but some new family comes to Acton to reside.
The Mercury says that nearly $160,000 have been spent in building improvements in Geophis since last spring.
Advertise your stray cattle at once and your chances will be all the better of finding them with little expense.
The cases for violation of the Scott Act, announced for trial last Thursday, were postponed until to-day.
Servant girls are exceedingly scarce in this vicinity. They command from $7 to $9 per month in ordinary families.
A full attendance of the members of Acton Lodge, L.O.O.F., is desired for tomorrow evening. Important business.
Hunting will be largely resorted to on Thanksgiving day. Every gun in town will do duty be brought into requisition.
Mr. John Ahern has purchased the place adjoining Mr. J. B. Burns' property, and is building a dwelling thereon.
Memorial cards in great variety may be had at the Free Press office. They serve as very neat mementoes of loved ones departed.
A "social hop" was engaged in by a company of young folks in the town hall, last Friday evening, after the concert was concluded.
Sportsmen are putting in full time now. It is only occasionally, however, that a satisfactorily filled game bag is brought home.
A new teacher will be required for the second department of Acton Public School, as Miss Gordon intends resigning at the close of the year.
It is whispered that it was a dear and not dear that the general agent of the G. N. W. Telegraph Co., here, left to find last week in Muskoka.
Mr. James Nicklin has purchased the property on Mill street recently owned by Mr. James Goodall, and has taken up his residence there.
Rev. W. Bryers was in Fergus on Sunday and preached in the Methodist Church there. Mr. M. Threagold, of Brampton, occupied the pulpit here.
Mr. Pearson has done a very sensible thing by having the new platform and sidewalk in front of his store built on the same level. He seems determined to have everything about his premises convenient and in good order.

The ground for Messrs. W. H. Storey & Son's new factory on Lower Avenue has been staked out. The building will be about 40x100, and four stories high.

Mr. A. W. Green has sold his fine team of greys to a gentleman in Halifax, for a very good figure. Mr. Green is remarkably successful with his horses.

Dame Rumor—that indefatigable old gossip—whispers, and not very inaudibly either, that several weddings will be consummated in Acton before Christmas.

Any of our subscribers who are not receiving the Free Press regularly will oblige by reporting at once at the office, when their cases will receive prompt attention.

The Municipal Council met on Tuesday evening, but as there was no business of importance on the docket it was decided to adjourn until Tuesday evening, 18th inst.

Two children of Mr. James Moore, of the Scotch Block, aged respectively about 12 and 14 years, died on Saturday with diphtheria. They were buried on Monday.

Communion services will be held in the Methodist Church next Sunday, instead of last Sunday as previously announced. Rev. C. Cookman, of Trafalgar, will officiate.

We omitted to mention last week that Mr. James Matthews won another first prize on his horses at Erin fair. They won in all six red tickets this fall, and not one of any other color.

It is said that Milton town hall is in an unsafe condition and liable to give way at any time that a large audience may be assembled. The civic authorities should make it secure at once.

A company of Swiss bell-ringers and vocalists intend giving an entertainment here in the course of a couple of weeks. They bear an excellent reputation, and an enjoyable entertainment may be expected.

Another Halloween has passed. A few pranks were perpetrated last night, but the old time deceptions were not attempted. The boys are evidently a little shy of those "coolers" in the new town hall.

Have you an absent friend? If so, you can send him nothing that will be more appreciated than your local paper. Send a dollar and we will forward the Free Press to any address until January 1st, 1885.

Next Thursday will be Thanksgiving Day, and will no doubt be observed by our merchants and business men as a general holiday. Thanksgiving services will be announced in the Free Press next Thursday morning.

The tax collector has entered upon his arduous duties. If our ratepayers would make it a point to be ready for him with their cash when he calls they would save both themselves and him considerable trouble and annoyance.

The three head of young cattle which had been in the pond of the municipality for the past three months, were claimed by the owner on Saturday. They were advertised to be sold by auction on Monday. The owner came just in the nick of time.

Our Little Ones' for November is to hand, and fully sustains its previous reputation for excellent matter intended to interest, edify and instruct the little folks. Send fifteen cents to the Russell Publishing Co., Boston, Mass., for a specimen copy.

We notice by the prize list of the Marlette, Mich., Agricultural Society, published in the Leader, that Mr. John Nicolson, formerly of this village, received prizes as follows:—Peerless potatoes, 1st; Late potatoes, 2nd; Gem's Glories potatoes, 1st; woolen stockings, 1st; woolen yarn, 1st.

The plow factory property, recently purchased by Messrs. W. H. Storey & Son, is being overhauled and put into a good state of repair. Messrs. Storey & Son intend putting in sufficient machinery to enable them to get out the sash, doors, flooring and other dressed lumber for their new shop.

The Hamilton Tribune continues to prosper, and now ranks as one of the most important daily papers of the country, and "head-and-shoulders" above any of its "one cent" contemporaries. Its sworn circulation now numbers considerably over 7,000 copies daily, and for its outspoken and impartial editorials it is daily growing in popular favor.

Mr. Edward Nicklin of this village was considerably injured in a smash-up on the C. V. R. at the forks of the Credit, a couple of weeks ago, while coming home from Hillsburg where he is engaged in buying grain. Although badly bruised he was not obliged to give up his work. Several others also received injuries at the same time, but none of a very serious nature.

Auction Sale.

A credit sale will take place at lot 19, con. 2, Esquimaux, on Saturday, 3rd Nov., of farm stock and implements, the property of Mr. Abram Mogridge. Sale at one o'clock. Wm. Hemstreet, Auctioneer.

Obituary.

Mrs. B. F. Pollard, of Sheridan, Trafalgar Township, whose death we regret to announce, was the only sister of Mrs. Chas. Cameron, of this village, who has been in attendance upon her for several weeks past. Mrs. Pollard was a lady universally esteemed and respected, and her loss will be deeply felt, not only by her husband and family, but by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. A very large concourse of friends followed her remains to the place of interment, to pay her the last sad token of respect.

Streetville Band.

This band has been carrying off most of the laurels this fall. They carried off the 1st at Cookville Fair over the Parkdale band, and three judges out of four were in their favor at Milton Fair.—Brampton Times. How about it? If three judges out of four were in their favor why didn't they receive the prize. The writer was present at the contest at Milton, and two of the judges out of the four stated to him that Acton's band was much superior to Streetville's, and should have first prize. The fact of the matter is, the playing of the Naval band was more meritorious than Streetville's. The Streetville boys shouldn't boast of their laurels until they win them.

Town Hall Stage Curtain.

A good drop curtain for the stage in the new town hall is a necessity in almost any entertainment, and this fact was very clearly shown at the concert last Friday evening. The Free Press suggested a few weeks ago that instead of asking the Council to buy to any further expense in the matter, the young folks of the town take upon themselves the duty of supplying this much-felt want, by means of a series of entertainments, and we would again urge them to consider the matter. To set the ball a-rolling the Free Press will agree to do any printing required for the first entertainment held for the above purpose, free of charge.

A Favorable Invalid.

Many of our citizens have been aware of the fact that for a couple of years or more Mrs. Geo. Walter, who resides on Bower Avenue, in this village, has been confined to her room, owing to some affection of the limbs rendering her unable to walk. Now, however, she can get about very easily by means of a splendid invalid's chair, lately received as a present from her son, Mr. R. Walter, M.D., of Mountain Park Sanitarium, Wernersville, Pa. The old lady has a good deal of satisfaction with this new vehicle, and we imagine that her generous son would feel amply repaid could he see with what ease and comfort his mother is now conveyed from one point to another. She takes considerable pride in exhibiting her present to visitors.

Halton Teachers' Convention.

The regular half-yearly convention of the Teachers' Association of this county held in Oakville last Thursday, Friday and Saturday, was very well attended, considering the difficulty experienced in reaching Oakville from many points of the county. Besides 10 or 15 teachers, there were present a number of ex-teachers, trustees, the local clergymen, and several other interested in the education of the youth of our county. The programme, circulated among the teachers a few weeks ago, was pretty generally carried out, and a number of very profitable discussions upon practical subjects took place. Dr. McLellan, High School Inspector, was present during three sessions of the convention, and in his several addresses presented many points of interest to those engaged in the profession of teaching. The public meetings on Thursday and Friday evenings were well attended. Dr. McLellan's lecture on "The Teacher's Mission," on Thursday evening, was well received, and Rev. J. E. Lacey's "Why," on Friday evening, was particularly flowery, and greatly enjoyed by every person who heard it. The important subject of the introduction of new readers into the schools of the county was brought before the convention but it was deemed advisable to reserve discussion upon the question until the conference of trustees for consideration of the matter—referred to in the county council some time ago—had been held. The next meeting of the association will be held in Georgetown next spring.

St. John's Church Concert.

The concert in the town hall last Friday evening, under the auspices of St. John's Church, Rockwood, was attended by a large and appreciative gathering, and the programme presented by the management was one of the best ever given an Acton audience. The talent was of a higher order than is generally found in an ordinary concert, and included Miss Hastings, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Crowe, and Messrs. Crowe and McLellan, Geophis; Miss Williams, Glenwilliams; Miss Strange, and Messrs. Strange and Strachan, Rockwood. The vocalists were all enthusiastically applauded, but Miss Hastings, with her sweet and powerful voice and her modest, unassuming style, was the general favorite. Her rendition of the "Cuckoo" was exceptionally fine. Miss Williams' singing was much enjoyed, as was also Mrs. Moore's. The solos of Messrs. Crowe and Strange were also awarded honors. Mr. John Strachan proved himself an eloquentist of more than ordinary merit, and held the rapt attention of all present with his second reading, "The Old Homestead." The instrumental portion of the programme was performed by Mrs. Crowe, Mrs. Clarke, Miss Strange, and Mr. McLellan. The two former opened with a duet, "Pearl of the Sea," which was very creditably rendered. Miss Strange played in fine style "Schubert's Brilliant Valz," which deservedly brought down the house. Mr. McLellan made a splendid rendition of the "Masonic March." Four tableaux were presented, the several characters and their surroundings being prepared with very good effect. Our citizens have, however, seen these tableaux produced so frequently that they are becoming just a little distasteful. The entertainment was greatly enjoyed by all present, and those in charge may justly feel considerable pride in the success attending their efforts.
