and persisted in joining their ranks. And when the purple sunset came...

There was no help for it, however. She tied on the bib apron, tucked the curls...

These young ladies evidently intended to make her useful. She might have known...

Her eyes were fixed on the young ladies. They were looking at her with a look of surprise...

At last she spoke. "I am the maid of all work, if you please," she said with a courtesy.

"Then let me help you, said Haroldson, briskly tying a second bib apron around his hunting shirt."

(Rochester Democrat and Chronicle). We published in our local columns yesterday morning a significant letter from a gentleman known personally or by reputation to nearly every person in the land.

Dr. Henry Foster, the gentleman in question, is 63 or 64 years of age and has an extremely cordial manner.

He has received a number of letters protesting against the use of our columns for such palpable frauds and misrepresentations; therefore, to confirm beyond a doubt the authenticity of the letters, and the genuineness of its sentiments, a reporter of this paper was commissioned to ascertain all the possible facts in the matter.

Accordingly he visited Clifton Springs, saw the author of the letter, and with the following result:
