Merry Christmas.

Lat somew derse and early be hushed? Let cory check with marth be fleshed.

And welcome Christmas day !."

Before the Firm Parss again brightens | From our own correspondent. the homes of its readers Christmas, Merry Christmas! will have come and gone. Christmes, with all its attendant train of | market. festicites and social greetings, is upon us. This is the happiest teason of the year, bringing with it sweet memories of the past and reviewing tender reminiscences of bygone days. The home circle, disjointed, as is frequently the case, by absent ones, is supposed to be again rendered joyous and complete by the arrival of the missing members, and a happy reunion once more effected around the festive board. Children lock forward with joyous expectancy to the annual return of the mythological Sants Claus, and parents and friends are expected to see to it, that the necessary assortment of holday tits, and Christmassoys taxed at this particular season of the year, their work. in her endeaver to furnish the correct bill of fare for the Christman festivities.

The associations, the charities, the forgiven sees, of this happy holiday afford us the opportunity to do good. Let us not allow it to puss unimproved, for nothing is . more certain than that many of us will not be here to do so when another Christmas comes round:

On the eye of this happy festival, sacred to joyous memories, family reunious and the glad message of " Peace on Earth good will to men," we feel the influences which been permitted to perform our allotted him who at this season is able to say he esque. has done this duty well, neglected no · opportunity for performing right actions, and, strengthened by this consciousness can look forward to the coming year with hope and confidence. Christmas diffuses joy throughout the world; it is a generous boliday and causes the heart of the most cynical to thaw out and his eyes to brighten as he meets an acquaintince and gives and receives the hearty class of the hands and the cheery salutation of "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year." We none of us seem to grow tire Fof this benediction. We never really forcet throughout the long year the little leaven of the kingdom of heaven that is within us, and which finds | due its neighbor). such ample expression on Christmas in speech and acts symbolical of what millenium of happiness opens to our mental view when we regard the beavenly salutation on the first Christmas morning. To every one, old or young, rich or poor,

Notes and Comments

Newspaper advertising is now regarded as the most important branch of nearly every retail business. The growth has been slow but sure, until now the advertising bill is considered one of the legitimate expenses of every well conducted establishment. In this connection it is perhaps necaless for us to call attention to the fact that the Face Pages offers unusual advantages to the business public, as with circulation which is rapidly increasing, le invalvable as an advertising medium.

Monepoly seems-to be the order of the day. Now the mourauce companies have formed themselves into a combination and increased the rates enormon-ly, so that it becomes a very serious matter. The result will be with many that, instead of paying higher rates to the avaricous insurance companies, they will pay less insurance. Bueiges-men in Hamilton are discussing the e intlishment of a stock company, " in which expenses will be largely cut down in consequences of every man being his own a rent." The insurance combination should be broken.

The illicit liquor traffic under the Cauada Temperance Act has received a fresh rebuff in the Supreme Court of Nova Stotia. A man in King's County was fined fifty dollars for a first offence, and no goods being found to satisfy the fine and costs he was ordered by the justice to be imprisoned Tor three months in default of payment. An application was made by tile counsel · for his release from imprisonment under the Act relating to the liberty of the subject . The grounds of the application were that power was not given justices to imprison for a first offence under the Chanada Temperance Act, and that the Summar; Convictions At contemplates imprisonment for want of discuss only in cases when the imprimament is south vized by the statue imposing the pecuniary penalty, Jadge Thompson heard the application. four-wangers to the village-who were FREE Dr.M.W. Ross, carried West Middlesex, and his exchange from the Dominion House to the Local was effected without loss to his party, as the Liberal candidate, Mr. Cameron, was elected to fill his place there. The Reformers also carried West Simcoe, which was formerly Conservative. Cardwell returned the Conservative candidate and remains as before. Rockwood's Defence.

To the Editor of the Free Press.

DELE SEE Our citizens must be very anmons for the reformation of our village when they exert such linguistic efforts .in advertising its sins and short-comings in the columns of the paper of a neighboring village, which village no doubt is pharasaically glad that it is so good, and Rockwood so vile and corrupt, (forgetting, of course, in its supreme cristianity, what is

"Citizen" says, "You might travel across the continent and you would not find a community where the youth was so completely outlawed as here." He evidently has travelled, and knows, or he would not be so positive; and yet our citizens are not robbed, burglarized, assaulted, incendisrized or murdered, as we occasionally resd they are on this continent. There are a few petty pilferers here now and then; they may be from Acton or its vicinity, Guelph or its vicinity, or even Rockwood-we do not know where they come from; but "Citizen" says with great gusto, the youth of Rockwood (including all the youth) do these misdeeds. "Utter disregard for all laward decency," s entirely untrue, as any one in Rockwood knows, who takes the trouble to look at it as also are the assertions: "Respectable people are insulted on every hand," and 'Cannot meet at any public gathering without having to put up with the basest insults." Those who know our Chief Magistrate best have more respect for him than for many of those with more obtrusive professions, and we know he always punishes severely enough breaking of the law, when the culprit is brought before him. " Not safe for a lady to walk the streets after night." They nearly all are to be seen there now and then, and apparently deem thomselves safe enough. I know no woman has been assaulted on our streets for years. and very few insulted-excepting some who are continually courting that kind of thing by their actions. "Something should be done." Whoever was 'mobbed' that 'enforced the law' here? It will no doubt cure the wouth to attack them in the way "Citizen" has done, attributing to them everything bad in the calendar, and, Mr. Editor, if "Citlzen" had wound up his remarks by saying, -sir, the foregoing are base exaggerations," instead of "facts." he would have got at the truth.

Again, in your issue of the 13th, "Bystander" attacks "A Rockwood Boy's' defence of his village, in a peopliarly childish manner. He says "Citizen" strikes the nail on the head." How? By lying about our youth, I presume. Is it "impudent" of any boy to try and save the name of his town from slander? His reference to his Satanic Majesty is elegant in the extreme, and exceedingly appropriate. He makes no further assertion worth referring to, and would evidently make a good po-it cal toady. In reference to the piliering done here, may say that a party who knows all the Bockwood boys, was passing by the town hall on the night that the Methodist teameeting provisions were stolen, and saw don't know; no ther does "Citizien," nor "Bystander." The boys who do the exceptional " hooting at " and " insulting " of our fair wo men and brave men on the streets are mere children whom their parents ought to take in hand; and what same person would feel insulted by a child? Finally, Mr. Editor, it is probably a good thing for Acton, as we have now located it, for a short time ago the inquiry in Rockwood was, "Where is Acton, anyway?" I have the honor to be.

Hair Vigor youth, faded or gray hair to a natural, rich brown color, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use light or red hair may be darkened, thin hair thickened, and baldness often, though not always, cured. It checks falling of the bair, and stimulates a weak and slokly growth to vigor. It prevests and curse scorf and dandruff, and licals nearly every disease peculiar to the scalp. As a Ladies' Hair Dressing, the Vigor is unequalled; it contains neither oil nor dye, renders the hair soft, glossy, and diken in appearance, and imparts a delicate, agreeable, and lasting perfume.

Mu. C. P. Buichen writes from Kirby, O., July 3, 1882: "Last fail my hair commenced failing out, and in a short time I became nearly baid. I used part of a bottle of AVER'S HAIR VIGOR, which stopped the failing of the hair, and started a new growth. I have now a full head of hair growing vigor-eusly, and am convinced that but for the use of your preparation I should have been entirely baid." J. W. BOWEN, proprietor of the McArthur (Ohio) Enquiret, says: "AVER'S HAIR VIOOR makes it glossy and soft. The Vicon is also a sure cure for dandruff. Not within my knowledge has the preparation ever falled to give entire satisfaction." MR. ANOUN FAIRBAIRN, leader of the celebrated "Fairbairn Family" of Scottish Yocalists, writes from Baston, Mase., Feb. 6, 1860. "Ever since my hair began to give silvery evidence of the change which deeting time procureth, I have used AVER'S HAIR Vigon, and so have been able to maintain an appearance of youthfulness - a matter of complerable consequence to ministers, ors-

Lars, actors, and in fact every one who lives a the eyes of the public." Mas. O. A. Panscott, writing from 18 Elm St., Churictena, Mass., April 14, 1882, says: "Two years ago about two-thirds of my hair came off. It thinned very rapidly, and I was fast growing hald. On using AYER's HAIR Vicing the falling stopped and a new growth commenced, and in about a month my be was completely covered with short hair. It before it fell. I regularly used but one bottle of the Vidon, but now use it occasionally as a dressing."

We have hundreds of similar testimonials to the efficacy of AVER'S HAIR VICOR. It needs but a trial to convince the most skeptieal of fu value.
