What to do And What Not to do.

If you have goods to sell, advertise. Hire a man with a lampblack kettle and a brush to paint your name and number on all the railroad fences. The cars go whizzing by so fast that no one can read them, to be sure, but perhaps the conductor inquisitive passenger. Remember the fence by the roadside well. Nothing is more attractive to passer-by as a well painted sign : " Millington's Medical Mixture for Mumps."

Have your card in the hotel register by all means. Strangers stopping at hotels for a night generally buy a cigar or two before leaving town, and they need some inspiring literary food besides.

Of course the street thermometer dodge is excellent. When a man's fingers and ears are "phewing" at the heat or tingling with the cold is the time above all others when he stops on the street and reads an advertisement.

Advertise on a calendar. People never look at a calendar to see what day of the month it is. They merely glance hurriedly at it so as to be sure that your name is spelled without a p-that's all. When the breezes blow, wasted by a paper fan in the hand of a lovely woman, 'tis well to have the air redolent of the perfume of the carmine ink in which your business address is printed. This will make the market for decent fans very good. Patronize every agent that shows you an advertising tablet, card, directory, dictionary or even an advertising Bible, if one is offered at a reasonable price. The man must make a living. But don't think of advertising in a wellestablished, legitimate newspaper. Not for a moment. Your advertisement would be nicely printed and would find its way into every thrifty household of the region. where the farmer, the mechanic, the tradesman, and others live, and into the families of the wealthy and refined, all who have articles to buy and money with which to buy them, and after the news of the day have been digested, it would be read and pondered, and next day people would comedown to your store and patronize you, and keep coming in increasing numbers, and you might have to hire an extra clerk or two, more into a larger block and more favorable location and do a bigger business but of course it would be more expensive

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs: none so trided with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a triffing or unconscious exparties, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickuess. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured. "In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AVER'S CHERRY PEC-TORAL, which relieved my lung, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTURAL a permaneut cure was effected. I am now 62 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me.

Croup. - A Mother's Tribute. While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; seemed as if he would die from stranguintion. One of the family suggested the use of AYKE's CHERRY PECTORAL a bottle of which was always kept in the bouse. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the fittle patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PYCTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours,
Mrs. ENNA GEDNEY."
