The following resolution was unanimous ly passed by the Baptist Union at Brant-Sord last week :-

Whereas the use of intoxicating liquore is one of the greatest existing evils, attended by the worst of consequences to society, the church, and State, and a blot on the civilization of the 19th centuary; and whereas the Government have placed out the statue books of our country a local option prohibitory law known as the Canada Temperance Act, which if adopted and suforced, is calculated to mitigate this evil, therefore Resolved, that we recognise with pleasure and satisfaction the temperance agitation now in progress throughout the Provinces for the suppression and destruction of the liquor traffic, and we hereby express our sympathy with, and our willingness to support any bonorable movement which has for its ebject the total prohibition both of the making and selling intoxicating liquors as a beverage.

The Scott Act and the Presbyterian Assembly.

The Toronto Globe says :- The most sanguine friends of Prohibition and the enthusiastic unanimity displayed by the city, on the subject of temperance. The | be forwarded to the Washington authorities cest spoken document, and yet was not so | with the United States. Indications point extreme as to awaken the smallest amount in the direction of the Liberals adopting el opposition, or to call forth the feeblest, peciprocity with the United States as a ing ". or, "licensed taverns." We should people can be taken on this important quesbacktione as to allow themselves to be thinking men of Canada irrespective of cover into silence about their genuine politics .- Detroit Commercial Advertiser. opinions on the question at issue, and still less that even one should afterwards have comforted himself for his loss or self-respect and for his culpable and cowardly silence with a glass of wine or a tumbler of whisky pench. On the contrary, we believe that all acquiesced in what was car ried, because all approved of 'it, and were all anxious that the Assembly should appear to be a unit on the subject because actually was so."

THE SCENE HAS CHANGED

Three or four years ago, when this county was being agitated with a view to submitting the Scott Act to the electors, a great ery was raised by the supporters of the liquor traffic against the action of those inferested in the banishment of the licensed curse from Halton, about putting the county to the expense of an election on the question. But lo, how the some has changed! what do we find to-day? The men who champion the liquor traffic, and pretended to be solicitous for the county's financial wel fare, have apparently forgotten their former outery, for they are now themselves engaged in opening up a contest with the intention of bringing on an election which will cost the county considerable money. And this, too, when they have not the slightest prospect of success. But then, consistency is nomination, but of all religious bodies. not esteemed a virtue in the creed of those who are anxious for the perpetuation of the whiskey traffic, especially when selfish interesta are at stake.

The Scott Act came to stay, and stay it will, until some more effective law is enacted, if every men in the county will vote honestly, according to the dictates of his conscience. Let every man do his duty before God and his fellow-men, and the nalimited supply of money, donated by interested liquor sellers outside the county to fight the Scott Act, will be of no avail better our observation of program of public bentiment in favor of the Scott Act in this county during the at two years, we feel confident that matter of appeal really comes to a vot the right thinking people of Halton will se in their might and at the ballot box serwer the question as to the desirability of a return to license law, in a voice long and clear and unmistakable that the hydra-headed mouster, whiskey, will constrained to hide his ngly head forever from the gaze of the law-abiding residents of the county of Halton.

BRITISH FAIR PLAY (P)

The Scott Act sgitation is now in full blast in Simcoe county, and friend Jewell, of the Stayner Sun gives the following rehersel of the boycotting of Sun by the Thiskey sellers of that town :

-On Priday afternoon of last week the Fred Men of this village entered the sanctheir coate. After hanging around about five minutes one of the gaing mustered up courage and demanded "his bill" and endered the paper stopped, the others said Scott Act movement, and have therefore

SAD FATAL ACCIDENT

Sudden Death of One of Esquesing's Oldest and Most Respected Residents.

Last Saturday evening, one of the most sudden and melancholy accidents that have ever taken place in this county, occurred in Esquesing, near Hornby, R. S. Hall, Esq., being the victim. Mr. Hall and his son-in-law, Mr. John Howson, were engaged in conveying straw from the barn to the stable, and while driving down an incline in the barn yard the horses started into a smart trot, which caused the load to be displaced, and in the confusion Mr. Hall was thrown off the load, and falling upon his head his neck was fractured. Death was instantaneous. The occurrence has shrouded the community in the deepest

Mr. Hall was one of the first settlers of the township of Esquesing, having been a resident for over fifty years. He was loved and respected by all who knew him, and his acquaintance extended very generally throughout the county. There is left behind him a life-long christian experience of the most practical and consistent character,-one blameless and unapproachable in every respect. He was a prominent member of the Baptist Church, and his home always extended a hearty welcome to ministers of the cospel: not alone of his own de-His worthy example did much for the elevation of the morals of the community. He gave considerable attention to the education of his children, all of whom are occupying good positions in society, and each is endesvoring humbly and consistently to serve the God of their sainted father.

Deceased was one of Her Majesty's Jus tices of the Peace, and has repeatedly occu pied a seat at the Council Board of the township, as well as various other offices of importance. In the death of Mr. Hall the Temperance cause loses one of stannehest supporters, for through his whole life he has been actively engaged in advocating-both by theory and practicethe abolition of the whisky curse. Taken all in all, R. S. Hall, Esq., was one of the few men whose departure from the scene action is felt to be an irreperable loss to the whole neighborhood wherein he has resided.

The mortal remains were followed to the Ashgove cometery, on Tuesday, by one of the largest processions of friends, neighbors and acquaintances, that has ever been seen in the county. Rev. James Coutts, of Glammis, formerly pastor of the Georgetown circuit of the Baptist Church, improved the occasion by the delivery of a very appropriate and impressive discourse. The sorrowing friends and relatives have the warmest sympathy of all, in their very solemn and heavy affliction.

New School Buildings.

The Board of Trustees of Acton Public School, with the committee of citizens appointed, visited the school buildings last Friday, to examine into the practicability f erecting an additional story on the present buildings. The deputation concluded that this plan would be more feasable than of putting up a building separate and distinct from the present one, in that it would be more economical in the matter of erection, as well as of heating the various school rooms. The appearance of the school buildings will also be considerably improved by an additional story. It was considered advisable, before proceeding with the work, to have the opinion of sometimes affected. If allowed to continue sequently given for the preparation of plane for a second story, to be built on the unior and senior departments. The plans will be completed in the course of a week or so, and the work will in all probability be commenced with the close of the school for summer vacation.
