WATCH YOUR WORDS.

Keep a watch on your words, my darlings, For words are wonderful things; They are sweet, like the bee's fresh honey-Tike the bees, they have terrible stings. They can bless like the warm, glad sun-

And brighten a lonely life; They can cut, in the strife of anger,

Life an open two-odged knife. Let them pass through the lips unchallenged If their errand is true and kind-If they come to support the weary, To comfort and help the blind;

If a bitter, revengeful spirit Prompts the words, let them be unsaid They may flash thro' a brain like lightning Or fall on a heart like lead.

Keep them back if they're cold and cruel, Under bar and lock and seal; The wounds they make, my darlings, Are always slow to heal, May peace guard your lines and ever, From the time of your early youth, May the words that you daily utter Be the words of beautiful truth.

Must the Sparrow Go?

If anybody supposes, howev'r, that the extirpation of the sparrows is going to be the mere pastime of an idle hour he only gives evidence that he has studied the powers of endurance and multiplication of the nuisance to little purposes. The sparrow is here to stay as far as its own intentions are concerned, and a great deal of killing will be necessary before he will become a tradition of the past. Something more must be done than to fire paper essays at him if he is to go .- Philadelphia Times.

Groaning and Crying.

A French surgeon has published a long dissertation on the beneficial influence of groaning and crying on the nervous system. He contends that groaning and crying are the two grand operations by which nature allays anguish, and that he has uniformly observed that these patients who give way to their natural feelings more speedily recover than those who suppose that it is unworthy a man to betray such symptoms of cowardice as either to grosn or to cry. That some patients often have a great satisfaction in groaning and that hysterical patients experience great relief from crying, are facts which no person will deny.

AYER'S

Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their ttack as those affecting the throat and lungs; some so trified with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal dekness. ATER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lime-diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured. "In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my langs. I had a terroble cough, red jarsed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried Aven's Cheant Pertonal, which relieved my langs, induced sleep, and afforded mo the rest recessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the Pictorial a jermaneut cure was effected. I am new 62 years ld, hale and bearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me. HORACK FAIRBROTHER."
