The Acton Free Press.
THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 30, 1885.

CRUMBS FOR BREAKFAST.
Provided by the Ever Thoughtful Free Press Reporters.

—Saturday's first of August.
—Buggy, etc., for sale—see adv.
—Quarterly meeting in Methodist Church next Sunday.

—Several Milton boys are charged with carrying revolvers.
—The cherry crop is remarkably small in this vicinity this season.

—Bag-pipe and hurdy-gurdy tramps played the town during the week.
—Messrs. Stafford & Robinson are shipping five or six cups of quinine, dressed and other stone a day now.

—A large number of our citizens visited Toronto last Thursday to view the reception of the North-West hero.

—The Herald says that Aldous & Co's furniture factory narrowly escaped destruction by fire on day last week.

—The Canada Glove Works flag floated at half mast on Friday out of respect to the memory of the late General Grant.

—The farmers in this vicinity are pretty generally engaged in reaping their fall wheat. The barley is almost ready, too.

—The new dwelling of Mr. Thomas Perryman, Sr., on Young Street, is up and enclosed. It will be veneered with Cañon brick.

—Never did crops look better in this section. The fall wheat is excellent, the spring grain appears very promising, and the roots are in splendid condition.

—Our esteemed cotemporary, the Acton Free Press, has completed its 10th volume in ranks among the most neatly gotten up and spicest newspapers in Ontario.—Stayer Sun.

—The junior lacrosse club have the distinction of winning the first lacrosse match for Acton. In a match last Wednesday with the Rockwood Juniors, the score stood two to one in Acton's favor.

—The thistles, burrs and weeds on the streets have all been beleaguered during the past week or so, and now the street commissioner is looking after private properties bearing a crop of these nuisances.

—The Berlin News says:—The leader of the Berlin Brass Band is a trifle over five feet high, and weighs about 125 lbs. His E flat bass player stands 6 feet three in his stockings and weighs 235 lbs.

—The Beardmore sole leather tannery and to their wholesale establishment, Toronto, a car of leather about every other day. They are also receiving two cars of hick bark per day from the Georgian Bay district.

—Mr. John Cameron is transforming the appearance of the old temperance hall by converting it into dwellings. It will make two comfortable homes, and when completed will present a becoming architectural appearance, too.

—We extend our thanks to Mr. Wm. Frick, superintendent of the Satchel and Purse Factory, for a copy of the New York Day Illustration Graphic, containing illustrations pertaining to the death of Gen. Grant and surroundings.

—Mr. Henry Savers, proprietor of the Speyside shingle mill, informs us that he has in his garden an apple tree in full bloom. We have repeatedly seen limbs of pear and other trees blossom as late as this, but it seems to us to be something new for an apple tree to make this freak.

PURELY PERSONAL.

Paragraphs Respecting People with Whom our Readers are Individually or Collectively Acquainted.

Mrs. James McLan visited friends in Stratford last week.

Mrs. J. E. and Miss Mary McGarvin are visiting Orangeville friends.

Mr. John A. C. Anderson, of Ridgeway, formerly of Acton, made his old friends here a short visit this week.

Charlie Britton, who ran one of the first barber shops in Acton, died in Toronto last week from a ruptured blood vessel.

Messrs. W. T. Smyth and G. C. Clark, travellers for Messrs. W. H. Storey & Son, are home for a week or so of vacation.

Messrs. R. E. Nelson and W. R. Kenney left on Saturday on a ten days' trip up the lakes to Mackinaw and its attractive surroundings.

We extend our congratulations to our old schoolfellow, Mr. W. O. Morse, of Lowell, on his advent into the ranks of the benefactors. May the richest blessings accompany friend Morse and his happy bride through life.

THE ALTAR.

MOORE.—In Erin, on the 22nd inst., the wife of Mr. Thos. Prot of a son.

ELLIOTT.—In Erin, on the 27th inst., the wife of Mr. John Elliott of a son.

MATTHEWS.—In Acton, on the 21st inst., the wife of Mr. Edward Matthews of a son.

ELLIS.—At Limerick on the 22nd inst., the wife of J. T. Ellis, Esq., agent G. T. R., of a son.

THE WEEK'S RAKINGS.

Which are Principally Local and All Interesting.

Doing a Large Business.
The Geographical Papers publish a long list of sales of land effected by Mr. Daly, real estate agent, whose advertisement appears in another column. Our readers wishing to buy or sell land ought to look it up. Mr. Daly is working up a very successful business in his line.

Right on all Important Public Questions.
The Acton Free Press has completed its tenth year. It has both deserved and achieved success. It is the nearest country weekly in Ontario, and its tone is right on all important public questions. The Acton people have done themselves credit by sustaining it.—Waterloo Chronicle.

Rev. Mr. Cameron Resigns.
At the meeting of the English Presbytery at Guelph, last week, Rev. D. B. Cameron, pastor of Knox Church, here, tendered his resignation of his pastoral charge. A committee was appointed to confer with him and the congregation and to report at next regular meeting of the Presbytery.

Removed to his Headquarters.
Mr. Samuel McLan who has for some time occupied the position of foreman of the gang of carpenters on the Grand Trunk Railway at Point Edward, has removed his family to this town. We are sorry to lose such worthy citizen, but wish them prosperity and comfort in their new home.

A Manufacturer for Milton.
Through the enterprising efforts of the Milton Sun a large manufacturer's attention has been called to Milton and if the people of the county town concede to the apparently reasonable proposition of the manufacturer they will ere long have a flourishing business of more than ordinary extent within the borders of their town.

The Toronto Zoo.
Mr. Harry Piper, proprietor of the Toronto Zoological Gardens, will kindly accept our thanks for a complimentary member's ticket to that institution. The Zoo has been removed to the Exhibition Park and is now one of the most popular attractions in the city of Toronto. When our citizens are in the city they should go and see it.

Acton Goods at Foreign Ports.
Messrs. W. H. Storey & Son shipped during the week a large consignment of gloves &c., to a firm in Victoria B. C., and several to different parts in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. The business of this enterprising firm continues to increase rapidly, and the volume of business transacted during the first seven months of this year is largely in excess of that of any previous year.

The Congregational Church School.
A rumor is current that the Roman Catholics of Acton and vicinity have purchased the Congregational church, which has been used by the Salvation Army for the past year—and will shortly hold their services there. The erection of this church and the brick shed cost 7,500, eight years ago. The price paid for the property by the above church is said to be $2,500, one thousand of the sum being subscribed by one family.

Compliments Complimented.
The Revue of Acton wrote a letter of congratulation to the Acton Free Press last week. His remarks are well deserved, and appropriate above all, extremely encouraging.—Oakville Independent.

In a well written and manly letter, Mr. W. H. Storey, Acton's here and enterprising manufacturer, bears testimony to the well-directed local work of the Free Press. We congratulate that journal upon living in a town where the citizens are not afraid to speak encouraging words.—Milton Sun.

Remove the Blinds.
The commissioners of the Crooks Act in the city of Guelph seem determined to have the provisions of that Act respected. The Herald says:—Inspector Cowan visited the different hotels this morning on a double errand. He first served papers on the landlords warning them not to give liquor to a certain party. His second business was to give them notice to have all blinds removed from their windows next Saturday night and Sunday or they will be prosecuted. This notice includes all kinds of blinds, stained glass or painted windows.

Street Watering.
Acton is generally in the forward ranks in the march of local improvements, but in one thing she is far behind. This is the watering of the principal streets to subdue the dust nuisance. The clouds of dust at this season of the year annoy everybody, and are destructive alike to merchants' goods and the contents of the dwellings on these streets. Other towns of Acton's size have efficient street watering arrangements and there is nothing to prevent us from enjoying a like privilege. If the merchants and residents of Mill and Main streets would confer with each other upon the subject and agree to pay a nominal sum weekly or monthly to this end, a satisfactory system of street watering would soon be in operation.

Canadian Press Association.
By circular from Mr. W. H. Clinnie, of Bowmanville, secretary, it is learned that the programme for the Canadian Press Association meeting and excursion this year is as follows:—Annual meeting at Toronto in one of the parlours of the Rossin House, on Tuesday, August 4th, at two p. m. A good afternoon session, allowing full discussion on such matters as may be deemed in the interest of the journalistic profession. Leave Toronto at eight p. m. by G. T. R. Pullman car, and proceed on from Montreal by railway to Montpelier, Vt., Wells River, Elymas, summit of Mount Washington, and back to Bethlehem Junction, Passfield House, Plymouth, Concord, Nashua, Boston (two days), then up the Sound by steamer to New York (two days), up the Hudson River by day steamer to Albany, by N. Y. W. S. & B. Railway to Suspension Bridge, and to Toronto by G. T. R. The round trip will occupy eight or nine days, and is one which would be long desired by the Association. To Mr. W. Edgar, General Passenger Agent of the G. T. R., the Association is indebted for assistance in procuring this charming route. Mr. Erasmus Wiman has kindly telegraphed that the Canadian Club, of New York, will be happy to throw its rooms open to the use of the Canadian Press Association during their stay in that city.

Runaway and Smashup.

Last Saturday Rev. Mr. Patton of Nassagaweya was tying his horse in the Methodist Church shed here, when it became fractious and got away. It ran around the church twice and finally upset the buggy, mauling it badly and injuring the harness. The horse escaped unhurt.

Accident Near Rockwood.
On Wednesday evening a painful accident happened near Rockwood. The junior lacrosse team of the village when returning from Acton, frightened a horse belonging to John McNab. The animal started off and ran over Miss McCullum, a young lady from Esquesing. The lady received painful injuries.

Scott Act Trials.
The County Temperance Association is giving strict attention now to the enforcement of the Scott Act. Last week Mr. Mount of Palermo was fined $100 and costs for violation of the Act. On Friday Anderson's hotel, Milton, was searched, when a stock of porter, ale and blue ribbon beer was found. There are a number of cases for trial before the police magistrate, and more are to follow.

Interesting to Mothers.
A kind old lady in town who has had lengthened experience with children, and the diseases peculiar to them, sends the following as a sure cure for cholera infantum, and requests that we publish it so that other mothers may be assisted as she was: Take best turkey rhubarb and peppermint plant in equal parts, pulverize them, and nearly the same quantity of saleratus or baking soda. A large teaspoonful of this mixture is added to a teaspoonful of boiling water. Let it stand a while. Give one or two table spoonfuls every half or one or two hours, according to the symptoms. If the child is considered dangerous, take fresh butter from the skim, unwashed and unsalted, boil and churn until a pure oil is obtained. Give a spoonful once or twice to coat the mucous membrane. Increase the dose according to age.

A Brutal Blow.
On Saturday night about 10 o'clock a young fellow from the vicinity of Osprey, accompanied by a gang of roughs—following up a grudge of several years' standing—attacked one of our Acton boys in a secluded position of the town, and pummelled him most unmercifully. Not content with pounding him with his fists until he was almost overcome, the brute kicked him repeatedly about the face and head, and he was badly cut and bruised. The attacking party was allowed to escape, but we hope the case will be brought up for trial and the offenders awarded the punishment deserved. We are informed that all the parties concerned were under the influence of liquor obtained at one of the hotels in town. This is being investigated, and if liquor was sold the violator will go double or be obliged to stand his trial for this offence.

A Word From the North-West.
The letter elsewhere in this issue from the worthy pen of Mr. Jos. H. Hacking, of Winnipeg, founder of the Free Press, will no doubt be interesting to our readers, and will recall pleasant memories of nine or ten years ago, when Mr. Hacking was a fellow-citizen of this then newly-organized municipality. We appreciate Mr. Hacking's remarks more highly than we can express. He has always been looked upon by us as an one-whose opinion upon newspaper matters was intelligent, weighty and conclusive. To Mr. Hacking much is due for the success and prosperity enjoyed by the Free Press. Its foundations were laid by him on a solid, businesslike basis, and upon this foundation it has been a comparatively easy matter to erect a sound journalistic structure. For his complimentary remarks and kindly wishes we extend to our old friend our sincerest thanks.

Reception Number of the War News.
The Grip Printing & Publishing Co. have issued their Reception Number of the Illustrated War News. This number contains sixteen pages, and the illustrations are entirely composed of scenes in connection with the return of the volunteers from the North-west. The publishers sent special artists to Winnipeg and other principal points to report and illustrate the proceedings. A racy account of incidents and experiences of the troops returning home is written by Captain C. W. Allan, who accompanied some of them from Port Arthur, and it is illustrated by J. W. Bengough in his best style. This number is, in every respect, the best which has yet been issued, and is worthy of being sent away to friends all over the world, as a representation of the reception tendered our returning heroes. Certainly everybody who appreciates the work done by our brave volunteers should have a copy. The publishers will mail copies post paid to any address on receipt of the price, 15 cts., or it can be obtained from all newsdealers.

Scott Act in Oxford.
Referring to the Scott Act in Oxford county, and its effect upon business, the following testimony from Mr. James Noxon, Mayor of Ingersoll, the well-known manufacturer, will be of interest:—
“Since the introduction of the Scott Act all visible signs of drinking have almost entirely disappeared in the town of Ingersoll. Before, drunken men were to be seen on our streets every day of the week, Sunday not excepted; since the Act came into force cases of drunkenness have been rarely known. I am sure the facts will bear me out in saying that there is not one glass of liquor sold in the town of Ingersoll where there were fifty sold before the Act went into effect. Business has not been injured by the operation of the Act, except the liquor business. The difficulty in enforcing the Act has not been great.”

Mr. John M. Grant, Mayor of Woodstock, who is one of the largest employers of labor in the county of Oxford, says: “I do not think any business has suffered, or will suffer, through the operations of the Scott Act, except the liquor trade. I have visited, on my own business, several places in the county, and report very little or no liquor sold. Hotels run about as before and doing better than they expected. I am sure that the Act has succeeded on the whole so far, as well as its best friends could have hoped.”—Waterloo Chronicle.

T. H. Harding, grocery, has secured control of the sale in Acton of the celebrated roller flour of Nicklin's Speedvale Mills, Guelph, and is prepared to supply all customers.

A Compliment from the North-West.

To the Editor of the Free Press:
Dear Sir,—I have just been reading the complimentary remarks of my esteemed friend, Mr. W. H. Storey, in your issue of the 16th inst., and feel constrained to add thereto another note of the same character. As founder of the Free Press I have naturally taken a faithful interest in its career, and I must say that it has not only maintained the high character which it bore in childhood, but has continually increased in ability with its growth in age, and now I can point to it with pride as the brightest and choicest of my newspaper acquaintances. Though Mr. Editor, I cannot lay claim to having trained you in the way you should go. I am pleased to note that you have consistently adhered to the general principles laid down in the first issue of the paper—and which I borrowed to my immediate successors in the editorial chair—chiefly that of political independence and unflinching alertness in the best interests of the local constituency.

As Mr. Storey remarks, the early issues of the Free Press made many warm friends and also some substantial enemies; I well remember how difficult it then was to make the general body of the public understand the possibility of publishing a strictly non-partisan paper during the excitement of a political election. They had to be educated to it, but many at first refused the proffered education and returned their papers with scathing remarks written on the margin.

This country, however, did not continue very long, and those who were the most severe to condemn were soon amongst our warmest friends.

Not only in respect to its unparalleled ability as a local news-gatherer has the Free Press sustained its early reputation, but it is a gratification to be able to bear testimony to the increasing excellence of its editorial columns. I need say nothing about its typographical beauty, as it speaks for itself.

With best wishes for your continued prosperity, and a kind word for my many Acton friends,

I am, fraternally yours,
JOS. H. HACKING.
No. 66 William St., Winnipeg,
July 23, 1885.

Rockwood News.

From our own Correspondent.
A number of accidents have happened in this neighborhood lately, but happily none of them resulted seriously.

James Fitzsimmons was kicked on the head by a horse which had been frightened, and a cart full of hay and boys, who were shouting, frightened another horse belonging to Mr. J. McNab, tied at his entrance, causing this horse to run over Miss McCullum, bruising her, and breaking the rig. This should be a lesson to those who use the public highway to go quietly on their way. Mr. McNab speaks of making an example of the boys so that the lives of others may not be endangered by such conduct.

John McQueen, in crossing the overhead bridge east of the station, waited for a freight train to pass, and then moved on when on the bridge the moon express passed under, frightening his horse—a young, spirited animal. Having only the use of one hand, he was unable to have full control of the horse, and getting one foot entangled in the reins he was dragged over the rough and stony ground with great speed, when the line broke and wound on the hub of the wheel, throwing the horse and 'bringing' him to a sudden stop. Mr. McQueen was bruised and cut, but not seriously hurt. He had a very narrow escape with his life.

A son of Mr. J. Black had a team frightened while moving, throwing him off and breaking the machine. Already we have heard of some fatal accidents to those driving moving machines.

Mr. Blythe returned from the North-West with his comrades in arms, the Grenadiers, and received a demonstrative reception from the people of this village. On stepping from the cars he was borne upon the shoulders of the young men and was cheered by a large gathering at the station, who came out to welcome him home. This bespeaks loyalty in the hearts of those who remained at home to honor those who have gone.

CATARH—A NEW TREATMENT.
Perhaps the most extraordinary success that has been achieved in modern medicine has been attained by the Dixon treatment for Catarrh. Out of 2,000 patients treated during the past six months, fully ninety per cent. have been cured of this stubborn malady. This is no mere less startling when it is remembered that not five per cent. of patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioners are benefited, while the patent medicines and other advertised cures never record a cure at all. Starting with the claim now generally believed by the medical scientific men that the disease is due to the presence of living parasites in the tissue. Mr. Dixon at once adapted his cure to their extermination—this accomplished, he claims the Catarrh is practically cured, and the permanency is unquestioned, as cures effected by him four years ago are still well.

No one else has ever attempted to cure Catarrh in this manner, and no other treatment has ever cured Catarrh. The application of the remedy is simple, and can be done at home, and the present season of the year is the most favorable for a speedy and permanent cure, the majority of cases being cured at one treatment. Sufferers should correspond with Messrs. A. H. DIXON & SON, 365 King Street West, Toronto, Canada, and enclose stamp for their treatise on Catarrh.—Montreal Star, Nov. 17, '82

CHARACTER, CAPACITY, CAPITAL.

A high financial authority, of this country recently pronounced these three—Character, Capacity, Capital as the chief elements of success in the career of men, and while all were considered requisite, he put the relative value of each in the order in which it is placed. Applying this principle to the business of Dry Goods it means character first. Character that makes a man's name the synonym for probity, honor and commercial safety. Character that will cause a man to adhere to truth even at an apparent sacrifice. Character that will scorn hypocritical pretensions and deceitful notions. Character that ensures a good repute, for a man is generally estimated at his true worth.

Character that will make a man inflexible in principle, yet kindly considerate and sympathetic towards all.

Character whose past record makes a man's statements worthy of credit.

Character that will demand and receive the confidence of those with whom he comes in contact.

Capacity second. Capacity to direct, control, to master details as well as acquire a broad view of general principles.

Capacity to keep expenditure within the healthy scope of income. Capacity to understand the wants and desires of the times. Capacity to say a decided "yes" or "no" as occasion requires. Capacity to comprehend and act on the fact that this world was created to be occupied by a few others besides the man himself.

Capacity third. Capital to meet engagements promptly and punctually, to take advantage of every benefit accruing therefrom and of every phase of the market. Capital that will open every door and avenue to the man of business, and cause him to stand firm during times of depression and difficulty. These three are all great, but the greatest of them all is Character.

Please note. We are in constant receipt of Novelties, and have just opened out some especially Cheap Lines in every Department. Staple and Fancy Dry Goods, Millinery, Dress-making and Clothing.

An inquest was held over a large potato bug found dead, and the following verdict returned:—
That the said bug had come to its death by swallowing the one-thirty-second part of a grain of pure Paris Green, obtained at Mc-Garvin's Drug Store. This shows the minimum dose required to cause death when this drug is obtained in its purity.
