THE WEEK'S TAKINGS.
Which are Principally Local and All Interesting.

The Medal a Little too Previous.
The Acton Free Press with commendable enterprise is sending samples of job work to the International Exhibition, London, Eng. We'll bet the Free Press work will be awarded a medal, honorable mention or something.—Mt. Forest, Representative.
Health Matters.
Every household in the municipality should read and act upon the request of the Board of Health respecting the removal of refuse and cleansing of back yards and cellars. The duties of a health inspector are not very inviting, and it is due to him from the public to lend all the assistance in their power.

Teachers Examinations.
The Second Class Examinations will be held June 28 to July 3; Third Class, July 12 to 16; First Class (C) July 20 to 23, and Junior Matriculation, July 28 to July 30. Candidates must notify their County Inspector, not later than May 25th, of their intention to present themselves for examination. Plenty of Accommodation.
Referring to the matter of hotel accommodation since the Scott Act, came into force in Guelph the Mercury says:—"The statement is made in the Toronto World that farmers coming into Guelph are unable to get stabling for their teams. After that people here can have no difficulty in understanding that Anti-Scott Act organs try to help their cause by lying. There was a large attendance of country people in the city on Saturday, yet there was plenty of stabling for double as many teams.

The Other Side of the "Story."
This is the title of a tastefully printed and well got up pamphlet containing a series of reviews criticizing Mr. J. C. Dent's "Story of Upper Canadian Rebellion." It also contains the letters which appeared in the Toronto press in the Mackenzie-Rolph controversy. These are connected together with a short account of the controversy, and are followed by a lengthy critique on "The New Story" by Mr. John King, M.A., Barrister, Berlin, who also contributes an Introductory. Mr. King's critique is a slashing and raw review by a Liberal of Mr. Dent's narrative, and without being so avowedly, is a strong vindication of the character and career of William Lyon Mackenzie. Those who have read the "Story" should certainly read this reply, and those who have not read it may, with great advantage, read what the critics say about it. The price of the pamphlet is 25 cents. It may be had at the bookstores.—Hamilton Times.
Death of a Pioneer.
Elder James Black passed away peacefully on the evening of the 21st of April, 1886, at the home of his son, Mr. Hugh Black, in the township of Eramosa, in his 89th year, after an illness of about two weeks. Deceased was born in Argyleshire, Scotland, in August 1797. At the age of 15 years he commenced teaching school. Emigrated to Canada in 1820 and settled in the township of Aldborough. In 1825 he removed to the township of Nassawaveya, taught school in Milton, then known as Martin's Mills, and at Beamsville, moved to the township of Eramosa in 1830, and settled on the farm where he lived continuously till his death. From early youth he was a close and critical Bible student; and in religious matters accepted no authority or creed but the Bible. In 1817 he was baptised by Elder Sinclair, a Scotch Baptist, but soon after connected himself with the Disciples in whose fellowship he continued to the close of his long life.

A Pastor's Labors Appreciated.
At the meeting of the official board of the Methodist Church, Acton Circuit, last Monday evening the following resolution was unanimously adopted:—
Moved by James Moore, seconded by W. P. Brown, that whereas through the ministrations of Rev. J. Phillips, the esteemed pastor of this circuit, his christian administration and kindly advice from week to week during the ecclesiastical year just closing—we have been abundantly blessed in spiritual things, and have with grateful hearts witnessed the conversion of many of the members of our families and of the community, who have committed their hearts into the keeping of Him whom we are endeavoring to love and serve, and whereas under his careful superintendence of the affairs of the circuit, the utmost harmony has prevailed amongst us as a church and people, on this field of labor, be it therefore resolved that we hereby record our sincere and heartfelt appreciation of his untiring zeal and arduous efforts in our behalf, and of his services in every respect in which he is brought into contact with us, and that we cordially invite him to continue to occupy his position as pastor over us, assuring him that he will ever receive our earnest individual and collective support and co-operation.
Further, that whereas, it has pleased our Heavenly Father to remove by death, Freddie, the interesting little son of our pastor and his dear partner, we desire herein to express christian sympathy with them in their bereavement; we rejoice in their implicit trust in God, and willing acquiescence to his divine will and pray that He will give us all grace and strength under all circumstances to submit to His holy will.
Rev. Mr. Phillips' pastorate here has been very successful, and he enjoys the friendship sympathy and respect of the entire membership, in fact of the whole community.

Our grandfathers had a favorite expression: "Get the grub out of your back in the spring of the year and you will be all right for another twelvemonth." What they really meant was that if you give your blood a good cleansing out in the spring, by the use of a perfect blood purifier, like Warner's safe cure, you need not fear that the year will find you under ground.

A Debt that Can Never be Paid.
COLONASTER, MICH., Oct. 25, 1885.—Four months ago I was paralyzed and entirely blind, from kidney and liver diseases. I was unconscious for over two weeks. Physicians said I was incurable, and waited daily for my death. My friends gave me Warner's safe cure, and within a few weeks paralysis left me, bloating went down, enlargement of the liver subsided, and I became well, and owe my life to Warner's safe cure.—Mrs. RUTH BROWN.

"IN OMNIA PARATUS."
I am advised through the Photographic Press that owing to labor difficulties in the United States, glass is very rapidly increasing in price. This has caused a large increase in the price of the "best instantaneously DRY PLATES," now in general use by photographers, and the photographers will, in order to protect themselves against loss, shortly be obliged to increase the price of their good stock of Dry Plates on hand, and will cease to take orders for the 1st May. All existing orders should sit for them, prior to that date, for immediately thereafter, prices will be raised.
