Hamilton, September 30th, 1886.

Miss Henderson, so well known to the ladies of Hamilton, and the country for twenty miles around, as a first-class Mantle Cutter and Fitter, fits ladics so exectly that they are delighted with her artistic work. Miss Amiss is a very superior Cutter and Fitter of Ladies' Dresses. Her make of Dresses fit so perfectly, and envelop ladies' figures so gracefully, that they make ladies look really charming. Please try her, she is sure to fit well. Miss Armitage, the forewoman in the Millinery, gets up the most delightful Hats and Bonnets of all useful and fashionable kinds and materials, at short notice, and has the styles of Hats and Bonnets made so as to suit any lady's complexion, contour of countenance, size or style of appearance. Mr. McRae, in the Shirt Department, will fit any gentleman or young lad in Shirts so as to give them the most complete satisfaction as to fit, fashion and wear. Ladies, misses, gentlemen and young lads will get first-class value, and the most fashionable styles, with every garment warranted to fit, at the Right House. The goods are new and beautiful. There is fully $200,000 worth of an immense variety of almost everything required in Dry Goods, Millinery, Mantles, Dolmans, Ulsters, Jackets, Paletots, Underwear of all kinds for ladies, misses, gents and boys; Neckwear, Hosiery, Gloves, House Furnishing Goods in great variety, Laces, Madras, Silk, Broche, and many other kinds of Curtains; Carpets and Carpet Materials, Oil cloths, Mats, Rugs, Carpet Sweepers, etc., in abundance. His goods never were so very cheap as they are this season. Although wool has advanced about one third higher than it was last May, yet Watkins was over in Europe very early, and got an enormous supply of New Dress Goods and his general stock cheaper than ever before, and is selling piles of All-wool Dress Goods at from 18c, to the best qualities. Over 120 pieces of beautiful All-wool Stockinet Dress Goods, which are worth 45c., are selling off at 25c. He pays the cash down for his goods, and gets them very cheap. There will not be any Opening Day at the Right House, as it takes all his staff of 52 clerks to wait on his numerous customers, and there is no time to prepare for an Opening Day, but all the Departments are filled with new and fashionable goods, and all hands are busy making up new Mantles, Millinery, Dresses, Shirts, etc. Mind the Right House is on King at the cash down from Handson street, and the name is street, one door from Hughson street, and the name is
