The advantage of lower rates for railroad fares, is shown by the experience of the elevated railroads in New York. Before the reduction of fares to 5 cents the daily receipts were about $15,000, but since the reduction they have gone up to $25,000 and even higher. HOTEL BUSINESS IN HALTON.

In a recent issue the FREE PRESS referred the exaction of a new building in Georgetown by Mr. George Gibbs, as a new hotel having been informed by citizens of that village that the new building was intended for the hotel business. We notice by a letter in the Herald that Mr. Gibbs is last disgusted with the hotel business in prohibition territory, in proof of which we take pleasure in reproducing his letter to the Herald, as follows :-

Mr. Editor : Dran Str .- In the last issue of the Actor Free Press the editor makes a statemen that I am about to build a hotel in Georgetown. Now sir, every one in this town knows that I sold out my hotel here, and my object in doing so was to get out of the business. If I owned the diamoud mine of Golconds and the millions af Vanderbilt I would never dream of building a hotel in Scott Act territory. I am trying to build dwelling house here-nothing more ess. Please correct the mis-statement above mentioned and oblige

 Yours Respectfully, P.S. I don't wish the Temperance people to have any worse opinion of me than they now have.

Georgetown, March 28th, 1887 Our readers will naturally conclude that friend Gibbs is of the opinion that the Scott Act is a success, as far as making liquor selling a disagreeable, disreputable and ing exhibits of articles connected with the unprofitable business, at least. We congratulate him upon his conclusion and cheerfully chronicle the fact to the world at large.

THE BUBBLE HAS BURST.

On the first of April, 1886, the corporation of the municipality of Acton was served with a writ to restrain them from utilizing Fairview Cometery for the purpose for which it was purchased and surveyed. Dire rumors as to what the result would be have ever since been rife, but all the courts have been carefully avoided by

On the first of April, 1887, the corporation of the municipality received through their solicitor a communication from the lawyers employed by the plaintiff, making Premier Mowat has promised the Legisovertures to the corporation to have the case withdrawn. At a meeting of Council that evening it was decided that owing to the utter impossibility, for obvious reasons, of collecting costs from the plaintiff, it would be wise to agree to the with drawal of the case.

We will refer more fully to this matter in our hext issue.

And so the big bubble has " busted."

Erin Free Pressings From our own Correspondent. The March number of the "Farmers Advocate" contains a letter from a Hillsbury correspondent with reference to some matters connected with agricultural shows, which is worthy of consideration. While the attendance at the last Erin show was over 10,000 persons, he almost wonders if the show does not do more harm than good Despite the fact of numerous entries, superior quality of some articles shown, very large prize list, commodious buildings etc., yet, he believes the people do not take the interest, in the show they did when ontside attractions were not so numerous The admitting of itinerent shows has become a nuisance, and the place has become bedlam, swarming with pick pockets; gamblers and all that is avil and demora izing to young and old, even implement and vehicles being crowded out to make room for Punch and Judy shows, etc., be cause forsooth they paid a license. It is to be hoped that the coming Union Show at Acton will so recognize the importance while striving to advance its success every proper way, of refusing to allow standing room to those nuisances, which not only hinder visitors from duly inspectscience of agriculture, but which are so positively injurious to the morals of those who witness them. And also, sir, allow us to say that even the modern idea of horse racing at agricultural shows should not be tolerated at places which are supposed to be attended by handreds of members churches which do not allow their members to attend such races. But enough for the

ARGUS THE SECOND.

The Burglary, and Howit Affected Citizens

THE CONCERT THE BAND. The festive burglar is around, or rather the kind of tramp who does a little burglary at odd times to relieve the monoton of his existence as it were. One of ou well known citizens had a visit from one of the fraternity late on Sunday night, or rather early Monday morning. The fellow didn't get much however, just a little odd change and a watch. The affair has created a mild sort of nine days' wonder and great warlike and bloodthirsty talk has been indulged in by those who never were in a similar position, as to what they would have done had they been the sufferers. -There is now a great demand for re volvers, clubs and other weapons, and sundry citizens are practiding shooting in their back yards, and the next burglar will probably get a warm reception. Nightmares, in which dirty masked tramps and burglars largely figure are prevalent amongst the timid, and do not require the aid hot suppers, or cheese and mince pie, to make them sufficiently vivid.

How doth the busy burglar, delight to prowl at night and hunt for watches and for cash, when the inmates don't show fight," -The Lorne Literary and Debating Society have reason to congratulate themselves on the large attendance and the long programme on Friday evening last. All the country side and his wife seemed to be present and certainly evinced a most remarkable patience and endurance under the circumstances, although they thoroughly enjoyed the performance, as shown by the many encores, which the chairman reluctantly had to curtail in consideration of the length of the programme.

-It the absence of the advertised chairman the editor of this journal officiated and fulfilled the numerous duties in a highly satisfactory manner. The programme was mainly Scotch, and it was really amusing to see the hearty way in which sundry spectators roared at the jokes and so forth (in Scotch) which I'll wager a new hat that they didn't understand in the least. The tragic play strung up the nerves of the large audience to the highest pitch of excitement which culuminated in the discharge of the pistol with the tragic expression "Die! thou vil-

-The Band has resumed its Town Hall practices. It appears that it will in all probability be on a firmer footing than last year, and it is to be hoped that the public in general will accord it a better sympathy and support than heretofore. The services of the members are given voluntarily, and at no little expense and loss of time to themselves, and they should be encouraged as much as possible. It would be a good idea to give a series of concerts during the coming season and enlist the support of citizens generally for the purpose of acquiring new music, uniforms and so forth

Some lack in details in discipline detracted from the general efficiency, but he hoped to see these eventually remedied. The responsibility of the Inspector was always lessened where an efficient Principal was in charge, and he was much pleased with Acton's Principal. He felt gratified with the progress of the school since the county came under his supervision, and was sure all concerned would be equally well satisfied. Commended highly the action of the chairman and members of the present Board upon their frequent visits to the schools, A number of small improvements were suggested particularly in connection with the primary school room.
