At the annual meeting of the Hamilton Methodist District last week a resolution was adopted protesting against the repeal or mutilatian of the Scott Act, and praying the Dominion Parliament to pass the amendments desired by the Dominion Alliance as provided in Mr. Jamieson's bill.

During the coming summer the Canadian Pacific Railway Company will expend from a million and a half to two million dollars on the Rocky Mountain section of the road in constructing additional snowsheds and other improvements to prevent interruption to the traffic in the winter

The Colonial and Indian Exhibition, so the latest official statistics allow, was attended by no fewer than 5,550,745 persons. The number is greater than was the whole population of England and Wales in Oliver Cromwell's time, and greater by half a million than the entire population of the Dominion to-day.

In the Court of Appeal at Montreal the other day, a novel and important point in criminal law was raised, it being claimed that a sentence was null and void, because, before passing it, the prisoner was not asked the usual question whether he had any. thing to say why it should not be pronounced. (Judgment was reserved.

The first steamer of the Canadian Pacific line between the far east and British Columbia left Hong Kong last week. The passenger accommodation was all taken up. According to a return brought down in the Commons at Ottawa, there were 9,153,155 lbs. of tea shipped direct from China and Japan to British Columbia, and thence east via. the C. P. R., between the 1st July, shipments was $3,347,562.

good neighbors, the Canadians, are suffer ing under the restrictions of the Scott Act and while the abolition of the law, because of all the signs of success which have accompanied its work, is asking more than can possibly be secured, the liquor men now ask for a half-way letting down in its restrictions. If the Canadian parliament takes the course of good sense which all the work of the Scott Act demands the law will be strengthened instead of weakened and raised up to a better standard rather than let half-way down to the liquor interest's wishes .- St. Clair Republican.

Mr. William O'Brien has publicly boasted as far as the Province of Quebec was concerned, he and his co-laborer, Mr. Kilbride, has carried publicopinion with them. Acton was honored by the election at the district meeting of two representatives, Asa Hall, Esq. and I. P. Moore, editor of the FREE PRESS.

A very important question is now before the members of the Conference, and one that can only be answered by the ballot, and that is " Who is going to be President of Conference?" The Rev. Dr. Griffin, of Guelph, filled the chair at Goderich last year with dignity and ability, and presided over the interests of the Conference during the year with deep interest and discrimination. He is one of the most popular men in the ministry of the Guelph Conference and has occupied some of the most important stations in the work. For a number of years he was chairman of a district and in that capacity discharged the functions of his office with marked ability and won the esteem of all, lay and clerical.

When stationed in the town of St. Marys was afflicted with a serious throat trouble in consequence of which he was obliged to desist from preaching, very much to the regret of the people of St. Marys, who extended their sympathy for him by practical acts of kindness.
