

TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE 1, 1887.

A MORNING THOUGHT.

Arise! Come hither and see
The fresh green grass,
The budding trees,
The flowing bush,
And hear the thrush's song.
He sings as if to greet the morn.
Come out and let your soul have communion with nature.
For she speaks a language to the soul's mind.
Which fills his whole being with rapture.
And, sitting down, he soliloquizes on the beauty of nature.
Is it not in love passeth knowledge?
That the Maker should give to the children of men.
Such sublime liveliness on which to feast
that ungrateful eyes?
Oh, let us at least be willing to read the large book which nature unfolds before us,
And we may in a great measure perceive
The goodness of a loving God.

Bangor off today.

If we were allowed to look into the future and see the fatal consequences that follow a neglected cold, how differently would our course be; could we realize our danger, how speedily we would seek a cure; but with many it is only when the monster disease has fastened its fangs upon our lungs that we awaken to our folly. What follows a neglected cold? Is it not disease of the throat and lungs, bronchitis, asthma, consumption, and many other diseases of like nature. It is worse than madness to neglect a cold, and it is folly not to have some good remedy available for this frequent complaint. One of the most efficacious medicines for all diseases of the throat and lungs is Bickie's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. This medicine is composed of several medicinal herbs, which exert a most wonderful influence in curing consumption and other diseases of the lungs and chest. It promotes a free and easy expectoration, soothes irritation and drives the disease from the system.

Cholera and all summer complaints are so quick in their action that the cold hand of death is upon the victim before they are aware that danger is near. If attacked do not delay in getting the proper medicine. Try a dose of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, and you will get immediate relief. It acts with wonderful rapidity and never fails to effect a cure.

Some persons have periodical attacks of Canadian cholera, dysentery or diarrhea, and have to use great precautions to avoid the disease. Change in water, cooking, and green fruit, is sure to bring on the attack. To such persons we recommend Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial as being the best medicine in the market for all summer complaints. If a few drops are taken in water when the symptoms are noticed no further trouble will be experienced.

Canadian Climate. The Canadian climate is particularly productive of Cold in the Head and Catarrh. In fact Catarrh to-day is more prevalent than any other disease. The discovery of Nasal Balm within the reach of all certain means of cure.

Try it. "What shall I do for this distressing Cough?" Try Hayyard's Pectoral Balsam; it is soothing and healing to the throat and lungs, and loosens the tough mucus that renders breathing difficult or painful.

Worth Remembering. Mrs. T. Dean, of Harriettville, Ont., was for a long time troubled with neuralgia of the stomach. Failing to find benefit from physicians, she tried Burdock Blood Bitters, from which she found speedy relief, to which she testifies, hoping it may prove beneficial to others. Many physicians recommend B. B. B.

No Distinction.

The Rev. F. A. C. Lillington tells a story of a catechetical address in which it was sought to lead a congregation of children to see that the wearing of a uniform was a mark of distinction, making the individual easily recognized and involving responsibilities. "You see a man walking very erect, dressed in a red coat—who is he?" "A soldier, sir." "Right. You see a man wearing a kind of helmet, and dressed in blue—who is he?" "A policeman, sir." "Right again." Then the preacher braced himself up to sketch a picture. "You see a man dressed in a black coat; wearing a stiff white collar—who is he?" "A master, sir." was the triumphant rejoinder.

Domestic Economy.

As a matter of economy it will pay every household to keep a bottle of Yellow Oil on hand for accidents and emergencies, in case of pain, a handy salve, and for wounds, burns, bruises and injuries. Rheumatism, neuralgia, quinsy and many painful diseases treated internally and externally by it often save large medical bills.

Better Than Gold.

"I will give that to the missionaries," said little Billy; and he put his fat little hand on a tiny gold dollar, as he counted the contents of his money-box.

"Why?" Susie asked.

"Cause it's gold. Don't you know the wise men brought Jesus gold? And missionaries work for Jesus."

Susie said, "The gold all belongs to Him anyhow. Don't you think it would be better to go right to Him, and give Him what He asks for?"

"What's that?"

Susie repeated, "My son, give Me thine heart."

H. H. Stood The Test.

"I tried every known remedy I could think of for rheumatism, without giving me any relief, until I tried Burdock Blood Bitters, which remedy I can highly recommend to all afflicted as I was." Henry Smith, Milverton, Ont.

O brother, we can never make a church of Christ what it ought to be until every man of us does his best; and heaven is just the other side of where man does his best, and isn't on this side of there either. Sanctification is doing the best it can under the circumstances every minute you live.

Just you run your trains on straight lines, but keep on your track. I found out clearly that truth will not only take care of itself but it will take care of the man who preaches it.—Sam Jones, in Boston.

The Boston Globe says:—"The Rev. Sam Jones has made the best impression on Boston of any revivalist who has visited the city in years. He is a man of brains and originality, and Boston likes men of that stamp."

A nasal injector free with every bottle of Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. Price 50 cents. Sold by N. McGarvin.
