Though The News does not agree with the Prohibitionists in thinking the country ripe for prohibition, or believing in the beneficial operation of the Scott Act, we must admire the ground taken by some of their leaders as regards partyism. "It's a bad day for the country." he said " when men will pot chains round their necks and willingly follow the chariot of political bondage." Unfortunately, too many of those who cheer such utterances show themselves on election day the veriest slaves of faction. ORDINATION SERVICES The Prospytery Performs the last Duties Pertaining to the Settlement of Roy. J. W. Rac, over Knox Church.

TERESTING AND IMPRESSIVE SERVICES. Tuesday, the 23rd of August, 1887, long be remembered as one of the most teresting and important days in the history of Knox Church, Acton. It was the oc casion of the ordination and induction Rev. James W. Rac, into the pastorate the church, and was attended with th usual soloupn and impressive ceremonics prescribed by the Presbyterian Church for such occasions. The induction of a minister over a Pres byterian congregation is an event which the natural order of things occurs but one or twice in a generation, hence unusual in terest was centered in the one referred and as that interest was not confined the membership of the church directly concerned, the attendance was very large and the attentive elders had their hands and heads fully occupied in arranging comfortable seating accommodations for the vast congregation which assembled.

At two o'clock, the members of Guelph Presbytery, who were present Rev. Dr. Torrance, moderator; and Revs J. A. R. Dickson, Galt; Dr. Wardrope, Guelph; J. B. Mullan, Fergus; Dr. Smel lie, Fergus; D. Strachan, Rockwood; Arch. Blair, Nassagaweya; and elders, Chas. Davidson, Guelph and Peter Mann, Acton accompanied by Rev. Dr. Mitchell, Jersey City, N.J., Dr. Laidlaw, Hamilton and R. The former, treating of the King of Kings, the laws ruling the kingdom, the subjects, who are the sinners created anew through Jesus Christ; and the glorious consummation of the kingdom in the new Jerusalem. Under the second division were righteousness, peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost. The sermon was much appreciated and was a very fitting discourse. After singing the 61st Paraphrase, Rev Dr. Torrance reviewed the circumstances attending the vacancy of Knox Church pul acceptance of the same, and stated that all requirements having been complied with the Presbytery had granted permission to

The usual doctrinal and other questions were then preferred and satisfactorily answered by Mr. Rae, after which he was ordained by the laying on of hands by the ninisters and elders of the Presbytery and visiting clergymen. Rev. Dr. Torrauce offered the ordination prayer, at the clusion of which Rey. Mr. Rae was declared nducted into the charge of Knox Church with all the rights and privileges thereto

ADDEESS TO THE MINISTEE. Dr. Wardrope addressed the minister

THE RIGHT HAND OF PELLOWSHIP.

The right hand of fellowship was then extended to Rev. Mr. Rae by the members of the Presbytery. He afterwards held a reception and was introduced to ear member and adherent and other friends present, by Mr. D. Henderson.

Adjournment was then made for ten an everybody was invited to sit down and par take of the bounties. Long tables with their snow-white coverings were placed the green beside the church. They were oaded with good things of every description n the line of provisions. Substantials and dainties were provided in great abundance and as each table was relieved of itsburden new and if possible more tempting supply was immediately forthcoming, and everyone was heartily welcomed to partake without money and without price." The ladies of Knox Church are not often called upon to provide anything of the kind, but when they are, their guests have found that they excel in culinary skill, in their liberality and in their uniform hospitality. The tes was much enjoyed.

In the interval between the tea and evening meeting Rev. Dr. Torrance, wh Knox Church during the vacancy of the pulpit, was presented by Mr. D.
