

R. B. JERMYN'S, ACTON, Noted Dry Goods and Millinery House.

NEW GOODS, FASHIONABLE GOODS, CHEAP GOODS. Bought early in the season and as low as money and a long experience in buying can do. We have decided that 'tis better to do a large business and have small profits than a large profit and do a small business, so consequently have marked everything low to correspond with the hard times.

Wincos and Wools very cheap. Big Drives in Cottons, Shirtings, Tickings, Sheetings, Ducks, Denims, Tabling, Canton Flannel, All-wool and Union Flannel, Carpets, Curtains, Augs, Counterpanes, Yarns, Shawls, Corsets, Bustles, Cloves, Hosiery, Collars, Cuffs, Flannel, Embroidery, and dozens of other lines which cannot be here mentioned.

MILLINERY.—It is a well known fact that in this department we lead every house in the County of Halton, (no exception). We find that people require change and new ideas, and we have been fortunate in securing the services of Miss Glover, a lady well known hold without great experience and ability. She is now in charge and will be pleased to meet the Ladies of Acton and surrounding country. Don't forget that the leading features in this department are style and reasonable prices. Mantles from 90 cents up. We show big ranges of Mantle Cloths and Ulstering of beautiful designs.

Men and Boys Overcoats, Children's Toboggan Coats, Women's, Misses' Child's, Men's and Youth's Boots, Shoes and Rubbers. Groceries fresh and cheap. Pure Uncolored Japan Tea a Specialty. BUTTER AND EGGS WANTED.

FALL MILLINERY OPENING

We wish to intimate to the ladies of Acton and vicinity that our Fall Display of Millinery will be open for their inspection on and after

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 24TH, 1887.

Miss Smith, whose abilities are so well known and so highly appreciated will be in charge this season.

As this season's stock has been bought with more than ordinary care nothing but the latest styles will be seen.

Henderson, McRae & Co. ACTON.

An Important Question Easily Decided by

READING THE FOLLOWING: The question of what to buy, how to buy to best advantage and when to buy your supply of Fall Home Furnishings, Wearing Apparel, Millinery and Mantles demanded by the changes of the season is an interesting and important one. An immense supply of New Goods have been opened up at the Right Home Clothing Store, 26 Lower Wyndham St., Guelph, Ontario. This store is now open and is in the hands of Thomas C. Watkins, who has been in the business for many years. He has a large stock of Fall Home Furnishings, Wearing Apparel, Millinery and Mantles, and is prepared to sell them at the lowest prices. He has also a large stock of Fall Home Furnishings, Wearing Apparel, Millinery and Mantles, and is prepared to sell them at the lowest prices. He has also a large stock of Fall Home Furnishings, Wearing Apparel, Millinery and Mantles, and is prepared to sell them at the lowest prices.

BEAUTIFUL WEDDING AND BIRTH DAY PRESENTS AT GEO. HYND'S.

METHODIST CHURCH, ACTON.

REV. R. PHILLIPS, PASTOR. Residence, Bower Avenue. Public Services 10:30 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. Sunday school 10:30 a.m. with class conducted by the pastor. All cordially invited.

The Acton Free Press.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1887. MARY MINOR LOCALS. Collected by the Ever-Thoughtful and Alert Free Press Reporters.

—The new advertisement of Messrs. McLeod Anderson & Co., Georgetown, announcing the arrival of an immense quantity of new and fashionable fall and winter goods, arrived top late for insertion this week. It contains many interesting points, look for it next week.

—With his usual thoroughness, Mr. Fred Secord, whose home is in Acton, but whose business relations are principally in the United States, has invested $4,900 in real estate in Toronto. The city, one of the thriving centres of population in the west. We wish him every success and profit with his investment.

—The attention of our readers is directed to the new advertisement of Messrs. Holmbeck & Son, Milton. They are entering business men and if their kind invitation to our readers is accepted and acted upon they will find a store well-filled with choice goods and be attended by courteous salesmen.

—Messrs. Henderson, McRae & Co., of the Glasgow House, announce their fall millinery opening for Saturday next, 24th inst. Nothing but the latest styles will be shown. Miss Smith, whose excellent taste is appreciated by all customers, will superintend orders as usual.

—Mrs. Calvert, beloved wife of Rev. G. W. Calvert, died at Norwich yesterday. Mr. Calvert commenced his pastorate at Norwich only two months ago and so our deeply regret the sorrow that has so suddenly fallen upon his home, in the loss of his dear wife, who promised such usefulness in the church and yet at such an early age was taken away.—Toronto Herald.

—"Save my mistake," said a natty-looking young man with a blonde, silken, wavy appendage on his upper lip, as he climbed into a chair of one of our well-known tonorial artists the other day.

—"Correct, sir," replied the barber, who mistook the head of the young man's cation, and before he could say "razor" half of the beautiful mustache, a growth of six years, was lopped off. The barber understood his customer to say, "Shave my mustache."

—Coming again "and don't you forget it," the fine order carriage of that old reliable firm of R. Parker & Co., dyers and cleaners of Toronto. Repairs of others running on our advertising, before you give your goods out see that the above name is on the carriage and on your receipt. Owing to the increase in work they have been compelled to enlarge their premises again, this speaks volumes. Ladies look up all your dresses, cloaks, feather sets, get them beautifully finished like new. Gents wear finished up in the latest colors. They will be here on Tuesday next.—Geo. Hynd, agent.

HOME GLEANINGS

Which are Mostly of a Local Character and of an Interesting.

A Word to Exhibitors. Intending exhibitors at the Acton fall show should send their entries as early as possible to Mr. L. Grant, the Secretary, Georgetown, and prevent a rush at the last moment. The indications are that the fair will be one of the best yet held, and the directors and exhibitors are doing all in their power to this end.

The correct way of brightening up. One of the greatest mistakes a merchant can make is to postpone his advertising until, as we commonly hear it said, "things brighten up." Judicious advertising acts as a reinforcer to a sluggish business, and should be kept up more liberally in dull times than when periods are crowding your store. A business to be a success must be kept before the people. The wisdom and value of this is attested by all successful merchants.

An Appreciated Fraternal Sermon. On Sunday afternoon the Rev. Mr. Broley, of the Methodist Church, preached a most interesting sermon to the brethren in that village. A procession was formed at the Lodge and the brethren numbering about one hundred, marched in regalia to the church where the Rev. Mr. Broley, gave an able and eloquent discourse. In fact the brethren from Guelph say that they never listened to a better one on the same subject. The church was crowded to the doors.—Mercury.

What a joy it is to know a Good Job. We have received the price list of the Esquating Agricultural Society's show to be held in Acton on the 4th and 5th Oct. It is safe to say that the farmers thereabouts will open their eyes when they get a copy, for it is one of the neatest and best designed work we have seen for a long time. It is like all work emanating from that office, credit to the Fair Press.—Dundas Standard.

The Secretary of the society writes:—"Thanks for the good job you did for us with the price list."

The Early Fall of 1887. The early fall of 1887 has been suggested to the minds of many a prospective winter. It has been a very early fall. The leaves are falling several weeks ahead of their usual time because of the extreme drought which prevailed during the summer months, and the marked reaction from the recently prevalent hot weather is likely to be but temporary. But even now a reaction has taken place in the North-west, and the late crops have not suffered by naturally September frosts. It is unlikely that the cold spell will last for any length of time in this part of the country, and we may expect to have good, genial fall weather during the fair season, and for some time afterwards.

Attracted by a Cow. A young woman named Nancy Miller, who lives with her father in Nantawaga, had a terrible experience with an enraged cow the other day, narrowly escaping with her life, and with every strand of clothing torn from her body. It occurred in this way:—Miss Miller went out for the cows to bring them home to milk, and found them in a thicket and sent a dog in to bring them out. The dog dragged one of them to such an extent that she became frantic and called her of the bush just where Miss Miller was standing, and instead of pursuing the dog rushed on her, looking and behaving her in a terrible manner. Had it not been for the young woman's presence of mind in holding on to a stick which she had just picked up, the animal's stock would undoubtedly have been killed.—Mercury.

A Well Deserved Reward.

After the City Band finished playing Friday evening Mr. James Hough, Jr., of the Art Printing House, Guelph, was made the recipient of a handsome gold watch chain and locket by the members of the Band as an appreciation of services rendered as Secretary of the Executive Committee during the late Band Tournament and Firemen's Demonstration. Mr. O. Hough, taken by surprise, thanked the members in a most little speech. On one side of the locket is engraved "Presented by the Guelph City Band in remembrance of the Tournament of 1887," and on the other side a raised monogram of "J. H." The goods were purchased from W. S. South, Goldsmith Hall, and are of unique pattern.

Death of an Old Settler.

Last Monday evening Mr. Wm. Steel, one of the oldest residents of Acton, breathed his last, after an illness of several weeks. He had attained the extreme old age of eighty-four years, and until within a few weeks he was able to walk about. Mr. Steel with his partner in life came from Yorkshire, Eng., in 1833, and settled in Toronto. In 1853 they came to Acton and for several years Mr. Steel followed his business of house carpenter, after which he engaged in farming. Part of his property was that now consisting of Fairview Cemetery. Mr. Steel was a quiet and unassuming man, and took comparatively little interest in public affairs. In religion he was known as a Second Adventist, and was very zealous in the faith he espoused. Mrs. Steel departed this life some twenty years ago. They are survived by Jennie, a devoted adopted daughter, to whose untiring exertions the many comforts enjoyed by the old gentleman in his declining years are due. The funeral yesterday afternoon was largely attended.

A Respected Resident's Demise.

For some months Mr. John Nelson, Sr., has been confined to his residence with an asthmatic trouble, and has rarely been able to leave his room. Gradually but certainly he has failed, and for some weeks his end was hourly expected. On Monday evening his spirit departed from the body and he died at 10 o'clock. Mr. Nelson was a true-hearted Englishman and loyal to all of Great Britain's claims. He was born in Lancashire in 1832, and when twenty-five years of age he came to Canada and made Rockwood his home. For a quarter of a century he did a profitable business there in merchant tailoring, and a little over two years ago he removed to Acton and continued his business here in addition to that of general merchant. Mr. Nelson was a warm friend, a kind neighbor, a devoted husband and indulgent father, and a successful business man. His circle of friends is very large, but of relatives he has none outside his own family. His third wife and an estimable family of two sons, Richard, Merchant Tailor, Guelph, formerly of Nelson, McRae & Co., Acton, and John, manager of the general business here, and five daughters, survive him. Mr. Nelson was a member of the Disciples Church, and died sound in the faith and with a bright hope of a blessed immortality. His remains will be interred in Fairview Cemetery this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

THE FALL EXHIBITION.

The following is a list of the exhibitions and the dates upon which they will be held, which most interest our readers:—

—The nut crop this season in Western Ontario promises to be the heaviest known for years. Walnuts and butternuts are of a prodigious size. Hickory nuts also promise to be plentiful, while the chestnut crop will be fully an average.

—Go to J. Fyle's, Acton, for your clothing. He can suit you for price, quality and style every time.

Particulars sent upon request are enclosed for reply.

Wedding Presents.

Mr. H. T. LePage, of Charlottetown, P.E.I., was a guest at the editor's residence this week.

Mrs. Peacock, of Arthur, paid a flying visit to friends at the Methodist Parsonage last Saturday.

Mr. W. W. Gordon and Roy, were guests of friends in Acton and vicinity during the week.

Miss Maggie McKersack, of Milton, spent a few days this week with her sister, Mrs. James Cobban.

D. Creighton, Esq., M.P.P., and Mr. R. Birmingham were in town on Monday in the interest of the proposed Conservative journal in Toronto.

Miss Jennie Farmer, of Florence, has been a guest at the residence of Mr. Thos. C. Moore during the week.

Rev. R. Phillips and Mr. James Moore were delegates to the Scott Act Convention at Milton, on Tuesday.

Mrs. Moses Bricker, of Listowel, returned home on Friday. She spent a month very pleasantly with friends here.

Mr. Robert Sibbald, of Brockway Centre Mich., left for home on Friday, having spent a week or so with friends in Acton and vicinity.

Mrs. Joseph Lotterer, of Montreal, visited at the editor's home last week. Mrs. Lotterer has innumerable friends and former companions in Acton.

Rev. G. R. Turk, of the Methodist Church, Guelph, and formerly of Lockport, has resigned his position and accepted a $2,500 call to the Atlanta Congregational Church.

The many friends of Rev. G. W. Calvert, in this vicinity were very greatly pained to learn of the death of Mrs. Calvert last week. The heartfelt sympathy of all is extended to the bereaved gentleman in his heavy bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Kennedy, of Parry Sound, have been guests of Acton friends during the past week. Their visits are always appreciated and his good will never fail to enjoy themselves when they come to Acton.

Miss Broley, eldest daughter of Rev. J. Broley, Methodist minister in Elora, has received a medal and diploma from the Colonial Exhibition, London, England, for specimens of drawing that she executed while attending Alton Ladies' College, St. Thomas. Miss Broley is at present the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. White.—Palmerston Telegraph.

With regard to woman's position in public affairs, the following extract from a recent sermon by an American preacher may be interesting:—"Why, my friends, the right of suffrage, as we men exercise it, seems to be a foolish thing. You, a Christian man, come up to the ballot box, and you drop your vote, right after you come a libertine or a sot, the offspring of the street, and he drops his vote, and his vote counteracts yours. But if in the quiet of home life a daughter by her Christian demeanor, a wife by her industry, a mother by her faithfulness, casts a vote in the right direction, then nothing can well resist it, and the influence of that vote will shake through the generation."

HARVEST MAGAZINE.

The October number will contain a suite of Abbey's exquisite illustrations to an old ballad by George Withers, called "A Love Song." The quality of the paper is not found in the ordinary collections. It begins:—"I love a lass, a fair one, As fair as o'er was none; She was, indeed, a rare one, Another's like was none; But, folk, as they say, I thought she'd be my one; But, now, alas! it's all in vain." Fullers, 4/6, 1/0.

To the thirteen stanzas there are nine charming illustrations, one of which will appear as the frontispiece. The comical trials of pleasure-bumping are capitally told by Kate Field, in an autobiographical story, called "Our Summer's Gating." The entertaining adventures of the vacation party in an obscure New York village form a diverting history for the after-summer period, and Frost's characteristic illustrations render this humorous scenes all the more vivid.

ONLY FOR NEWSPAPER MEN.

The first decision under the new Loyal Act of 1887 was given last week by Mr. Justice Armour in the case of Egan v. Miller. The action was brought by a clergyman against the defendant for damages for libel contained in a letter over the defendant's signature which was published in the Gravenhurst Banner. Under section 4 of the Act, a motion was made in Chambers before vacation on behalf of the defendant for security for costs from plaintiff, and the order was granted. Mr. Aylesworth last week appealed from that order on the ground that the Act was passed for the protection of the newspaper proprietor, and its benefits could not be claimed by the defendant, a private individual in the case.
