Acton's Prosperity. Acton seems to be a prosperous littl town, having spent $28,000 in buildings this year. The best thing we know of about Acton is its local paper, the FREE PRESSwhich may be described as a model. Dry Wells and Watering Places. Great complaint is being made through reies and lighting its office with electric - the country on account of wells going dry. It is said in some places farmers are experiencing great inconvenience in procuring water for the stock and unless we have a great deal more rain yet before the winter sets in the trouble has not yet begun. Watering places that were never known to be dry before have given out this fall and the rains so far seem to have done very little toward replenishing the supply.

That Wonderfully Populous City. The Guelph Saturday Morning Sun gets off the following :- The Port Hope Times printed in a little lake-shore village where a small steamboat stops once a month, talks about "country newspapers" groaning under the "fair prize list affliction." This has not been equalled since the Acros Free Press announced that it would sind itself, without extra charge, to subscribers " going into the country for the summer." The San forgets to add that the FREE PRESS' item referred to Acton subscribers who were rusticating in Guelph. A Run on the G.T.R. Waterworks here, The supply of water at Brampton, which is taken from Snell's Lake some three miles out of the town, has become so diminished that the Grand Trunk have been shut off from using it. This comes hard on west bound freight trains, as no water can now be got between Toronto and Acton. The up grade from Toronto requires so much expenditure of steam power that three or four trains last Monday, had to be left at Brampton while the engine came upto Acton for water and went back again-The cast bound trains are not affected as Advertise all the stray animals that it is down grade.
